A Comparative Political Economy of Tunisia and Morocco Gregory White, 2001-07-26 This book examines the profound impact of European integration on two North African countries Tunisia and Morocco Confronting the theoretical literatures on the entanglements of the domestic and international realms and the intricate role played by the middle income state in the international arena White provides the first detailed comparison of Tunisia and Morocco s post independence political economies especially in the context of the Euro Mediterranean Partnerships signed with the European Union in the late 1990s North African states must act on the one hand as entrepreneurs seeking to encourage trade and attract foreign investment within the domestic economy in the process of crafting foreign economic policy with the European Union On the other hand such states are constrained by domestic pressures such as imperatives to secure job creation and maintain internal security Countries on the periphery are therefore faced with two distinct questions first how does a middle income state balance its conflicting roles and manage its relations with a regional power and second how does the relationship with the outside world affect key domestic actors Answering these questions is one of the primary challenges facing Tunisia and Morocco in the new decade

Political Islam in Tunisia Anne Wolf, 2017-07-15 Political Islam in Tunisia uncovers the secret history of Tunisia's main Islamist movement Ennahda from its origins in the 1960s to the present Banned until the popular uprisings of 2010-11 and the overthrow of Ben Ali's dictatorship Ennahda has until now been impossible to investigate This is the first in depth account of the movement one of Tunisia's most influential political actors Drawing on more than four years of field research over 400 interviews and access to private archives Anne Wolf masterfully unveils the evolution of Ennahda's ideological and strategic orientations within changing political contexts and at times conflicting ambitions amongst its leading cadres She also explores the challenges to Ennahda's quest for power from both secularists and Salafis As the first full history of Ennahda this book is a major contribution to the literature on Tunisia Islamist movements and political Islam in the Arab world It will be indispensable reading for anyone seeking to understand the forces driving a key player in the country most hopeful of pursuing a democratic trajectory in the wake of the Arab Spring

Rethinking Islamist Politics Salwa Ismail, 2006-05-26 In an atmosphere of growing concern over the threat posed by Islamist violence political Islamism has become the most important of geopolitical issues In the process it has been misrepresented Contrary to what many believe Islamist movements are characterised by their diversity Revisiting the main arguments and explanations that have been used over the past twenty years to understand Islamist activism moderate as well as militant Salwa Ismail here proposes a rethinking of Islamist politics The phenomenon of political Islam is determined by macro and micro level changes in the Muslim world such as the retreat of the welfare state across the Middle East and the subsequent expansion in the role of informal political activists in the popular neighbourhoods of such cities as Algiers or Cairo Ismail examines both levels to explain the socio economic and political settings out of which Islamism has developed Her focus is both the economic and political environments that fomented Islamism and the structures of Islamist movements themselves from their ideologies to their modes of action Looking at Islamism as a form of contestation politics Ismail offers a reassessment of its failures and successes limited as it is by its use of violence but capable of real mobilisation at a popular level Rethinking Islamist Politics will be vital reading for anyone seeking to understand such spectacular expressions of Islamism as the September 11th attacks but also the everyday struggles of ordinary people which Islamism embodies

