Taking Responsibility for the Life of Complex Human Ecosystems Gary R. Gunderson, James R. Cochrane, 2025-08-05 The long awaited convergence of climate economic political intellectual faith and social failures gives many reasons for despair The authors of this volume have spent their lives around the trauma of race and poverty in South Africa and the United States working with Nobel prize winners and those in townships and tenements We have learned that hope is not delusional and accountability not naive But one must think clearly and deeply untethered from the inadequate simplicities and false choices We must be here now with eyes wide open for when systems break down as so many are today knowing that they also break open new space for creative action The authors lead the global web of thinker doers through the Leading Causes of Life Initiative and national networks in Africa Europe and the United States They find coherence among profound thinking from fields never brought into alignment before drawn from by economists mycelial researchers anthropologists and health sciences working in the Arctic to South Africa and the tough neighbourhoods in between This includes a consideration of the human capacities that allow us to act in and transform the world we inhabit of the radical nature of joy in the face of despair of the judgement of Nemesis on hubris and privilege of the value of everything contra price as definitive of the idea of involution as distinguished from evolution of the concept of meshworks in our entanglement with others and finally of the theatre of the soul as the unity of the physical the psychological the political and the spiritual Sharply sensitive to the urgency of careful thought and wise action the authors help us see that life does find a way towards deep accountability for the life of complex human ecosystems They ask us to take responsibility for this as a key to human flourishing and well being

Exploring Interstitiality with Mangroves Kate Judith, 2022-12-15 Mangroves thrive in intertidal zones where they gather organisms and objects from land river and ocean They develop into complex ecologies in these dynamic in between spaces Mobilising resources drawn from semiotic materialism and the environmental humanities this book seeks a form of social theory from the mangroves that is to think interstitiality from the perspective of mangroves themselves exploring the crafty and tenacious world making they are engaged in Three sections weave together theory science and close observation responding to calls within the environmental humanities for detailed attention to interactions in marginal spaces and those of interpretative tension It examines interstitiality by considering theories of difference relationality and reflexivity in the context of mangrove socioecological materialities drawing on influential writers such as Michel Serres Jacques Derrida Deborah Bird Rose Donna Haraway Brian Massumi and Maurice Merleau Ponty as theoretical touchstones Exploring Interstitiality with Mangroves is a lyrically crafted philosophical analysis that will appeal to scholars researchers and students interested in the developing frontiers of more than human post anthropocentric writing theory and methodologies It will be of interest to readers in ecocriticism environmental humanities cultural geography place studies and nature writing The Open Access version of the Introduction available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781003286493> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license The funder for this chapter is the Australian Academy of the Humanities via the Australian Academy of the Humanities Publication Subsidy Scheme
