Politics Of Belonging Political Change In Sabah And Sarawak:

The Politics of Belonging Margaret Clark Roff,1974 Property and Politics in Sabah, Malaysia Amity A.

Doolittle,2011-11-15 In 1990 shortly after a Malaysian politician announced that the boundaries of Kinabalu Park a primary tourist destination were to be expanded to include the species rich tropical forest known locally as Bukit Hempuen most of the area was burned to the ground allegedly by local people What would motivate the people who had for generations hunted and gathered forest products there to act so destructively In this volume Amity Doolittle illuminates this and other contemporary land use issues by examining how resources were used historically in Sabah from 1881 to 1996 and what customary rights of access to land and resources were enjoyed by local people Drawing upon anthropology political science environmental history and political ecology she looks at how control over and access to resources have been defined negotiated and contested by colonial state agents the postcolonial Malaysian state and local people The study is grounded in methodological and theoretical advances in the field of political ecology merging the traditions of human ecology and political economy and looking at environmental conflicts in terms of the particulars of place culture and history Doolittle assumes that environmental problems have causes that are complex and changing and that solutions must be specific to time and place Using a political ecology perspective allows her to focus on the root causes of environmental degradation exposing the underlying political economic and social forces at work The challenge in the twenty first century she writes is to move beyond blaming local people for resource degradation and to find ways to achieve equitable access to natural resources and more sustainable land use practices Property and Politics in Sabah Malaysia has great relevance to development studies political ecology environmental planning anthropology and legal studies in natural resource management Asian Forms of the Nation Stein Tonnesson,Hans Antlov,2013-10-23 The general tendency among theorists in nationalism and national identity has been to assume that the modernization process in Asia and Africa is a kind of distorted reflection of a Western precedent Asian forms of the nation have rarely been seen as independent alternative models Among today s leading theoreticians there is a growing tendency to take Asia seriously and to include Asian examples in the general discussion The aim of the present collection is to build on and reinforce this tendency It does not postulate any specifically Asian form of the nation as opposed to a Western one Rather it seeks to demonstrate that in Asia as well as in Europe each nation forms a unique amalgam which can be compared fruitfully with others History culture and geography have posed various kinds of limits to what can be imagined as Benedict Anderson puts it The relationship between geographical space and national construction is explored in depth here Identity Politics and Elections in Malaysia and Indonesia Karolina

Prasad,2015-12-14 In recent social research ethnicity has mostly been used as an explanatory variable It was only after it was agreed that ethnicity in itself is subject to change were the questions of how and why it changes possible to answer This multiplicity of ethnic identities requires that we think of each society as one with multiple ethnic dimensions of which any can become activated in the process of political competition and sometimes several of them within a short period of time Focusing on Malaysia and Indonesia this book traces the variations of ethnic identity by looking at electoral strategies in two sub national units It shows that ethnic identities are subject to change induced by calculated moves by political entrepreneurs who use identities as tools to maximize their chances of winning elections or expanding support base and highlights how political institutions play an enormous role in shaping the modes and dynamics of these ethno political manipulations The book suggests that in societies where ethnic identities are activated in politics instead of analysing politics with ethnic distribution as an independent variable ethnic distribution can be taken as the dependent variable with political institutions being the explanatory one It examines the problems of voters behaviour and parties and candidates strategy in a polity that is to a significant extent driven by ethnic relations Pushing the boundaries of qualitative research on Southeast Asian politics by placing formal institutions at the centre of its analysis this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asian Politics Race and Ethnic Studies and International Relations

Malaysian Politics Under Mahathir Diane K. Mauzy,R. S. Milne,2002-01-22 A hard hitting and readable book which examines Mahathir s character his ideas and policies and relates them to the social economic and political setting inside Malaysia Up until recently high rates of economic growth and a striking reduction in poverty have been the hallmarks of this vibrant Tiger economy Mahathir s success has now been placed in jeopardy by the recent economic crisis and his rule is coming under hostile scrutiny As one of the most controversial political figures in South east Asia Mahathir s success at managing ethnic tensions policies of industrialization modernization and foreign policy are explored as are his grandiose projects his human rights record and approach to corruption Milne and Mauzy leading authors in this field assess Mahathir s rule within this context as well as the abrupt dismissal from office arrest and trial of Anwar Ibrahim Mahathir s deputy in late 1998

Economic Change in East Malaysia A. Kaur,2016-01-12 An authoritative economic history of Sabah and Sarawak since the 19th century emphasising their distinctive colonial history and the attempts to modernise them since they became part of Malaysia in 1963 They remain dependent on the production and export of a relatively small range of primary products The considerable scrutiny from environmentalists and international and local pressure groups of timber exports in particular is examined The book s examination of economic strategy in these states since the 1880s demonstrates that the roots of the problems in the 1980s lay in policies formulated in the wider context of capitalist economic growth

