Being Sure of Each Other Kimberley Brownlee, 2020-05-26 We are deeply social creatures Our core social needs for meaningful social inclusion are more important than our civil and political needs and our economic welfare needs and we won't secure those other things if our core social needs go unmet Our core social needs ground a human right against social deprivation as well as a human right to have the resources to sustain other people Kimberley Brownlee defends this fundamental but largely neglected human right having defined social deprivation as a persistent lack of minimally adequate access to decent human contact she then discusses situations such as solitary confinement and incidental isolation Fleshing out what it means to belong Brownlee considers why loneliness and weak social connections are not just moral tragedies but often injustices and argues that we endure social contribution injustice when we are denied the means to sustain others Our core social needs can clash with our interests in interactive and associative freedom and when they do social needs take priority We have a duty to ensure that everyone has the opportunity to satisfy their social needs As Brownlee asserts we violate this duty if we classify some people as inescapably socially threatening either through using reductive essentialist language that reduces people to certain acts or traits criminal rapist paedophile foreigner or in the ways we physically segregate such people and fail to help people to reintegrate after segregation The House at Pooh Corner A. In Re W.C., 1994 Marigold James Hersherberg, 2012-01-11 Marigold presents the first rigorously documented in depth story of one of the Vietnam War s last great mysteries the secret peace initiative codenamed Marigold that sought to end the war in 1966 The initiative failed the war dragged on for another seven years and this episode sank into history as an unresolved controversy Antiwar critics claimed President Johnson had bungled or worse deliberately sabotaged a breakthrough by bombing Hanoi on the eve of a planned secret U S North Vietnamese encounter in Poland Yet LBJ and top aides angrily insisted that Poland never had authority to arrange direct talks and Hanoi was not ready to negotiate This book uses new evidence from long hidden communist sources to show that in fact Poland was authorized by Hanoi to open direct contacts and that Hanoi had committed to entering talks with Washington It reveals LBJ s personal role in bombing Hanoi as he utterly disregarded the pleas of both the Polish and his own senior advisors The historical implications of missing this opportunity are immense Marigold might have ended the war years earlier saving thousands of lives and dramatically changed U S political history
