The Quarterly Journal of Pure and Applied Mathematics, 1866 Hot Spots Lynda Gratton, 2007-02-19 You always know when you are in a Hot Spot You feel energized and vibrantly alive Your brain is buzzing with ideas and the people around you share your joy and excitement Things you've always known become clearer adding value becomes more possible Ideas and insights from others miraculously combine with your own to create new thinking and innovation When Hot Spots arise in and between companies they provide energy for exploiting and applying knowledge that is already known and genuinely exploring what was previously unknown Hot Spots are marvelous creators of value for organizations and wonderful life enhancing phenomena for each of us Lynda Gratton has spent more than ten years investigating Hot Spots discovering how they emerge and how organizations can create environments where they will proliferate and thrive She has studied dozens of companies and talked to hundreds of employees managers and executives in the US Europe and Asia She has asked the important questions Why and when do Hot Spots emerge What is it about certain groups of people that support the emergence of Hot Spots What role do leaders play She s discovered a host of elements that together contribute to the emergence of Hot Spots creating energy and excitement and supporting and channeling that energy into productive outcomes In this groundbreaking book Gratton describes four crucial qualities that an organizational culture must have to support the emergence of Hot Spots looks at what leaders can do to encourage them and offers activities and tools you can use in your own company to increase the probability of them arising In these days when traditional organizational boundaries are becoming barriers to progress Gratton offers advice and guidance that you can use right now to increase the probability of Hot Spots emerging in your organization

The Value & Purpose of Management Education Eric Cornuel,Howard Thomas,Matthew Wood,2022-03-01 Without a doubt business schools have been a success story in higher education over the last 50 years the period of EFMD s existence Even so they have come under scrutiny and attack over their academic legitimacy and value proposition for business and society In this book drawn from a special issue of Global Focus the EFMD has selected around 25 of the best most thoughtful short papers published in Global Focus to examine the role and purpose of EFMD in the evolution of management education Each of the chapters interpret current strategic debates about the evolution of business schools and their paradigms and also identify possible strategic options for handling uncertain volatile futures These papers can be broadly categorized into four consistent themes the first theme is concerned with the purpose and value proposition of management education the second theme focuses on a perceived need for new business models and how to design and build them the third theme addresses the question of the impact of the business school on business and society given the increasingly academic pursuits of business schools and their often weak links to the business community the so called rigour relevance dilemma and the fourth theme concerns how to map and design business school futures in an increasingly volatile uncertain complex and ambiguous crisis oriented environment This impressive collection of insights from business management leaders from across the globe is inspiring reading for higher education leaders policy makers and business leaders seeking insight into the future of management education The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
