Meaning Based Translation A Guide To Cross Language Equivalence:

Meaning-based Translation Mildred L. Larson,1984 Meaning Based Translation is designed for training beginning translators and organized chapter by chapter as drill material for the textbook Meaning Based Translation

Meaning-Based Translation Mildred L. Larson,1998 This textbook has been designed to emphasize the differences between languages and how this affects the translation of a text from one language into another It is based upon the principle that the translator must first know the meaning of the source text before he can translate it into the receptor language Meaning is presented as a structure which stands behind any text Meaning based rather than form based translation is the goal of the textbook Meaning-Based Translation Mildred L. Larson,1997-11-28 Meaning Based Translation is designed for training beginning translators and organized chapter by chapter as drill material for the textbook Meaning Based Translation The textbook emphasizes the importance of a translation being accurate clear and natural and the exercises give the student practice in achieving this goal The exercises follow closely the content of the textbook since this is a drill manual for added practice The textbook has some exercises as well but the workbook provides additional practice from one basic source thus giving students a wider variety of problems to solve during practice time It also provides material that can be used as homework or as testing material
