Territorial Politics and Health Policy Scott L. Greer, 2004 This study identifies the different combinations of market profession management and civil society that England Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales chose in their efforts to provide health services to all It explains why these four health systems despite facing similar pressures and opportunities have developed dramatically different health policy trajectories The Politics of Change in the Health Service Brian Salter, 2015-12-31 What are the political forces which drive the process of change in the health service How do these forces impact on existing structures of power policy and organisation In addressing these questions Brian Salter applies an original theory of political change to key areas of NHS activity He shows how the escalating demand for health care combined with recent radical policy initiatives has posed different problems for politicians doctors bureaucrats and managers Out of the accommodations reached a new shape has emerged for the NHS Handbook on the Political Economy of Health Systems Joan Costa-Font, Alberto Batinti, Gilberto Turati, 2023-06-01 This ground breaking Handbook brings together a number of

chapters into one comprehensive book on the timely subject matter of the political economy of health and health care The book contains up to date discussion on the state of the art of the key questions of the subject matter and it provides a unique understanding of health policy making by drawing on an interdisciplinary approach to political economy Health Systems Policy, Finance, and Organization Guy Carrin,Kent Buse,Kristian Heggenhougen,Stella R. Quah,2010-05-22 This volume is unique in its systematic approach to these three pillars of health systems analysis will give readers of various backgrounds authoritative material about subjects adjacent to their own specialties Assembling such comparative materials is usually an onerous task because so many programs possess their own vocabularies goals and methods This book will provide common grounds for people in programs as diverse as economics and finance allied health business and management and the social sciences including psychology Gives readers of various backgrounds authoritative material about subjects adjacent to their own specialties Provides common grounds for people in programs as diverse as economics and finance allied health business and management and the social sciences including psychology Planning, Markets, and Hospitals John Mohan,2002 The book discusses the successes and failures of the mixed economy of health care in the inter war period including a consideration of the nature of public private partnerships Political Issues in the World Today Don MacIver,2004 This text provides a comprehensive account of the most salient political issues in world politics and explains their significance in a way that is accessible to students and non specialists alike The end of the Cold War led to a widespread feeling of relief and talk of a new world order Optimism however was short lived and a whole range of difficult new issues including ethnic conflict refugees terrorism and world security have come to the fore A number of ethical and moral issues such as poverty human rights and religion has moved up the agenda of world politics A new set of problems involving the environment technology and health care has impacted on the policy systems of states and international organizations The contributors to this collection provide a basis for understanding emerging issues on the global stage Politics, Planning and Housing Supply in Australia, England and Hong Kong Nicole Gurran,Nick Gallent,Rebecca L.H. Chiu,2016-07-15 In recent years many nations have asked why not enough housing is being built or when it is built why it isn t of the highest quality or in the best most sustainable locations Politics Planning and Housing Supply in Australia England and Hong Kong examines the politics and planning of new homes in three very different settings but with shared political traditions in Australia in England and in Hong Kong It investigates the power relationships and politics that underpin the allocation of land for large scale residential schemes and the processes and politics that lead to particular development outcomes Using a comparative framework it asks how different systems of urban governance and planning mediate the supply of land for housing whether and how these system differences influence the location quantity and price of residential land and the implications for housing outcomes what can be learned from these different systems for allocating land building consensus between different stakeholders and delivering a steady supply of high quality and well located homes accessible to and appropriate for diverse housing needs This book frames each case study in a comprehensive examination of national and territorial frameworks before dissecting key local cases These local cases urban renewal and greenfield growth centres in Australia new towns and strategic sites in England and major development schemes in Hong Kong explore how broader urban planning and housing policy goals play out at the local level While the book highlights a number of potential strategies for improving planning and housing delivery processes the real challenge is to give voice to a broader array of interests reconstituting the political process surrounding planning and housing development to prioritise homes in well planned places for the many rather than simply facilitating investment opportunities for the few

Survival: Global Politics and Strategy June-July 2020 0 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS),2023-04-14 Survival the IISS s bimonthly journal challenges conventional wisdom and brings fresh often controversial perspectives on strategic issues of the moment In this issue Fran ois Heisbourg argues that the COVID 19 pandemic has reinforced the power of the state in its traditional role as protector of society from outside threats Lawrence Freedman assesses that the UK misjudged the speed and severity of the pandemic but ultimately followed the science Gigi Kwik Gronvall describes the extraordinary global mobilisation of the scientific community as a source of hope amid the pandemic Mark Fitzpatrick warns that US sanctions against Iran not only damage America s reputation but also violate its moral duty to prevent further deaths of Iranians from COVID 19 And eight more thought provoking pieces as well as our regular book reviews and noteworthy column

