United Nations United States. General Accounting Office, 2001 The Basel Committee on Banking Supervision Charles Goodhart, 2011-08-25 The Basel Committee on Banking Supervision BCBS sets the guidelines for world wide regulation of banks It is the forum for agreeing international regulation on the conduct of banking Based on special access to the archives of the BCBS and interviews with many of its key players this book tells the story of the early years of the Committee from its foundation in 1974 5 right through until 1997 the year that marks the watershed between the Basel I Accord on Capital Adequacy and the start of work on Basel II In addition the book covers the Concordat the Market Risk Amendment the Core Principles of Banking and all other facets of the work of the BCBS While the book is primarily a record of the history of the BCBS it also provides an assessment of its actions and efficacy It is a major contribution to the historical record on banking supervision United Nations targeted strategies could help boost U.S. representation : report to congressional requesters , The Origin, Structure & Working of the League of Nations Charles Howard Ellis, 1929 Civil Servants and Public Policy Robert I. McLaren, 2006-01-01 This thoroughgoing study of international secretariats might be entitled What the International Civil Servant Really Does as opposed to what he or she should do or is believed to do The author interviewed international officials studied the documents of the agencies involved and reviewed the relevant literature in an intensive investigation of the political role played by international secretariats of United Nations organizations He suggests that various factors are involved in determining the role of these secretariats size types of functions the degree of control exercised by member governments the relative technical expertise of these governments and secretariat officials the personalities of these officials An original conclusion is reached civil services at least at the international level do not necessarily play a significant policy making role in their organizations The Diplomacy of International Relations Johan Kaufmann, 2023-11-27 This work brings together a selection of articles written by Johan Kaufmann which follows Kaufmann s career as a diplomat for the Netherlands mainly involved in trade negotiations Every article is prefaced by a brief introductory note which sets out what the rationale is of including the article The selection covers the following topics International Negotiation Issues the UN System the NIEO and International Trade Policy The work is an interesting collection of academically sound and interrelated pieces of work The brief introductory notes to the essays are to the point and in Kaufmann s usual succinct style The work is aimed at academics in the field of international law international organizations and international relations International Climate Negotiation Factors Wytze van der Gaast, 2016-10-05 Providing a detailed examination of climate negotiations records since the 1990s this book shows that in addition to agreeing on climate policy frameworks the negotiations process is of crucial importance to success Shedding light on the dynamics of international climate policymaking its respective chapters explore key milestones such as the Kyoto Protocol Marrakech Accords Cancun Agreement and Doha Framework The book identifies a minimum of three conditions that need to be fulfilled

for successful climate negotiations the negotiations need to reflect the fact that climate change calls for global solutions the negotiation process must be flexible including multiple trajectories and several small steps and decisive tactical maneuvers need to be made as much can depend on for example personalities and the negotiating atmosphere With regard to the design of an international climate policy regime the main challenge presented has been the inability to agree on globally supported greenhouse gas emission reduction measures The book offers an excellent source of information for researchers policymakers and advisors alike All about Horses - 1 Cindy Crank,2019-02-09 Horses horsemanship and horse sport have been a part of mankind since time began This book is full of short fun and informative reads great for busy on the go horse people or for those who enjoy some history and trivia with a dash of mystery thrown in All About Horses 2 is also available

Global health the Global Fund to fight AIDS, TB and malaria is responding to challenges but needs better information and documentation for performancebased funding : report to congressional committees. ,2005

Non-Governmental Organisations in International Law Anna-Karin Lindblom,2005 Even when governments have no democratic basis they are regarded as the sole representatives of their populations on the international plane and take important decisions on their behalf It is therefore important that other voices can be heard in international fora alongside governments NGOs have an increasingly important legal and political role and use several different avenues for their work such as lodging cases before international courts and other bodies and participating in international meetings and conferences This book explores these possibilities for the participation of NGOs in international law Geotechnical Related Development and Implementation of Load and Resistance Factor Design (LRFD) Methods George G. Goble,1999 This synthesis report will be of interest to geotechnical structural and bridge engineers especially those involved in the development and implementation of the geotechnical aspects of the AASHTO Bridge Code The synthesis documents a review of geotechnical related LRFD specifications and their development worldwide to compare them with the current AASHTO LRFD Bridge Code Design procedures for foundations earth retaining structures and culverts are summarized and compared with the methods specified by the AASHTO code This TRB report provides information designed to assist engineers in implementing the geotechnical features of LRFD methods Information for the synthesis was collected by surveying U S and Canadian transportation agencies and by conducting a literature search using domestic and international sources Interviews were also conducted with selected international experts The limited available experience in the United States and information from international practice are discussed to understand the problems that have arisen in order that solutions may be found Based on the studies reported here suggestions for improving the code are identified Equestrian Studies Myron J. Smith,Salem College (Salem, W. Va.),1981 No descriptive material is available for this title Policies for Development Sidney Dell,1988-07-26 A collection of essays by a number of internationally known economists this book is essential reading for those interested in development policy in the Third World It provides new insights on a number of long standing controversies about development policy in such fields as external constraints import substitution the debt problem direct foreign investment counter trade IMF conditionality and the impact of currency devaluation

Handbook of Standards and Guidelines in Ergonomics and Human Factors Waldemar Karwowski, 2005-12-16 A comprehensive review of international and national standards and guidelines this handbook consists of 32 chapters divided into nine sections that cover standardization efforts anthropometry and working postures designing manual material human computer interaction occupational health and safety legal protection military human factor standards

The Consequences of Non-cooperation with the International Criminal Court Melville Ludwig Jacobs, 2025-07-25 This book aims to provide a comprehensive analysis of how the International Criminal Court can be better equipped to handle instances of non cooperation with its requests by States specifically State Parties to the Rome Statute that have a concrete obligation to cooperate with the Court The book suggests that non cooperation is not handled in an effective manner at any stage of non cooperation proceedings This highlights the need for there to be more effective responses and remedies for handling the failure to cooperate from the initial decision on non cooperation by the ICC Pre Trial Chambers to the follow up mechanisms developed by the institutional bodies tasked with addressing non cooperation Existing literature on non cooperation appears to strictly look to the black letter of the Rome Statute to address and remedy the gaps in the Court's handling of non cooperation matters This book however intends to conduct a broad study and will therefore look beyond the Rome Statute to search for effective remedies for responding to instances of non cooperation through relevant international peace and security Specific focus will be placed on the Responsibility to Protect and the ILC's Articles on the Responsibility of States for Internationally Wrongful Acts Responses to non cooperation will also be analysed through its potential relationship with peremptory norms of general international law jus cogens This volume in the ICJ Series is especially relevant considering recent developments in international criminal law including the continued inability of the ICC to effectively address non cooperation in high profile cases Specifically tailored for legal academics practitioners and policymakers this book seeks to bridge theoretical analyses with practical solutions making it an important tool for those invested in the future of international criminal justice Melville Jacobs is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at the Palack University Olomouc Centre for International Humanitarian and Operational Law
