Brainwashing David Seed,2004 An examination of the literary and cinematic representations of brainwashing during the Cold War era CIA operative who was a tireless campaigner against communism it took hold quickly and became a means to articulate fears of totalitarian tendencies in American life David Seed traces the assimilation of the notion of brainwashing into science fiction political commentary and conspiracy narratives of the Cold War era He demonstrates how these works grew out of a context of political and socail events and how they express the anxieties of the time The Manchurian Candidate Seed provides new interpretations of writers such as Orwell and Burroughs within the history of psychological manipulation for political purposes using declassified and other documents to contextualise the material he explores the shifting view points of how brainwashing is represented changing from an external threat to American values to an internal threat against