Advertising and Cultural Politics in Global Times Pamela Odih, 2016-03-03

Advertising and Cultural Politics in Global Times traces daringly transgressive convergences between cultural politics and global advertising media It engages with a range of interpolations between cultural politics and advertising technologies including the governmental rationality of neoliberal vistas transgressive aesthetics and the cultural politics of representation the political sign economy of citizen branding techno political convergences between the social and political and the marking of a new exciting geo political terrain for cultural politics in global times Tracing global advertising practices to the cultural politics commonly manifested in the postmodern political caesura of advertising this book makes use of extensive case studies whilst drawing on the work of Baudrillard Giroux Foucault Castells and Latour to illustrate the manner in which advertising continues to revolutionize the political sphere As such it will be of interest to a range of readers across media studies cultural studies and sociology

Changing Contexts in Spatial Planning Janice Morphet, 2018-12-07

This book considers the major forces that have emerged to reshape planning following 2010 including national infrastructure project delivery the Localism Act 2011 and neighbourhood planning This period also saw the introduction of the replacement of regional plans by new strategic sub regional approaches in combined local authorities for functional economic areas All of this is set within the UN's New Urban Agenda Brexit the changing programme for the EU post 2021 and the likely effects that these will have on UK planning practice There is also a discussion on the evolving planning policies in Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland and the ways in which the UK nations are beginning to work together more closely and with Ireland Jersey Guernsey and the Isle of Man through the spatial planning group in the British Irish Council Although primarily focused on the UK the text sets some of the policy discussions in a wider international context including agreements on the environment and the emerging alignment of governance and economies in newly recognised sub regional spaces It follows Effective Practice in Spatial Planning 2011 which addressed the developments in planning in the UK between 2004 and 2010 and discusses the major changes in all aspects of planning policy in the following period

Embedding sustainable development across Government, after the Secretary of State's announcement on the future of the Sustainable Development Commission Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environmental Audit Committee, 2011-01-10

Funding of the Sustainable Development Commission SDC will cease at the end of March 2011 and Defra's capability and presence to improve the sustainability of Government will be increased. Whilst regretting the Government's decision to stop funding the SDC, the Committee sees an opportunity to reassess and revitalise the architecture for delivering sustainable development. The experience of SDC's work within Government departments to improve their sustainability skills and performance is at risk of being lost, so the Government must ensure that this knowledge and expertise is absorbed by departments. Sustainable development needs to be driven from the centre of Government by a Minister and department with Whitehall-wide influence. They must be capable of holding all departments to account for their sustainable development performance. The Committee does not think Defra is best placed to lead this drive and recommends that the Cabinet Office assume this role. And the Treasury could use its position to continue to develop sustainability reporting by departments, strengthen the system of impact assessments and the Green Book investment appraisal methodology for policy making and embed the results of the Government Economic Service review of the economics of sustainability and environmental valuation into those impact assessments and appraisals. Greater political leadership from the top should be brought to bear. The Government must introduce a full set of indicators to measure sustainable development that can be used to develop policy and must provide a new strategic underpinning for its commitment to sustainable development as an overarching goal of Government policy making.

Strategic Management in the Public Sector Paul Joyce, 2015-02-11 Strategic management is widely seen as essential to the public services leading to better performance and better outcomes for the public. In fact, the private sector idea of strategic management has become so powerful in the public sector that politicians and policy makers have begun to talk about the importance of the modern state being strategic and we may be witnessing the emergence of the Strategic State. Strategic Management for the Public Sector draws on experience and research from a range of countries and provides a theoretical understanding of strategic management that is grounded in the public sector. Drawing on the latest theory and research, this text provides a fresh look at foresight analysis, strategic choice, implementation and evaluation. This book also offers original and detailed case studies based on up-to-date evidence from different public sector settings, helping the reader to build on their understanding of theories and concepts presented earlier in the book. Strategic Management for the Public Sector has been written specially for managers and students taking postgraduate courses such as MBAs and MPAs. It will also appeal to individual managers and civil servants in the public sector looking for an accessible book to read as part of their own independent personal development.
