Second Wife And Other Stories From China:

Second Wife and Other Stories from China Rhona Baptiste, 2001 In this collection of short stories Rhona Baptiste describes her experiences in China since coming to teach at a Junior Teachers College in Guangzhou Cover The Missing Kidney and other stories Maxine Rosaler, 2025-05-13 Set in the grungy New York City of the 1970s and 80s these stories convey a sense of the enchantment that lurks on the flip side of every moment as if the meaning of life were hidden within the static being blasted out of the loudspeakers on a subway platform or a scrap of newspaper preserved under ice on a cold winter's day A girl tries to save the boy she loves from his crippling love for his uncle A champion of social justice talks herself into believing that the man she finds sexually repulsive is a perfect fit for her perfectly ordered life A man kneels on the sidewalk before a memorial he constructed for his girlfriend as a crowd of curious onlookers gather around him Rosaler deals out the fates of a vivid array of complex characters with unflagging energy wit and a delight in the details of city life

Bird Talk and Other Stories by Xu Xu Xu Xu, 2020-05-19 Introducing the works of a major Chinese writer liberal cosmopolitan and lyrically exotic once banned but now embraced and newly discovered in the West Xu Xu 1908-1980 was one of the most widely read Chinese authors of the 1930s to 1960s His popular urban gothic tales his exotic spy fiction and his quasi-existentialist love stories full of nostalgia and melancholy offer today's readers an unusual glimpse into China's turbulent twentieth century These translations spanning a period of some thirty years from 1937 until 1965 bring to life some of Xu Xu's most representative short fictions from prewar Shanghai and postwar Hong Kong and Taiwan The Afterword illustrates that Xu Xu's idealistic tendencies in defiance of the politicization of art exemplify his affinity with European romanticism and link his work to a global literary modernity Him with His Foot in His Mouth and Other Stories Saul Bellow, 1998 This dazzling collection of shorter fiction describes a series of self-awakenings a suburban divorcee deciding among lovers a celebrity drawn into his cousin's life of crime a father remembering bygone Chicago an artist and an academic awaiting extradition for some unnamed offense I Love Dollars and Other Stories of China Wen Zhu, 2007 In five richly imaginative novellas and a short story Zhu Wen depicts the violence chaos and dark comedy of China in the post-Mao era A frank reflection of the seamier side of his nation's increasingly capitalist society Zhu Wen's fiction offers an audaciously plainspoken account of the often hedonistic individualism that is feverishly taking root Set against the mundane landscapes of contemporary China a worn Yangtze River vessel cheap diners a failing factory a for-profit hospital operating by dated socialist norms Zhu Wen's stories zoom in on the often tragicomic minutiae of everyday life in this fast-changing country With subjects ranging from provincial mafiosi to nightmarish families and oppressed factory workers his claustrophobic narratives depict a spiritually bankrupt society periodically rocked by spasms of uncontrolled violence For example I Love Dollars a story about casual sex in a provincial city whose caustic portrayal of numb disillusionment and cynicism caused an immediate sensation in the Chinese literary establishment when it was first published The novella's loose colloquial voice and sharp focus on the indignity and iniquity of a society trapped between communism and capitalism showcase Zhu Wen's exceptional ability to make literary sense of the bizarre ideologically confused amalgam that is contemporary China. Julia Lovell's fluent translation deftly reproduces Zhu Wen's wry sense of humor and powerful command of detail and atmosphere. The first book-length publication of Zhu Wen's fiction in English, I Love Dollars and Other Stories of China, offers readers access to a trailblazing author and marks a major contribution to Chinese literature in English.

