Religion And Culture In Medieval Islam:

Religion and Culture in Medieval Islam Richard G. Hovannisian, Georges Sabagh, 1999 Seven distinguished scholars explore the religion and culture of medieval Islam

Medieval Islam Gustave E. von Grunebaum, 2010-01-15 From the Preface This book has grown out of a series of public lectures delivered in the spring of 1945 in the Division of the Humanities of the University of Chicago It proposes to outline the cultural orientation of the Muslim Middle Ages with eastern Islam as the center of attention It attempts to characterize the medieval Muslim's view of himself and his peculiarly defined universe the fundamental intellectual and emotional attitudes that governed his works and the mood in which he lived his life It strives to explain the structure of his universe in terms of inherited borrowed and original elements the institutional framework within which it functioned and its place in relation to the contemporary Christian world A consideration of the various fields of cultural activity requires an analysis of the dominant interest the intentions and to some extent the methods of reasoning with which the Muslim approached his special subjects and to which achievement and limitations of achievement are due Achievements referred to or personalities discussed will never be introduced for their own sake let alone for the sake of listing the sum total of this civilization's major contributions They are dealt with rather to evidence the peculiar ways in which the Muslim essayed to understand and to organize his world The plan of the book thus rules out the narration of political history beyond the barest skeleton but it requires the ascertaining of the exact position of Islam in the medieval world and its significance This plan also excludes a study of Muslim economy but it leads to an interpretation of the social structure as molded by the prime loyalties cherished by the Muslim

Islam and Other Religions Irfan Omar, 2013-09-13 This collection of essays assesses various dimensions of dialogue between Islam and other religions especially Christianity This book celebrates the work of Professor Mahmoud Ayoub and reflects the themes that are central in his scholarship spanned over the last three decades and which are more relevant than ever at the inauguration of the twenty first century The themes reflected are the Qur'an and hadith theology and philosophy and Islam's interaction with other religions Ayoub needs no introduction to those familiar with and engaged in inter religious dialogue in general and Muslim Christian Jewish dialogue in particular He is a well known Muslim scholar and historian of religion currently director of the Islamic studies program in the department of religion at Temple University in Philadelphia His broad area of interest is of course Islamic studies but he has also exerted considerable scholarly efforts in comparative religion As evidenced from Dr Ayoub's works he moves with ease between philosophy and mysticism scripture and tradition and between Islam and other religions As a Muslim Ayoub has provided a model of being religious which combines openness to others without compromising rigorous historical scholarship Contributors to this volume include some of his close friends and colleagues as well as former students both Muslim and Christian This book was previously published as a special issue of Islam and Christian Muslim Relations

Piety and Patienthood in Medieval Islam Ahmed Ragab, 2018-05-03 How did pious medieval Muslims experience health and disease Rooted in the prophet's experiences with medicine and healing Muslim pietistic literature developed cosmologies in which physical suffering and medical interventions interacted with religious obligations and spiritual health This book traces the development of prophetic medical literature and religious writings around health and disease to give a new perspective on how patienthood was conditioned by the intersection of medicine and Islam The author investigates the early and foundational writings on prophetic medicine and related pietistic writings on health and disease produced during the Islamic Classical Age Looking at attitudes from and towards clerics physicians and patients sickness and health are gradually revealed as a social gendered religious and cultural experience Patients are shown to experience certain sensoria that are conditioned not only by medical knowledge but also by religious and pietistic attitudes This is a fascinating insight into the development of Muslim pieties and the traditions of medical practice It will be of great interest to scholars interested in Islamic Studies history of religion history of medicine science and religion and the history of embodied religious practice particularly in matters of health and medicine Muslim View Of Christianity (a) Irfan A.

