Interpersonal Violence Marita Husso, Tuija Virkki, Marianne Notko, Helena Hirvonen, Jari Eilola, 2016-11-25. From early modernity to today, society has encountered various forms of interpersonal violence. Through exploration of particular areas within Europe and Russia to Africa, America, and Asia, this collection presents both differences and connections among various forms of interpersonal violence in different times, places, institutional orders, and relationships. Interpersonal Violence introduces research results from studies in various disciplines such as history, sociology, social policy, social work, cultural studies, and gender studies. In focusing on the diverse and often ignored social locations and cultural backgrounds of interpersonal violence, the book demonstrates 1) how the specificity of temporality and spatiality affect the manifestation of violence, 2) how the dynamics of intersectional and institutional differences are located in social space and time, and 3) how the different forms of violence in different times are affectively, conceptually, and discursively connected. With its comprehensive and integrative approach, this book is a key tool book for understanding the phenomenon and cultural conceptions of interpersonal violence. It would be most suitable for upper-level undergraduates, graduates, and doctoral students interested in social sciences, history, criminology, psychology, cultural studies, education, gender studies, and public health. The Queen
