Prenatal Care Institute of Medicine, Division of Health Promotion and Disease Prevention, Committee to Study Outreach for Prenatal Care, 1988-02-01 Prenatal care programs have proven effective in improving birth outcomes and preventing low birthweight Yet over one fourth of all pregnant women in the United States do not begin prenatal care in the first 3 months of pregnancy and for some groups such as black teenagers participation in prenatal care is declining To find out why the authors studied 30 prenatal care programs and analyzed surveys of mothers who did not seek prenatal care This new book reports their findings and offers specific recommendations for improving the nation s maternity system and increasing the use of prenatal care programs Generating Innovative Strategies for Healthy Infants and Children United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Children, Youth, and Families, 1991 In this report of a hearing on infants and children s health two factsheets present information on the lack of recent progress in reducing infant mortality rates the accessibility of prenatal care low birthweight nutrition inadequate child health care health risks for low income children the lack of adequate health insurance the health care provider shortage inflexibilities of the medical system the limits of technology in addressing the issue of infant mortality the relationship of maternal behaviors and characteristics such as drug use and marital status to infant mortality and the need for services that remove unnecessary bureaucracy from the health care system Statements were made by nine representatives and by Senator Bill Bradley Statements or other materials were presented by six other individuals representing organizations or government agencies Topics included those covered in the factsheets and one stop shopping for health care services an outbreak of measles and Bush administration initiatives to address the problem of providing child health care BC Public Health Reports ,1992 Health Services Reports ,1992 Family Planning Amendments of 1989 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Human Resources, 1989 From Neurons to Neighborhoods National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on Integrating the Science of Early Childhood Development, 2000-11-13 How we raise young children is one of today s most highly personalized and sharply politicized issues in part because each of us can claim some level of expertise The debate has intensified as discoveries about our development in the womb and in the first months and years have reached the popular media How can we use our burgeoning knowledge to assure the well being of all young children for their own sake as well as for the sake of our nation Drawing from new findings this book presents important conclusions about nature versus nurture the impact of being born into a working family the effect of politics on programs for children the costs and benefits of intervention and other issues The committee issues a series of challenges to decision makers regarding the quality of child care issues of racial and ethnic diversity the integration of children s cognitive and emotional development and more Authoritative yet accessible From Neurons to Neighborhoods presents the evidence about brain wiring and how kids learn to speak think and regulate their behavior It examines the effect of the climate family child care