Islamist Parties and Political Normalization in the Muslim World Quinn Meacham, Julie Chernov Hwang, 2014-05-22 Since 2000 more than twenty countries around the world have held elections in which parties that espouse a political agenda based on an Islamic worldview have competed for legislative seats Islamist Parties and Political Normalization in the Muslim World examines the impact these parties have had on the political process in two different areas of the world with large Muslim populations the Middle East and Asia The book s contributors examine major cases of Islamist party evolution and participation in democratic and semidemocratic systems in Turkey Morocco Yemen Indonesia Malaysia and Bangladesh Collectively they articulate a theoretical framework to understand the strategic behavior of Islamist parties including the characteristics that distinguish them from other types of political parties how they relate to other parties as potential competitors or collaborators how ties to broader Islamist movements may affect party behavior in elections and how participation in an electoral system can affect the behavior and ideology of an Islamist party over time Through this framework the contributors observe a general tendency in Islamist politics Although Islamist parties represent diverse interests and behaviors that are tied to their particular domestic contexts through repeated elections they often come to operate less as antiestablishment parties and more in line with the political norms of the regimes in which they compete While a few parties have deliberately chosen to remain on the fringes of their political system most have found significant political rewards in changing their messages and behavior to attract more centrist voters As the impact of the Arab Spring continues to be felt Islamist Parties and Political Normalization in the Muslim World offers a nuanced and timely perspective of Islamist politics in broader global context Contributors Wenling Chan Julie Chernov Hwang Joseph Chinyong Liow Driss Maghraoui Quinn Mecham Ali Riaz Murat Somer Stacey Philbrick Yadav Saloua Zerhouni Religion and the State Scott A. Merriman, 2009-07-14 This timely and authoritative resource combines both topical and country by country coverage to help readers understand the coexistence of church and state in nations around the world today At a time when faith based groups have become more politically active in the United States and with religious conflicts at the epicenter of many of the world s most dangerous hotspots Religion and the State An International Analysis of Roles and Relationships could not be more welcomed or timely Country by country faith by faith it unravels the historic underpinnings and long range effects of the relationship between religious principles and the operations of government in its many guises worldwide The work combines topical essays on significant developments in the confluence of religion and law throughout the world with short descriptions of each countries current treatment of religion Readers can investigate specific nations compare situations across nations and explore key issues in the pervasive often controversial relationship between religion and government Muslim Identities and Political Strategies Heinrich Matthee, 2008 The Maghreb Since 1800 Knut S. Vikør, 2024-11-01 The Maghreb the region that today encompasses Morocco Algeria Tunisia and Libya is a region apart within the larger Muslim and Arab world Today the focus of popular uprisings for democracy and participation it underwent long periods of colonisation and anti colonial nationalist resistance both peaceful and militant To understand the nature of today s developments in North Africa we need fully to appreciate the tumultuous history of the region and how its four discrete countries followed different trajectories some marked by a continuity of social and political structures in both the colonial era and as independent states while others were marked by sharp ruptures and violent struggles These historical differences are still visible in the current era and tell us much about the societies in question This short history of the Maghreb surveys its development from the coming of Islam to the present day but with greatest emphasis on the modern period from the early nineteenth century onwards It follows the French protectorates Morocco and Tunisia and how their nationalist movements forged the independent states that followed and it chronicles the wars of resistance and liberation in Algeria and Libya and how these conflicts also marked their independence with a long running civil war in the former and the recent uprising against the Gaddafi regime in the latter

Hafez, 2003 Rejecting theories of economic deprivation and psychological alienation Mohammed Hafez offers a provocative analysis of the factors that contribute to protracted violence in the Muslim world today Hafez combines a sophisticated theoretical approach and detailed case studies to show that the primary source of Islamist insurgencies lies in the repressive political environments within which the vast majority of Muslims find themselves Highlighting when and how institutional exclusion and indiscriminate repression contribute to large scale rebellion he provides a crucial dimension to our understanding of Islamic politics

Revolts and the Military in the Arab Spring Sean

Burns,2018-01-30 Through detailed exploration of events in Tunisia Egypt Bahrain Libya Syria and Yemen Sean Burns here breaks down the concept of professionalism within the armed forces into its component parts and demonstrates how variation in military structures determines their behaviour In so doing and by emphasising historical context and drawing on a wide range of political science theory Burns sheds fresh light onto the ways in which military structure affects the potential for democratic transition or the course of civil war With this book he presented a wide ranging study of the Middle East which provides key tools to understanding the opportunities for democratisation both during the Arab Spring and beyond and which is therefore essential reading for anyone working on the Middle East popular uprisings and the politics of repression

Liberalization against Democracy Stephen J. King,2002-01-01 a very important contribution to contemporary debates on economic and political reform in developing countries Based on interviews King conducted himself this is an honest unvarnished examination and critique of propositions that are treated like gospel Lisa Anderson In Liberalization against Democracy Stephen J King argues that in contrast to prevailing views pro market economic reforms in Tunisia did not foster democratization Instead state led economic liberalization facilitated the reorganization of authoritarian rule and contributed to the subversion of democratic tendencies at both the national and local levels In addition to King s analysis of neo liberal economic transformation and regime change at the national level his book offers a rare local level analysis of these processes based on the author s extensive fieldwork in the rural community of Tebourba King s focus on the local level of analysis is particularly valuable His community study shows firsthand how local elites have manipulated cultural traditionalism in order to sustain market oriented reforms This rich account clearly delineates the pathways by which pro market reforms in Tunisia have fostered corporatism clientelism and authoritarianism
