Kochavi,2011-01-20 How was it possible that almost all of the nearly 300 000 British and American troops who fell into German hands during World War II survived captivity in German POW camps and returned home almost as soon as the war ended In Confronting Captivity Arie J Kochavi offers a behind the scenes look at the living conditions in Nazi camps and traces the actions the British and American governments took and didn t take to ensure the safety of their captured soldiers Concern in London and Washington about the safety of these POWs was mitigated by the recognition that the Nazi leadership tended to adhere to the Geneva Convention when it came to British and U S prisoners Following the invasion of Normandy however Allied apprehension over the safety of POWs turned into anxiety for their very lives Yet Britain and the United States took the calculated risk of counting on a swift conclusion to the war as the Soviets approached Germany from the east Ultimately Kochavi argues it was more likely that the lives of British and American POWs were spared because of their race rather than any actions their governments took on their behalf American Women During World War II Doris Weatherford,2009-10-16 American Women during World War II documents the lives and stories of women who contributed directly to the war effort via official and semi official military organizations as well as the millions of women who worked in civilian defense industries ranging from aircraft maintenance to munitions manufacturing and much more It also illuminates how the war changed the lives of women in more traditional home front roles All women had to cope with rationing of basic household goods and most women volunteered in war related programs Other entries discuss institutional change as the war affected every aspect of life including as schools hospitals and even religion American Women during World War II provides a handy one volume collection of information and images suitable for any public or professional library MotorBoating ,1942-08 World War II in Literature for Youth Patricia Hachten Wee,Robert James Wee,2004 This comprehensive volume provides a wealth of information with annotated listings of more than 3 500 titles a broad sampling of books on the war years 1939 1945 Includes both fiction and nonfiction works about all aspects of the war Professional resources for educators aligned to the educational standards for social studies technical references periodicals and electronic resources a

Hitler's Man in Havana Thomas Schoonover, 2008-09-12 When Heinz L ning posed as a Jewish refugee to spy for Hitler s Abwehr espionage agency he thought he had discovered the perfect solution to his most pressing problem how to avoid being drafted into Hitler s army L ning was unsympathetic to Fascist ideology but the Nazis tight control over exit visas gave him no chance to escape Germany He could enter Hitler s army either as a soldier or a spy In 1941 he entered the Abwehr academy for spy training and was given the code name Lumann Soon after L ning began the service in Cuba that led to his ultimate fate of being the only German spy executed in Latin America during World War II L ning was not the only spy operating in Cuba at the time Various Allied spies labored in Havana the FBI controlled eighteen Special Intelligence Service operatives and the British counterintelligence section subchief Graham Greene supervised Secret Intelligence Service agents and Ernest Hemingway s private agents supplied inflated and inaccurate