Slow Boat to China and Other Stories Kim Chew Ng, 2016-03-01. Dream and Swine and Aurora Deep in the Rubber Forest. Fish Bones Allah's Will, Monkey Butts, Fire and Dangerous Things. Ng Kim Chew's stories are raw, rural, and rich with the traditions of his native Malaysia. They are also full of humor and spirit, demonstrating a deep appreciation for human ingenuity in the face of poverty, oppression, and exile. Ng creatively captures the riot of cultures that roughly coexist on the Malay Peninsula and its surrounding archipelago. Their interplay is heightened by the encroaching forces of globalization, which bring new opportunities for cultural experimentation but also an added dimension of alienation. In prose that is intimate and atmospheric, these sensitively crafted, resonant stories depict the struggles of individuals torn between their ancestral and adoptive homes, communities pressured by violence and minority Malaysian Chinese in dynamic tension with the Islamic Malay majority. Told through relatable characters, Ng's tales show why he has become a leading Malaysian writer of Chinese fiction, representing in mood, voice, and rhythm the dislocation of a people and a country in transition.

The Chinese Boy and Girl and Other Stories Isaac Taylor Headland, 2020-09-28. When Mrs. Spring Fragrance first arrived in Seattle, she was unacquainted with even one word of the American language. Five years later, her husband speaking of her said, "There are no more American words for her learning." And everyone who knew Mrs. Spring Fragrance agreed with Mr. Spring Fragrance. Mr. Spring Fragrance, whose business name was Sing Yook, was a young curio merchant. Though conservatively Chinese in many respects, he was at the same time what is called by the Westerners, Americanized. Mrs. Spring Fragrance was even more Americanized. Next door to the Spring Fragrances lived the Chin Yuens. Mrs. Chin Yuen was much older than Mrs. Spring Fragrance, but she had a daughter of eighteen with whom Mrs. Spring Fragrance was on terms of great friendship. The daughter was a pretty girl whose Chinese name was Mai Gwi, Far a rose, and whose American name was Laura. Nearly everybody called her Laura, even her parents and Chinese friends. Laura had a sweetheart, a youth named Kai Tzu. Kai Tzu, who was American-born and as ruddy and stalwart as any young Westerner, was noted amongst baseball players as one of the finest pitchers on the Coast. He could also sing, "Drink to me only with thine eyes," to Laura's piano accompaniment. Now the only person who knew that Kai Tzu loved Laura and that Laura loved Kai Tzu was Mrs. Spring Fragrance. The reason for this was that although the Chin Yuen parents lived in a house furnished in American style and wore American clothes, yet they religiously observed many Chinese customs, and their ideals of life were the ideals of their Chinese forefathers. Therefore, they had betrothed their daughter, Laura, at the age of fifteen to the eldest son of the Chinese Government school teacher in San Francisco The time for the consummation of the betrothal was approaching Laura was with Mrs Spring Fragrance and Mrs Spring Fragrance was trying to cheer her I had such a pretty walk today said she I crossed the banks above the beach and came back by the long road In the green grass the daffodils were blowing in the cottage gardens the currant bushes were flowering and in the air was the perfume of the wallflower I wished Laura that you were with me Laura burst into tears That is the walk she sobbed Kai Tzu and I so love but never ah never can we take it together again China's New Cultural Scene Marie Claire Huot,2000 Portrays the ongoing revolution in cultural production that has transformed contemporary life in the People s Republic of China Background Notes, China ,1981 Building a New China in Cinema Laikwan Pang,2002-05-01 Building a New China in Cinema introduces English readers for the first time to one of the most exciting left wing cinema traditions in the world This unique book explores the history ideology and aesthetics of China s left wing cinema movement a quixotic film culture that was as political as commercial as militant as sensationalist Originating in the 1930s it marked the first systematic intellectual involvement in Chinese cinema In this era of turmoil and idealism the movement s films were characterized by fantasies of heroism intertwined with the inescapable spell of impotency thus exposing the contradictions of the filmmakers underlying ideology as their political and artistic agendas alternately fought against or catered to the taste and viewing habits of a popular audience Political cinema became a commercially successful industry resulting in a film culture that has never been replicated Drawing on detailed archival research Pang demonstrates that this cinema movement was a product of the era s social economic and political discourses The author offers a close analysis of many rarely seen films richly illustrated with over eighty stills collected from the Beijing Film Archive With its original conceptual approach and rich use of primary sources this book will be of interest not only to scholars and fans of Chinese cinema but to those who study the relationship between cinema and modernity Author and Title List of Fiction and Children's Stories Nahant Public Library, Nahant, Mass,1895 Building New China, Colonizing Kokonor Gregory Rohlf,2016-03-04 Building New China Colonizing Kokonor Resettlement to Amdo and Qinghai in the 1950s examines rural resettlement to the Sino Tibetan cultural borderlands in the 1950s More than 100 000 eastern Han and Hui Chinese were sent to Qinghai province known in Mongolian as Kokonor and Amdo to Tibetans to plow up new fields in areas that were being incorporated into the Chinese state for the first time The settlers were to bring their skilled labor literacy and modern thinking to backward Qinghai to fully exploit its natural resources of oil natural gas gold and empty lands for the benefit of the industrializing nation The book is a social and political history of resettlement focusing on the people who were moved and the overall impact the program had on the province It is a frontier history but it also narrates a story of state building in modern China that spans the twentieth century and the opening years of the twenty first The Yellow Peril William F. Wu,2022-06-02 This study examines the way Americans of Chinese descent were portrayed in American literature between 1850 and 1940 Their depictions are compared to historical events that were occurring at the time the works of literature were published This edition has additions and corrections compared to the original hardback edition published in 1982

