Reinventing Peacekeeping In Africa:

Reinventing Peacekeeping in Africa F. Olonisakin, 2021-07-26 The euphoric cries of a peaceful and more dynamic new world order which followed the end of the Cold War have been silenced by the increased intensity of local conflicts around the world. The humanitarian crises resulting from these conflicts have attracted greater international attention. Perhaps even more tragic is the failure of the international community to find early effective response to these conflicts which have profound security implications for the affected regions and have led to the collapse of state structures in some cases. The intra state conflicts in Africa alone have claimed over one million lives since 1990. On the international scene these internal conflicts have created new challenges for the UN whose efforts at dealing with them have produced mixed results whilst international policy makers the military and academics are faced with difficult questions. Can traditional peacekeeping be stretched to accommodate this class of conflict? What is the legal basis for these operations? Attempts to answer these questions at the conceptual level have led to the development of concepts such as second generation peacekeeping wider peacekeeping peace support operations and strategic peacekeeping. It has emerged that there is no common view on an effective and realistic set of tools to manage these crises. Perhaps the most significant point to arise from the differing conceptual views presently is that an effective approach and sound legal basis have not been found for dealing with recalcitrant internal conflicts in far away regions which are not high on the strategic considerations of the great powers. This book reconsiders the role of the UN and regional organisations such as ECOWAS in Africa. It examines the response to the civil war in Liberia which served as a precursor to the international response to the crisis in Sierra Leone. On the one hand this book offers an analysis of a new conceptual framework for managing a specific class of violent conflict. On the other hand it provides first hand account of the character of a force that attempted to apply this approach. In drawing some of its conclusions the book relies on the testimonies of many of the soldiers who formed the core of the military operations in these difficult conflict areas in West Africa.

ECOWAS and the Dynamics of Conflict and Peace-building Thomas Jaye,Dauda Garuba,Stella Amadi,2011 ECOWAS and the Dynamics of Conflict and Peace building testifies to the fact that we cannot talk of West African affairs more so of conflict and peace building without talking about ECOWAS For over two decades now West Africa has remained one of Africa s most conflict ridden regions It has been a theatre of some of the most atrocious brutalities in the modern world It has nonetheless witnessed one of the most ambitious internal efforts towards finding regional solutions to conflicts through ECOWAS The lead role of ECOMOG the ECOWAS peacekeeping force in search of peaceful solutions to civil wars in Liberia Sierra Leone Guinea Bissau and Cote d Ivoire has yielded a mix of successes and failures In this book the authors take a candid look at the role that ECOWAS has played and show how the sub regional organisation has stabilised and created new conditions conducive to nation building in a number of cases Conversely the book shows that ECOWAS has aggravated if not created new tensions in yet other cases The comparative advantage that ECOWAS has derived from these experiences is reflected in the various mechanisms protocols and conventions that are now in place to ensure a more comprehensive conflict prevention framework This book provides a nuanced analysis of the above issues and other dynamics of conflicts in the region It also interrogates the roles played by ECOWAS and various other actors in the context of the complex interplay between natural resource governance corruption demography and the youth bulge gender and the conflicting interests of national regional and international players

Supranational Institutions and Peacebuilding in Africa Redie Bereketeab, 2024-09-06 This book analyses the role of the African Union and regional economic communities in contributing to peacebuilding in Africa Big and small conflicts rage across the African continent and this book argues that the African Union and the five regional economic communities have the potential to greatly contribute to peace and peacebuilding In Africa Looking across the African Union and the five regional economic communities the AMU ECCAS ECOWAS IGAD and SADC the book considers in detail the organizations programmes engagement endeavours success and failure of activities of peacebuilding in their respective regions Overall the book argues that an institutionalised and formalised relationship between the African Union and the regional economic communities would not only be decisive for the prospects for peace in the region but would also serve to strengthen the continent's role on the global stage through asserting its agency owning its agenda and designing its own solutions and mechanisms for addressing problems Drawing together an international team of prominent experts this book will be of interest to researchers policymakers NGOs activists and regional and international actors working on African politics security governance and economics
