International Politics of HIV/AIDS Hakan Seckinelgin, 2007-08-07 This book examines the global governance of the HIV AIDS epidemic interrogating the role of this international system and global discourse on HIV AIDS interventions The geographical focus is Sub Saharan Africa since the region has been at the forefront of these interventions There is a need to understand the relationship between the international political environment and the impact of resulting policies on HIV AIDS in the context of people s lives Hakan Seckinelgin points out a certain disjuncture between this governance structures and the way people experience the disease in their everyday lives Although the structure allows people to emerge as policy relevant target groups and beneficiaries the articulation of needs and design of policy interventions tends to reflect international priorities rather than people s thinking on the problem In other words he argues that while the international interventions highlight the importance attributed to the HIV AIDS problem the nature of the system does not allow interventions to be far reaching and sustainable Offering a critical contribution to the understanding of the problems in HIV AIDS in Sub Saharan Africa International Politics of HIV AIDS will be invaluable to students and researchers of health international politics and development

Localizing Governance in India Bidyut Chakrabarty, 2017-02-17 Participatory governance has a long history in India and this book traces historical intellectual trajectories of participatory governance and how older Western discourses have influenced Indian policymakers While colonial rulers devolved power to accommodate dissenting voices for independent India participatory governance was a design for democratizing governance in its true sense Participation also acted as a vehicle for localizing governance The author draws on both Western and non Western theoretical treatises and the book seeks to conceptualize localizing governance also as a contextual response It also makes the argument that despite being located in different socio economic and political milieu thinkers converge to appreciate localizing governance as perhaps the only reliable means to democratize governance The book aims to confirm this argument by reference to sets of evidence from the Indian experience of localizing governance By attempting a genealogy of participatory governance in the West and in India and an empirical study of participatory governance in India the book sheds light on the exchange of ideas and concepts through space and time thus adding to the growing body of literature in the social sciences on conceptual flow It will be of interest to political scientists and historians in particularly those studying South Asia

Islamabad and the Politics of International Development in Pakistan Markus Daechsel, 2015-03-19 This is a highly original account of the design and development of Pakistan s capital city one of the most iconic and ambitious urban reconstruction projects of the twentieth century Balancing archival research with fresh theoretical insights Markus Daechsel surveys the successes and failures of Greek urbanist Constantinos A Doxiadis s most ambitious endeavour Islamabad analysing how the project not only changed the international order but the way in which the Pakistani state operated in the 1950s and 1960s In dissecting Doxiadis's fraught encounter with Pakistani policy makers bureaucrats and ordinary citizens the book offers an unprecedented account of Islamabad's place in post war international development Daechsel provides new insights into this period and explores the history of development as a charged transnational venture between foreign consultants and donors on the one side and the postcolonial nation state on the other

Politics and Resistance of Coal in Australia and India Ruchira Talukdar, 2025-01-31 Since 2009 international climate activism has focused on stopping coalmining in solidarity with local and Indigenous struggles that are resisting coalmining Based on ethnographic and historic research in Australia and India this book compares the politics and resistance to coal in the two countries particularly focusing on the time period between 2009 and 2018 and the case of the Carmichael coalmine in Queensland and the Mahan coalmine in central India This book shows differences and similarities in the political economy of coal and creates understanding about the significantly different imperatives and narratives of anti coal environmentalism in Australia and India Through the Stop Adani movement and its collaboration with the Wangan and Jagalingou Traditional Owners and farmers against coalmining in Queensland and Greenpeace and forest based communities resisting coalmining in Madhya Pradesh Ruchira Talukdar not only explores anti coal movement dynamics but also how these movements grapple with the violation of Indigenous land rights through coal extraction in both places Drawing on differences and patterns in Australian and Indian anti coal activisms this book proposes a global outlook an intersectional framework beyond the singularity of stopping coal that can encapsulate visions for secure futures of communities on the frontlines of fossil fuel struggles for climate activism The conclusions help to decolonize climate activism as well as make it cognizant of global North South contextual differences for effective solidarity The author's unique vantage point through experience in environmental activism over 20 years across Australia and India combined with research in both countries makes this book a crucial resource for scholars and practitioners in just transition climate politics and environmental activism across the global North and South