Comparative Politics: The politics of Asia Howard J. Wiarda,2005 A History of Malaysia Barbara Watson Andaya,Leonard Y. Andaya,2017-09-16 First published in 1982 this text is widely regarded as a leading general history of the country This new and revised edition brings the story of this fascinating country up to date incorporating the latest scholarship on every period of Malaysian history including recent research into pre modern times This text thus provides a historical framework that helps explain the roots of the issues dominating Malaysian life today and the difficulties of creating a multicultural state where resources are equitably shared and the rights of all citizens are acknowledged This book is a key text for courses on Southeast Asian history and politics Covering a range of disciplinary subjects in the humanities and social sciences it is also useful for anyone interested in the assessment of young modernizing nations New to this Edition A new chapter provides insights into Malaysian history of the last 15 years including the growing influence of the internet and social media in the political sphere Greater attention is paid to the strengthening of civil society movements that have arisen in light of perceived government failures Fresh analysis of Islam's historical role in the Malay world and how it links with the growing Islamization of Malaysia today

Domination and Contestation Faisal S. Hazis, 2012 This book makes an important contribution to understanding the ongoing political evolution of politics in Sarawak It also provides a case study of the engagement of a dominant state with social forces in a multi ethnic society Prof Harold Crouch Emeritus Professor Department of Political Social Change School of International Political Strategic Studies Australian National University Taking off from Joel Migdal's notions of the strongman politician strong society weak state and the state in society the author discusses how the federal government accommodates Taib Mahmud's chief ministership over Sarawak and how his long tenure is anchored in winning political support from the Sarawak Muslim Bumiputera community An insightful book on contemporary Sarawak politics Prof Francis Loh Kok Wah School of Social Sciences Universiti Sains Malaysia This volume will go a long way in explaining why a single Melanau family has been able to dominate Sarawak politics for the past four decades Prof James Chin Head of School of Arts and Social Sciences Monash University Malaysia Campus Chinese Politics in Sarawak Ung-Ho Chin, 1996 This book explores how Sarawak's oldest political party has been able to change from a left wing anti Malaysia political entity into an establishment Barisan Nasional BN component party without losing the support of the Sarawak Chinese community The Politics of

Bangsa Malaysia: Nation-Building in a Multiethnic Society (UUM Press) Mohamed Mustafa Ishak, 2014-01-01 The politics of nation building has always been a central issue in Malaysia Whilst the country has been able to sustain a relatively stable politics since the 1969 tragedy and hence generate a rapid economic development at least until the 1997 Asian economic crisis and later in the post 2008 General Election the project of nation building remains a basic national agenda yet to be fully resolved The book explores the delicate process of nation building in Malaysia in the post 1970s especially in the context of the vision constructing the Bangsa Malaysia or a united Malaysian nation enshrined in Mahathir's Vision 2020 project which was introduced in 1991 It discusses the underlying socio political parameters that shape and influence the politics of nation building in the country and the construction of Bangsa Malaysia As such the book provides an alternative perspective in the analysis of ethnic relations and nation building in Malaysia thus broadens the understanding of Malaysian politics and society Timber Booms and Institutional Breakdown in Southeast Asia Michael L. Ross, 2001-01-08

Scholars have long studied how institutions emerge and become stable But why do institutions sometimes break down In this book Michael L Ross explores the breakdown of the institutions that govern natural resource exports in developing states He shows that these institutions often break down when states receive positive trade shocks unanticipated windfalls Drawing on the theory of rent seeking he suggests that these institutions succumb to a problem he calls rent seizing the predatory behavior of politicians who seek to supply rent to others and who purposefully dismantle institutions that restrain them Using case studies of timber booms in Indonesia Malaysia and the Philippines he shows how windfalls tend to trigger rent seizing activities that may have disastrous consequences for state institutions and for the government of natural resources More generally he shows how institutions can collapse when they have become endogenous to any rent seeking process

Politics in Sarawak, 1970-1976 Peter Searle, 1983 Southeast Asian Responses to Globalization Francis Loh Kok Wah, Joakim Öjendal, 2005 It is now apparent especially in the aftermath of the regional financial crisis of 1997 that globalization has been impacting upon the Southeast Asian economies and societies in new and harrowing ways a theme of many recent studies Inadvertently these studies of globalization have also highlighted that the 1980s and 1990s debate on democratization in the region which focused on the emergence of the middle classes the roles of new social movements NGOs and the changing relations between state and civil society might have been overly one dimensional This volume revisits the theme of democratization via the lenses of globalization understood economically politically and culturally Although globalization increasingly frames the processes of democracy and development nonetheless the governments and peoples of Southeast Asia have been able to determine the pace and character even the direction of these processes to a considerable extent This collection of essays by some distinguished senior scholars and other equally perceptive younger ones focuses on this globalization democratization nexus and shows empirically and analytically how governance is being restructured and democracy sometimes deepened in this new global era A historical review introduces the volume while an analytical assessment of the ten case studies concludes it Government and Society in Malaysia Harold Crouch, 2019-01-24 The Malaysian political system incorporates a mix of democratic and authoritarian characteristics In this comprehensive account Harold Crouch argues that while they may appear contradictory the responsive and the repressive features of the system combine in an integrated and coherent whole Consistently dominated by the Malay party UMNO which represents the largest ethnic group the Malaysian government requires the support of its Chinese Indian and East Malaysian minorities to retain control The need to appeal to a politically and ethnically divided electorate restrains the arbitrary exercise of power by the ruling coalition As a result the government responds to popular aspirations particularly since a split in the dominant Malay party in the 1980s Yet it also controls the electoral process ensuring victory in all national elections Communal social and economic factors have all contributed in rather ambiguous ways to shaping the Malaysian political system Communal tensions change in the class structure and the consequences of economic growth have generated pressures in both democratic and authoritarian directions The government has been remarkably stable despite sharp ethnic divisions and Crouch suggests it is unlikely to move swiftly toward full democracy in the near future Development