Omar,2010 Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia Dr A C S Peacock,Dr Bruno De Nicola,Dr Sara Nur Yıldız,2015-04-28 Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective Since then research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian Muslim relations but no overview has appeared Moreover very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem meaning evidence in Arabic Persian and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources and too little attention has been given to material culture The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism Poetry of Belonging Ali Khan Mahmudabad,2020-01-07

Poetry of Belonging is an exploration of north Indian Muslim identity through poetry at a time when the Indian nation state did not exist Between 1850 and 1950 when precolonial forms of cultural traditions such as the musha irah were undergoing massive transformations to remain relevant certain Muslim voices configured negotiated and articulated their imaginings of what it meant to be Muslim Using poetry as an archive the book traces the history of the musha irah the site of poetic performance as a way of understanding public spaces through the changing economic social political and technological contexts of the time It seeks to locate the changing ideas of watan homeland and hubb e watan patriotism in order to offer new perspectives on how Muslim intellectuals poets political leaders and journalists conceived of and expressed their relationship to India and to the transnational Muslim community The volume aims to spark a renegotiation of identity and belonging especially at a time when Muslim loyalty to India has yet again emerged as a politically polarizing question

Historicizing "Tradition" in the Study of Religion Steven Engler, Gregory Price Grieve, 2012-02-13 This collection of essays analyzes tradition as a category in the historical and comparative study of religion The book questions the common assumption that tradition is simply the passing down or imitation of prior practices and discourses It begins from the premise that many traditions are at least in part social fabrications often deliberately serving particular ideological ends Individual chapters examine a wide variety of historical periods and religions Congolese Buddhist Christian Confucian Cree Esoteric Hawaiian Hindu Islamic Jewish New Religious Movement and Shinto Different sections of the book consider tradition's relation to three sets of issues legitimation and authority agency and identity modernity and the West Values in Islamic Culture and the Experience of History N. S. Kirabaev, Илья́ Микха́йлович Почта, 2002 Medieval Islamic Maps Karen C. Pinto, 2016-11-01 Hundreds of exceptional cartographic images are scattered throughout medieval and early modern Arabic Persian and Turkish manuscript collections The plethora of copies created around the Islamic world over the course of eight centuries testifies to the enduring importance of these medieval visions for the Muslim cartographic imagination With Medieval Islamic Maps historian Karen C Pinto brings us the first in depth exploration of medieval Islamic cartography from the mid tenth to the nineteenth century Pinto focuses on the distinct tradition of maps known collectively as the Book of Roads and Kingdoms Kitab al Masalik wa al Mamalik or KMMS examining them from three distinct angles iconography context and patronage She untangles the history of the KMMS maps traces their inception and evolution and analyzes them to reveal the identities of their creators painters and patrons as well as the vivid realities of the social and physical world they depicted In doing so Pinto develops innovative techniques for approaching the visual record of Islamic history explores how medieval Muslims perceived themselves and their world and brings Middle Eastern maps into the forefront of the study of the history of cartography Muslim Perceptions of Other Religions Jacques Waardenburg, 1999-08-19 Since its inception Islam and its civilization have been in continuous relationships with other religions cultures and civilizations including not only different forms of Christianity and Judaism inside and outside the Middle East Zoroastrianism and Manicheism Hinduism and even Buddhism but also tribal religions in West and East Africa in South Russia and in Central Asia including Tibet The essays collected here examine the many texts that have come down to us about these cultures and their religions from Muslim theologians and jurists travelers and historians and men of letters and of culture The New Cambridge History of Islam: Volume 4, Islamic Cultures and Societies to the End of the Eighteenth Century Robert Irwin, 2010-11-04 Robert Irwin's authoritative introduction to the fourth volume of The New Cambridge History of Islam offers a panoramic vision of Islamic culture from its origins to around 1800 The introductory chapter which highlights key developments and introduces some of Islam s most famous protagonists paves the way for an extraordinarily varied collection of essays The themes treated include religion and law conversion Islam s relationship with the natural world governance and politics caliphs and kings philosophy science medicine language art architecture literature music and even cookery What emerges from this rich collection written by an international team of experts is the diversity and dynamism of the societies which created this flourishing civilization Volume four of The New Cambridge History of Islam serves as a thematic companion to the three preceding politically oriented volumes and in coverage extends across the pre modern Islamic world The Mathematics of Egypt, Mesopotamia, China, India, and Islam Victor J. Katz, Annette Imhausen, 2007-08-05 In recent decades it has become obvious that mathematics has always been a worldwide activity But this is the first book to provide a substantial collection of English translations of key mathematical texts from the five most important ancient and medieval non Western mathematical cultures and to put them into full historical and mathematical context The Mathematics of Egypt Mesopotamia China India and Islam gives English readers a firsthand understanding and appreciation of these cultures important contributions to world mathematics The five section authors Annette Imhausen Egypt Eleanor Robson Mesopotamia Joseph Dauben China Kim Plofker India and J Lennart Berggren Islam are experts in their fields Each author has selected key texts and in many cases provided new translations The authors have also written substantial section introductions that give an overview of each mathematical culture and explanatory notes that put each selection into context This authoritative commentary allows readers to understand the sometimes unfamiliar mathematics of these civilizations and the purpose and significance of each text Addressing a critical gap in the mathematics literature in English this book is an essential resource for anyone with at least an undergraduate degree in mathematics who wants to learn about non Western mathematical developments and how they helped shape and enrich world mathematics The book is also an indispensable guide for mathematics teachers who want to use non Western mathematical ideas in the classroom Gender and Sexuality in Muslim Cultures Gul Ozyegin, 2016-03-09 A must read for anyone interested in Muslim cultures this volume not only explores Muslim identities through the lens of sexuality and gender their historical and contemporary transformations and local and global articulations but also interrogates our understanding of what constitutes a Muslim identity in selected Muslim majority countries at this pivotal historical moment characterized by transformative destabilizations in which national ethnic and religious boundaries are being re imagined and re made Contributors take on the most fundamental questions at the intersections of gender sexuality and the body Several overarching questions frame the volume How does studying gender and sexuality expand and enrich our understanding of Muslim majority countries historically and at present How does the embodiment of Muslim identity get reconfigured in the context of twenty first century globalism What analytical questions are raised about Islam when its diverse meanings and multifaceted expressions are closely examined What roles do gender and sexuality play in the construction of cultural religious nationalistic communal and militaristic identities How have power struggles been signified in and on the bodies of women and sexuality How have global dynamics such as the intensification and spread of neoliberal ideologies and policies affected changing dynamics of gender and sexuality in specific locales Here global dynamics touch down in diverse contexts from masculinity crises around war disabilities transnational marriages and fathering in Turkey Egypt and Pakistan to Muslim femininity narratives around female genital cutting sexuality in divorce proceedings and spouse selection to gender crossing practices as well as protesting bodies queering voices and claims of authenticity in literary and political discourse This book brings exciting research on these and other topics together in one place allowing the essa