Islam and Competing Nationalisms in the Middle East, 1876-1926 Kamal Soleimani, 2016-06-15 Opposing a binary perspective that consolidates ethnicity religion and nationalism into separate spheres this book demonstrates that neither nationalism nor religion can be studied in isolation in the Middle East Religious interpretation like other systems of meaning production is affected by its historical and political contexts and the processes of interpretation and religious translation bleed into the institutional discourses and processes of nation building This book calls into question the foundational epistemologies of the nation state by centering on the pivotal and intimate role Islam played in the emergence of the nation state showing the entanglements and reciprocities of nationalism and religious thought as they played out in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century Middle East

Muslim Civil Society and the Politics of Religious Freedom in Turkey Jeremy F. Walton, 2017 In contemporary Turkey a plethora of Muslim NGOs spanning the sectarian divide between Sunni and Alevi Muslims has called into question statist sovereignty over Islam Muslim Civil Society and the Politics of Religious Freedom in Turkey is an ethnographic study of these institutions and their distinctive nongovernmental politics of religious freedom Policing and the Politics of Order-Making Peter Albrecht, Helene Maria Kyed, 2014-10-30 This anthology explores the political nature of making order through policing activities in densely populated spaces across Africa Asia and Latin America Based on ethnographic research the chapters analyze this complex with respect to marginalized young men in Haiti community policing members and national politicians in Swaziland as well as other individual and collective actors engaged in policing and politics in Indonesia Swaziland Ghana South Africa Mexico Bolivia Haiti and Sierra Leone What these contexts have in common is a plurality of order making practices Not one institution monopolizes the means of violence or a de facto sovereign position to do so A number of interests are played out simultaneously entailing re negotiations over the very definition of what order is How and by whom a particular order is enforced is contested at times violently so and is therefore inherently political In the existing literature on weak states legal pluralism and policing in the Global South it is seldom made explicit that making order is a route to power and positions of political decision making It is this gap in the literature that this anthology fills as it analyses the politics at stake in processes of order making Public Goods versus Economic Interests

Freia Anders, Alexander Sedlmaier, 2016-07-15 Squatting is currently a global phenomenon A concomitant of economic development and social conflict squatting attracts public attention because implicitly or explicitly it questions property relations from the perspective of the basic human need for shelter So far neglected by historical inquiry squatters have played an important role in the history of urban development and social movements not least by contributing to change in concepts of property and the distribution and utilization of urban space An interdisciplinary circle of authors demonstrates how squatters have articulated their demands for participation in the housing market and public space in a whole range of contexts and how this has brought them into conflict and or cooperation with the authorities The volume examines housing struggles and the occupation of buildings in the Global North but it is equally concerned with land acquisition and informal settlements in the Global South In the context of the former squatting tends to be conceived as social practice and collective protest whereas self help strategies of the marginalized are more commonly associated with the southern hemisphere This volume's historical perspective however helps to overcome the north south dualism in research on squatting Media and Utopia

Arvind Rajagopal, Anupama Rao, 2017-07-05 Collective political projects have become ephemeral and are subject to radical forms of erasure through cooptation division redefinition or intimidation in present times Media and Utopia responds to the resulting crisis of the social by investigating the links between mediation and political imagination This volume addresses those utopian spaces historically constituted through media and analyses the conditions that made them possible Individual essays deal with non Western histories of technopolitics through distinctive perspectives on how to conceive the relationship between social form everyday life and utopian possibility and by examining a range of media formats and genres from print sound and film to new media With contributions from major scholars in the field this book will be of interest to researchers and scholars of media studies culture studies sociology modern South Asian history and politics

The Politics of Decolonial Investigations Walter D. Mignolo, 2021-07-09 In The Politics of Decolonial Investigations Walter D Mignolo provides a sweeping examination of how coloniality has operated around the world in its myriad forms from the sixteenth century to the twenty first Decolonial border thinking allows Mignolo to outline how the combination of the self fashioned narratives of Western civilization and the hegemony of Eurocentric thought served to eradicate all knowledges in non European languages and praxes of living and being Mignolo also traces the geopolitical origins of racialized and gendered classifications modernity globalization and cosmopolitanism placing them all within the framework of coloniality Drawing on the work of theorists and decolonial practitioners from the Global South and the Global East Mignolo shows how coloniality has provoked the emergence of decolonial politics initiated by delinking from all forms of Western knowledge and subjectivities The urgent task Mignolo stresses is the epistemic reconstitution of categories of thought and praxes of living destituted in the very process of building Western civilization and the idea of modernity The overcoming of the long lasting hegemony of the West and its distorted legacies is already underway in all areas of human existence Mignolo underscores the relevance of the politics of decolonial investigations in and outside the academy to liberate ourselves from canonized knowledge ways of knowing and praxes of living