Success in Asia Pacific A.H. Somjee, 1995-08-07 Many new social and economic organizations are emerging in different parts of Asia Pacific which have skillfully adapted western capitalism to suit their own specific requirements They have also put to effective use their own social and cultural values to get the best economic results Japan used its heritage of associated living to overcome adversarial labour and management relations Singapore made use of Confucial emphasis on social discipline and respect for merit to build a meritocratic society Indonesia used its genius for eclecticism to build its own brand of social pragmatism and then used it for economic growth Thailand used the concept of merit in Theravada Buddhism to accelerate economic growth and Malaysia used its own growing pragmatism to balance conflicting ethnic demands The book examines the variety of address their respective core development issues and simultaneously register an explosive economic growth

Malay Political Leadership Tony Shome, 2004-08-02 This book demonstrates how particular values and notions of leadership which underpinned traditional Malay leadership have played a crucial role in the political evolution of the modern Malaysian nation The author discusses the nature of Malay notions of leadership and considers this throughout the Malay world at the local as well as at the national level and goes on to describe and analyse leadership from pre independence leadership in the colonial period through the rule of Malaysia's four prime ministers He draws on anthropology psychology and political and economic history to show how Malay leaders have kept within the established track of the Malay value system responding in particular to the expectation of their people to provide a sense of national identity and unity against the complex background of the Malaysian mosaic while addressing the needs of the wider multi ethnic community Throughout the evolutionary development of Malay leadership symbolisms for the perpetuation of leadership veneration persisted in its institutions and in the sublime power of the sultans The Malay case offers one of the most remarkable studies of leadership in its attempt to maintain indigenous primacy in a large multi racial environment subscribing to western democracy for its governance while retaining conservative Islamic values This book is a significant contribution to the understanding of the evolution of leadership It begins with an explanation of the early Malay World belief system and progresses to the period of colonization and nationalism It then follows through the dynamics of modern politics encapsulating the biographical profiles of all Malaysia's Prime Ministers Tunku Razak Hussein and Mahathir in three aspects national unity the economy and foreign affairs The analysis of Mahathir's leadership extends into the new millennium This is the only book with biographical profiles of all of Malaysia's Prime Ministers This book will be of interest to students academics politicians foreign affairs specialists and any reader interested in leadership studies and about Malaysia's political and economic history

Bangsa and Umma Hiroyuki Yamamoto, 2011 Having experienced a large scale reorganization of social order over the past decade people of the Malay world have struggled to position themselves They have been classified and have classified themselves with categories as bangsa nation ethnic group and umma Islamic network In connection with these key concepts this study explores a variety of dimensions of these and other people grouping classifications which also include Malayu Jawi and Paranakan The book examines how these categories played a significant part in the colonial and post colonial periods in areas ranging from Malaysia Indonesia and the Philippines It demonstrates the extent to which shifting social conditions interact with the contours of group identity This is a collaborative work by scholars based in the US Japan Malaysia and Australia Understanding the genealogy of people grouping concepts provides valuable insight into the mechanics of power relations and how the agency of cultural identification constructs the continuity and the contentious in the political world Pacific Affairs Vol 85 No 4 December 2012 The Malay World of Southeast Asia Patricia Lim Pui Huen,1986 Over 5 000 entries arranged in four parts Part I comprises reference and general works to provide a guide to information on Southeast Asia Part II provides the setting of space and time Part III features the people and Part IV the many facets of culture and society language ideas beliefs values institutions creative expression and social and cultural change Within each section the arrangement is geographical beginning with Southeast Asia as a whole followed by the various countries in alphabetical order From British to Bumiputera Rule Shamsul A B,1986 Based on two years of intensive fieldwork this detailed community study breaks new ground Combining anthropological and historical disciplines it deals with village politics amongst rural Malays growing oil palm and rubber This study traces the continuing influence of the colonial and post colonial state policies on contemporary rural development It shows that village political cleavages are not just the result of modern electoral practices introduced after World War II but are responses to politico economic events at the national and even international levels It examines not only inter party rivalry between the United Malays National Organization UMNO and Parti Islam SeMalaysia PAS but also the intra party politics of both organizations at the local level