Studies in Medieval Islamic Technology Donald R. Hill, 2020-10-07 These studies represent the major contributions to the history of Islamic technology during the second half of the 20th century beside Donald Hill's separate publications on the mechanical devices of Pseudo Apollonios the Banu Musa and al Jazari A gifted linguist who was trained as a historian of Islamic civilisation and also a professional engineer Hill achieved his goal of setting his subject on a solid basis The papers reprinted here include his early studies of the trebuchet and the camel and horse several overviews of different aspects of Islamic technology articles on specific topics such as the Cairo Nilometer and al Biruni's geared luni solar device and the first notice of an extremely important Andalusian treatise on mechanical devices discovered in 1975

The Oxford Handbook of the Abrahamic Religions Adam J. Silverstein, Guy G. Stroumsa, Moshe Blidstein, 2015 The Oxford Handbook of the Abrahamic Religions includes authoritative yet accessible studies on a wide variety of topics dealing comparatively with Judaism Christianity and Islam as well as with the interactions between the adherents of these religions throughout history The comparative study of the Abrahamic Religions has been undertaken for many centuries More often than not these studies reflected a polemical rather than an ecumenical approach to the topic Since the nineteenth century the comparative study of the Abrahamic Religions has not been pursued either intensively or systematically and it is only recently that the comparative study of Judaism Christianity and Islam has received more serious attention This volume contributes to the emergence and development of the comparative study of the Abrahamic religions a discipline which is now in its formative stages This Handbook includes both critical and supportive perspectives on the very concept of the Abrahamic religions and discussions on the role of the figure of Abraham in these religions It features 32 essays by the foremost scholars in the field on the historical interactions between Abrahamic communities on Holy Scriptures and their interpretation on conceptions of religious history on various topics and strands of religious thought such as monotheism and mysticism on rituals of prayer purity and sainthood on love in the three religions and on fundamentalism The volume concludes with three epilogues written by three influential figures in the Christian Jewish and Muslim communities to provide a broader perspective on the comparative study of the Abrahamic religions This ground breaking work introduces readers to the challenges and rewards of studying these three religions together