Delivery as Dispossession Zachary Levenson, 2022-04-08 A sweeping historical and political analysis with detailed ethnographic fieldwork of the politics of everyday life in postcolonial Africa In post apartheid South Africa nearly a fifth of the urban population lives in shacks Unable to wait any longer for government housing people occupy land typically seeking to fly under the state s radar Yet in most cases occupiers wind up in dialogue with the state In Delivery as Dispossession Zachary Levenson follows this journey from avoidance to incorporation explaining how the post apartheid Constitution shifts squatters struggles onto the judicial register Providing a comparative ethnographic account of two land occupations in Cape Town and highlighting occupiers struggles Levenson further demonstrates why it is that housing officials seek the eviction of all new occupations they view these unsanctioned settlements as a threat to the order they believe is required for delivery Yet in evicting occupiers he argues they reproduce the problem anew with subsequent rounds of land occupation as the inevitable consequence Offering a unique framework for thinking about local states this book proposes a novel theory of the state that will change the way ethnographers think about politics

Politics of the 'Other' in India and China Lion Koenig, Bidisha Chaudhuri, 2016-02-22 The social sciences have been heavily influenced by modernization theory focusing on issues of economic growth political development and social change in order to develop a predictive model of linear progress for developing countries following a Western prototype Under this hegemonic paradigm of development the world tends to get divided into simplistic binary oppositions between the West and the rest us and them and self and other Proposing to shift the discussion on what constitutes the Other as opposed to the Self from philosophy and cultural studies to the social sciences this book explores how the structural asymmetries existing between Western discourses and the realities of the non Western world manifest themselves in the ideas institutions and socio political practices of India and China and in how far they shape the social scientist s understanding of their discipline in general It provides a counter narrative by revealing the relativity of geographies and by showing that the conventional presentation of core elements of the Asian socio political set up as aberrations from the Western models fails to acknowledge their inherent strategic character of adapting Western concepts to meet local requirements Drawing on multiple disciplines concepts and contexts in India and China the book makes a valuable contribution to the theory and practice of politics as well as to International and Asian Studies Housing and Politics in Urban India Swetha Rao Dhananka,2020-12-03 Providing adequate housing in an increasingly urbanised world is a major challenge of current times This book puts together a compelling story based on fine grained analysis of housing processes as lived by slum dwellers and their voice bearers It situates the lived experience of claiming adequate housing within informal transactions and negotiations of patronage networks vis vis the formal institutional opportunities and closures of Indian democracy In doing so this research extends an innovative array of conceptual and methodological tools to grasp the context in which housing claims succeed and fail This book contributes by responding to critical areas of social movement scholarship and by displaying community engagements and tactical strategies to bring about transformative change to claim adequate housing and resist co opting forces for socially sustainable housing futures The Routledge Handbook of Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume I Nikolina Bobic,Farzaneh Haghighi,2022-10-28 For architecture and urban space to have relevance in the 21st Century we cannot merely reignite the approaches of thought and design that were operative in the last century This is despite or because of the nexus between politics and space often being theorized as a representation or by product of politics As a symbol or an effect the spatial dimension is depoliticized Consequently architecture and the urban are halted from fostering any systematic change as they are secondary to the event and therefore incapable of performing any political role This handbook explores how architecture and urban space can unsettle the unquestioned construct of the spatial politics of governing Considering both ongoing and unprecedented global problems from violence and urban warfare the refugee crisis borderization detention camps terrorist attacks to capitalist urbanization inequity social unrest and climate change this handbook provides a comprehensive and multidisciplinary research focused on the complex nexus of politics architecture and urban space Volume I starts by pointing out the need to explore the politics of spatialization to make sense of the operational nature of spatial oppression in contemporary times The operative and active political reading of space is disseminated through five thematics Violence and War Machines Security and Borders Race Identity and Ideology Spectacle and the Screen and Mapping Landscapes and Big Data This first volume of the handbook frames cutting edge contemporary debates and presents studies of actual theories and projects that address spatial politics This Handbook will be of interest to anyone seeking to meaningfully disrupt the reduction of space to an oppressive or neutral backdrop of political realities Chapters 1 and 23 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

