Pool Simplified, Somewhat George Fels, 2000-08-01 This little book by a master of the game is specially designed to introduce the fundamentals The abundantly illustrated and clearly written text describes the appropriate placement of hands feet and cue correct ways to aim and bank shots the basics of pocketing more 18 halftones 63 black and white line illustrations

Neurocytology Ennio Pannese, 2015-03-16 During the second half of the 20th century the introduction of a variety of new techniques greatly expanded our knowledge of the structure of nerve and neuroglial cells and of the organization of the nervous system at the cellular level This new information has however generally been scattered throughout the literature making it difficult for investigators to gain an overall vision of the discipline The author has marshalled these scattered data to provide a systematic overview of the field placed within a historical context He has correlated the major new findings with the classical notions of light microscopy and has integrated them with elements of biochemistry and cell physiology After the publication of the first edition the introduction of new microscopies and especially the growth of molecular biology have greatly expanded our knowledge in particular on the intercellular communication in the nervous system and on the roles of neuroglial cells These achievements have made a second edition of the book necessary The fully revised and updated text together with unique high quality illustrations of structures of the central and peripheral nervous system ensure that this new edition will be invaluable for neuroscientists particularly those involved in cellular neuropathology neurochemistry neurophysiology and molecular neurobiology

The Age of the Bachelor Howard P. Chudacoff, 2020-12-08 In this engaging new book Howard Chudacoff describes a special and fascinating world the urban bachelor life that took shape in the late nineteenth century when a significant population of single men migrated to American cities Rejecting the restraints and dependence of the nineteenth century family bachelors found sustenance and camaraderie in the boarding houses saloons pool halls cafes clubs and other institutions that arose in response to their increasing numbers Richly illustrated anecdotal and including a unique analysis of The National Police Gazette the most outrageous and popular men's publication of the late nineteenth and the early twentieth century this book is the first to describe a complex subculture that continues to affect the larger meanings of manhood and manliness in American society The figure of the bachelor with its emphasis on pleasure self indulgence and public entertainment was easily converted by the burgeoning consumer culture at the turn of the century into an ambiguously appealing image of masculinity Finding an easy reception in an atmosphere of insecurity about manhood that image has outdistanced the circumstances in which it began to flourish and far outlasted the bachelor culture that produced it Thus the idea of the bachelor has retained its somewhat negative but alluring connotations throughout the rest of the twentieth century Chudacoff's concluding chapter discusses the contemporary singles scene now developing as the number of single people in urban centers is again increasing By seeing bachelorhood as a stage in life for many and a permanent status for some Chudacoff recalls a lifestyle that had a profound impact on society evoking fear disdain repugnance and at the same time a sense of romance excitement and freedom The book contributes to gender history family history urban history and the study of consumer culture and will appeal to anyone curious about American history and anxious to acquire a new view of a sometimes forgotten but still influential aspect of our national past Hearings United States. M. Phillips,1991-02-22 The formation of ore deposits and the patterns of mineral alteration in rocks frequently involves the transport of large amounts of dissolved solids sometimes transiently but often over long periods of time Knowing or suspecting this we logically seek to resolve several questions What are the large and small scale patterns of flow in geological materials What is the direction and rate of flow in a given structure What factors control the rates of chemical reaction within the rocks What governs the dissolution of materials in some regions and their deposition in other areas that over eons leads to the distribution of minerals we see today The search for answers to these issues involves a combination of approaches and subjects that includes geochemistry structural geology and fluid mechanics In Flow and Reactions in Permeable Rocks Dr Owen Phillips provides the first book length work that connects these different fields of study and applies them to the problem of flow and flow controlled reaction in rocks The author begins by specifying the general physical and chemical principles that govern fluid flow and chemical reactions in rocks He then develops the theoretical underpinnings for a variety of different patterns of flow and for the three basic types of flow controlled reaction fronts gradient reactions and reactions in mixing zones In the next chapter he explores some conditions for stability and instability in fluid flow for instance the conditions under which one state of flow pattern spontaneously evolves into another Finally Dr Phillips describes in detail the two great driving forces of large scale fluid circulation in rocks pressure differences and thermal convection Typical geological examples are given and wherever possible compared to numerical results or field observations The analytical developments require some familiarity with college level mathematics but derivations are easy to follow or may even be skipped by the trusting reader Financial Cryptography and Data Security Jens Grossklags,Bart Preneel,2017-05-17 This book constitutes the thoroughly refereed post conference proceedings of the 20th International Conference on Financial Cryptography and Data Security FC 2016 held in Christ church Barbados in February 2016 The 27 revised full papers and 9 short papers were carefully selected and reviewed from 137 full papers submissions The papers are grouped in the following topical sections fraud and deception payments auctions and e voting multiparty computation mobile malware social interaction and policy cryptanalysis