Excerpt My purpose in writing this work has been to explore the depiction of Chinese immigrants and their descendants in American fiction from the mid nineteenth century entry of the first Chinese immigrants in significant numbers to the eve of World War II I consider both the immigrant Chinese and the American born generations that followed them to be Chinese Americans but will sometimes identify the groups separately in recognition of the fact that the historical experience and treatment of the immigrants in fiction has been different from that of their descendants The fiction treated in this study includes short stories and novels both by white Americans and Asian Americans I am defining the term Yellow Peril as the threat to the United States that some white American authors believed was posed by the people of East Asia As a literary theme the fear of this threat focuses on specific issues including possible military invasion from Asia perceived competition to the white labor force from Asian workers the alleged moral degeneracy of Asian people and the potential genetic mixing of Anglo Saxons with Asians who were considered a biologically inferior race by some intellectuals of the nineteenth century The Chinese immigrants were the first target of this attention since they were the first Asian immigrants to reach the United States in large numbers This study will focus on American fiction about Chinese Americans in an attempt to analyze the growth and development of attitudes about them My thesis is that the Yellow Peril is the overwhelmingly dominant theme in American fiction about Chinese Americans in the years with which this study is concerned It is expressed through the variety of images of the Chinese Americans that appear especially in their relation to and their role as part of the United States The historical causes and literary subject matter change but the theme neither disappears nor abates Each work of fiction has been studied individually for the images it contains Prior to the turn of the century the Yellow Peril is perceived only as stemming from the Chinese In the twentieth century especially in the pulps the Japanese joined the Chinese as a perceived menace to Europe and North America The overall process of evaluation relies primarily on detailed analyses of the characters under consideration This has been done with an awareness that the American public as a whole sometimes did not distinguish carefully among Asian ethnic groups so that events involving one Asian ethnic group often affected the image of another Some works are obscure and these have been quoted at greater length than more available ones Relatively few critical sources have been cited this is due to a dearth of relevant studies The less important works of fiction have naturally received little critical attention and often when such attention was concerned with pertinent stories the authors had little or nothing to say about the depiction of Chinese Americans This observation is intended only as an explanation and not as a value judgement of earlier scholarship with different goals

The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 This guide highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the process of translating and the choices involved making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Hungarian Korean to Turkish For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available