The Oxford Handbook of Land Politics Saturnino M. Borrás, Jennifer C. Franco, 2025-08-29 The Oxford Handbook of Land Politics brings together key theoretical perspectives on the politics of land as well as strategic thematic studies on land and social life namely food politics climate change labor regimes nation states and citizenship and geopolitics The contributors to this volume address the basic but complex questions of who gets to have access to land why how what kind of land and how much where and for how long for what purposes and with what implications as to who wins and who loses These questions are grounded in social relations that are in turn rooted in class and other social group formations that are enacted within the inseparable spheres of state and society Fundamental to this collection is its treatment of land in the context of production and social reproduction where social reproduction is interpreted in a broad sense to include socio ecological socio cultural and socio political reproduction The definition of land used in this Handbook encompasses soil farmland grazing land home lots landscapes socio agroecological zones territory and homeland Individually and together the chapters show that making sense of the dynamics of global social life requires a fundamental understanding of the politics of land and a grasp of land politics requires a comprehension of broader social life For instance land politics plays a key role in causing climate change and at the same time it is centrally located in the competing solutions to the climate crisis Understanding climate change politics necessarily requires a deep grasp of land politics All contributing authors are critical of capitalism and of theories that justify and celebrate it While most contributions focus on dynamics of social change in and in relation to the rural world these are cast in the context of rural urban agriculture industry national global continuums The Handbook is organically embedded in several disciplines and fields of study political economy political ecology sociology political science economics anthropology legal studies development studies anthropology environmental studies and social movements It is a critical resource for scholars and students who seek to understand the complex interactions between these various disciplines and land politics

Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India Kenneth Bo Nielsen, 2018-02-22 Over the past decade India has witnessed a number of land wars that have centred crucially on the often forcible transfer of land from small farmers or indigenous groups to private companies Among these the land war that erupted in Singur West Bengal in 2006 went on to make national headlines and become paradigmatic of many of the challenges and social conflicts that arise when a state led policy of swiftly transferring land to private sector companies encounters resistance on the ground Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India analyses the movement by Singur's so called unwilling farmers to retain and reclaim their farmland By foregrounding the everyday politics of popular mobilization the book sheds new light on the movement's internal politics as well as on contentious issues rooted in everyday caste class and gender relations

Power in Action Steven Friedman, 2019-03-01 Argues that South Africans like everyone else need democracy for a more equal society What are democracies meant to do And how does one know when one is a democratic state These incisive questions and more by leading political scientist Steven Friedman underlie this robust enquiry into what democracy means for South Africa post 1994 Democracy is often viewed through a lens reflecting Western understanding New democracies are compared to idealized notions by which the system is said to operate in the global North The democracies of Western Europe and North America are understood to be the finished product and all others are assessed by how far they have progressed towards approximating this model Power in Action persuasively argues against this stereotype Friedman asserts that democracies can only work when every adult has an equal say in the public decisions that affect them Democracy is achieved not by adopting idealized models derived from other societies rather it is the product of collective action by citizens who claim the right to be heard not only through public protest action but also through the conscious exercise of influence on public and private power holders Viewing democracy in this way challenges us to develop a deeper understanding of democracy s challenges and in so doing to ensure that more citizens can claim a say over more decisions in society

Transport, Transgression and Politics in African Cities Daniel Agbibo, 2018-09-03 This collection of field based case studies examines the role and contributions of Africa s informal public transport also referred to as paratransit to the production of city forms and urban economies as well as the voices experiences and survival tactics of its poor and stigmatised workforce With attention to the question of what a micro level analysis of the organisation and politics of informal public transport in urbanizing Africa might tell us about the precarious existence and agency of its informal workforce it explores the political and socio economic conditions of contemporary African cities spanning from Nairobi and Dar es Salaam to Harare Cape Town Kinshasa and Lagos Mapping analysing and comparing the everyday experiences of informal transport operators across the continent this book sheds light on the multiple challenges facing Africa s informal transport workers today as they negotiate the contours of city life expand their horizons of possibility and make the most of their time It thus offers directions for more effective policy response to urban public transport which is changing fundamentally and rapidly in light of neoliberal urban planning strategies and World Class city ambitions
