Plant Life Of The Pacific World:

Plant Life of the Pacific World Elmer D. Merrill, 1995-10-15 This Asian ecology book offers an overview of the plant life of the vast Pacific region. Among the topics covered are the tropical forest and jungles, the grasslands, the primary and secondary forest, and the plants of the seashores. Weeds and cultivated plants are also discussed with overviews of plant distribution and notes on specific islands and island groups. Plant Life of the Pacific World will fill a great need as an important reference source not only for the ethnobotanist but for the professional botanist and the student interested in the flora of the Pacific basin. The information it contains, adequately detailed and clearly presented, should also open the eyes of both visitors and inhabitants to the natural riches of the Pacific region. Plant Life of the Pacific World Elmer D. Merrill, 1945

Plant Life of the Pacific World Elmer Drew Merrill, 1945 The safe forests and jungles of the tropics. General principles of botanical classification. Plants of the seashore. The mangrove forest. The secondary forests and open grass lands. The primary forest. Noteworthy plants of special interest. Weeds and their significance. The cultivated plants. Jungle foods. Problems of Malaysian plant distribution. Problems of Polynesian plant distribution. The significance of certain local plant names. Notes on specific Islands and Island groups. Notes on botanical history, exploration and bibliography. Simple directions for preparing botanical specimens.

Insects and Plants Jolivet, 1992-01-01 Insects and plants whether or not they coevolved have intimate interrelationships. This book concisely yet thoroughly describes these phenomena. In one chapter the salient facts known about carnivorous plants are described. In another ant and plant relationships are summarized as an introduction to this vast subject. Pollination of great interest to agriculturists and horticulturists is briefly explained without the complexities detailed in the massive literature on this topic. Many other subjects are discussed such as the memory of adult butterflies which enables them to return to their host plants in the case of the polyphagous species. The book is seeded with such thought provoking discussions as prostitution among the orchids and botanical indigestion in some plants.

Plant Life in the World's Mediterranean Climates Peter R. Dallman, 1998 Here is a wonderful overview of the landscape and vegetation of the five regions of the world that have a Mediterranean climate. In addition to the Mediterranean Basin itself, this climate of mild rainy winters and dry warm summers is found in California and parts of Chile, South Africa, and Australia. 30 maps, 18 tables, 46 line illustrations, 75 color and 90 b w photos.

Forces of Change Henry Hobhouse,2005-10-25 There are few books that have the insight and power to change the way we think Forces of Change is one In this updated edition Henry Hobhouse argues provocatively and most convincingly that modern history has been shaped less by the actions of human beings than by three natural forces population growth food supply and disease Together they form a self balancing triangle any change in the dimension of one side Hobhouse shows is and must be matched by changes in one or both of the other sides Using key examples from the history of the past five hundred years the author opens our eyes to new possibilities so that history as learned from our textbooks takes on a whole new light As original as it is ambitious Forces of Change examines history from the time of the Black Plague to the present day observing in each period and historical situation the relative roles of the three sides of the triangle The result is a work that is revealing eloquent and despite the seriousness of the subject always witty and eminently readable Janice J.