Visions of Dystopia in China's New Historical Novels Jeffrey C. Kinkley, 2014-11-18 The depiction of personal and collective suffering in modern Chinese novels differs significantly from standard Communist accounts and many Eastern and Western historical narratives Writers such as Yu Hua Su Tong Wang Anyi Mo Yan Han Shaogong Ge Fei Li Rui and Zhang Wei skew and scramble common conceptions of China's modern development deploying avant garde narrative techniques from Latin American and Euro American modernism to project a surprisingly un-Chinese dystopian vision and critical view of human culture and ethics The epic narratives of modern Chinese fiction make rich use of magical realism surrealism and unusual treatments of historical time Also featuring graphic depictions of sex and violence as well as dark raunchy comedy these novels reflect China's recent history re-presenting the overthrow of the monarchy in the early twentieth century and the resulting chaos of revolution and war the recurring miseries perpetrated by class warfare during the dictatorship of Mao Zedong and the social dislocations caused by China's industrialization and rise as a global power This book casts China's highbrow historical novels from the late 1980s to the first decade of the twenty first century as a distinctively Chinese contribution to the form of the global dystopian novel and consequently to global thinking about the interrelations of utopia and dystopia

China and the New World Order Zhibin Gu, 2006 Get the inside story from a Chinese journalist consultant about China's surge under globalization and capitalism This second volume of a trilogy covers 1 political economic trends 2 Chinese multinationals vs global giants 3 trade the yuan banking insurance and the stock market and 4 issues with Taiwan the West India and Japan

The Rise and Fall of the House of Bo John Garnaut, 2012-11-08 The Rise and Fall of the House of Bo is a shocking and revelatory exposé of China's most controversial statesman Bo Xilai by journalist John Garnaut available exclusively as a digital only Penguin Special When news of the murder trial of prominent Communist Party leader Bo Xilai's wife reached Western attention it was apparent that as with many events in the secretive upper echelons of Chinese politics there was more to the story Now as the Party's 18th National Congress oversees the biggest leadership transition in decades and installs the Bo family's long time rival Xi Jinping as president China's rulers are finding it increasingly difficult to keep their poisonous internal divisions behind closed doors Bo Xilai's breathtaking fall from grace is an extraordinary tale of excess murder defection political purges and ideological clashes going back to Mao himself as the princeling sons of the revolutionary heroes ascend to control of the Party China watcher John Garnaut examines how Bo's stellar rise through the ranks troubled his more reformist peers as he revived anti capitalist roader sentiment even while his family and associates enjoyed the more open economy's opportunities Amid fears his imminent elevation to the powerful Standing Committee was leading China towards another destructive Cultural Revolution have his opponents seized their chance to destroy Bo and what he stood for The trigger was his wife Gu Kailai's apparently paranoid murder of an English family friend which exposed the corruption and brutality of Bo's outwardly successful administration of the massive city of Chongqing It also led to the one of the highest level attempted defections in Communist China's history when Bo's right hand man police chief Wang Lijun tried to escape the ruins of his sponsor's reputation Garnaut explains how this incredible glimpse into the very personal power struggles within the CCP exposes the myth of the unified one party state With China approaching super power status today's leadership shuffle may set the tone for international relations for decades Here Garnaut reveals a particularly Chinese spin on the old adage that the personal is political His insight is unique and well applied to this extraordinary intergenerational set of events that Hollywood couldn't dream up if it tried ABC Sydney John Garnaut is China correspondent for the Sydney Morning Herald and The Age in the Fairfax Media stable and also writes for

Foreign Policy magazine He joined Fairfax in 2002 as an economics journalist after working as a commercial lawyer His work on China has been recognised with several awards including the 2009 Walkley Award for Scoop of the Year for reporting the detention of Australian Rio Tinto executive Stern Hu John lived in Beijing for two years in the 1980s while his father was posted as the Australian ambassador and returned there with his wife and children in 2007
