Portnov, 2005-12-28 1 2 Daniel Felsenstein and Boris A Portnov 1 Department of Geography Hebrew University of Jerusalem Israel 2 Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Management University of Haifa Israel During the Candiot War of 1645 1669 the Ottoman Sultan Ibrahim I ordered his chief admiral to attack Malta Fearing imminent defeat by the superior Venetian forces stationed on the island the admiral decided to trick the sultan out of the idea As the story goes he placed a candle on his naval map allowing the wax to drip on the tiny island until it was completely covered Then he exclaimed in false surprise Malta Yok There is no Malta and convinced the sultan to sail his fleet to the Island of Crete instead Although Malta is not featured in this volume most of the countries it covers are of wax drip size Intuitively it may be expected that everything in small countries is diminutive distances population economies and even regional inequalities Thus at a symposium on The Challenge of Development convened in Israel in 1957 to mark the inauguration of a new building for the Department of Economics at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem the eminent US economist Simon Kuznets stated that developed small states seem to have succeeded in spreading the fruits of economic growth more widely among their populations than the larger states at comparable levels of income per capita

Europeanisation and new patterns of governance in Ireland Nicholas Rees, Bríd Quinn, Bernadette Connaughton, 2013-07-19 To what extent did Europeanisation contribute to Ireland's transformation from poor relation to peer idol This book examines how Europeanisation affected Irish policy making and implementation and how Ireland maximised the policy opportunities arising from membership of the EU while preserving embedded patterns of political behaviour It focuses on the complex interplay of European domestic and global factors as the explanation for the changing character of the Celtic Tiger The authors demonstrate that although Europeanisation spurred significant institutional and policy change domestic forces filtered those consequences while global factors induced further adaptation By identifying and assessing the adaptational pressures in a range of policy areas the book establishes that in tandem with the European dimension domestic features and global developments were key determinants of change and harbingers of new patterns of governance

Winning and Losing Doris Schmied, 2022-05-05 Instigated by technological and political change Europe's rural areas have undergone profound and all pervasive restructuring processes Although the impact of these processes has often been depicted negatively this is not always the case Bringing together a range of comparative case studies from France Finland Germany Greece Ireland Spain Sweden Portugal the UK and other countries this book provides a comprehensive and balanced picture of rural change over the past five decades It explores which aspects of the European countryside have benefited and which have suffered as a consequence of the often contradictory forces of restructuring The book looks into economic aspects as well as into the social impact of rural change The final part examines regional issues and illustrates how different rural areas have responded to the transformative pressures The European Union and China, 1949-2008

Francis Snyder, 2009-03-17 This book is a comprehensive reference book and commentary on basic documents about relations between the EU and the People's Republic of China from 1949 to the present. It contains all significant official and unofficial documents in English and Chinese about EU-China relations since the founding of the PRC in 1949. Since the opening up of China in 1979 and especially after the establishment of the EU in 1992, relations between the EU and China have developed apace. Today the EU and China are strategic partners with a very broad-based relationship extending far beyond trade to encompass a growing number of important economic, political, social and cultural domains. The relationship is certain to gain in importance with increasing globalisation, EU expansion, Chinese membership of the World Trade Organisation, WTO, the renewal and development of China and changes in the international trading system and international politics. This book provides an indispensable foundation for teaching, research, policy making and advising on EU-China relations. It includes both documents originally published in English and English translations of documents previously available only in Chinese, French or Portuguese. Essential to every library, it will also be required reading for students, teachers, researchers, policy makers, legal practitioners and government officials in the EU, China, the United States and elsewhere.

Young People in Rural Areas of Europe Birgit Jentsch, 2017-07-05 Despite an EU-wide commitment to rural development, research has rarely focused on the lives of young people in rural areas, their experiences in education and employment, their perceptions of policies relevant to them and their possibilities of participation. Based on a two-year European research project on policies and young people in rural development, this edited volume examines these issues and considers young people's experiences of rural life in Austria, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Portugal and Scotland. The volume is organized thematically, with each chapter addressing a specific topic in one or more countries. These topics comprise the attractiveness of rural areas to young people, the impact of programmes under the European Employment Guidelines, rural youth in local community development and partnerships, rural development programmes and their impact on youth integration, the role of social networks and the transition from education to employment. A number of implications for policy and practice are drawn out in conclusion. This book will be of interest to anyone concerned with the future of rural areas and with those who live in the European countryside.
