

I wish you knew

Hello, My name's Jess and I'm sick. "Oh, but you don't look sick". Really? "You look fine to me". These are just somethings I get day to day from pretty much everyone in my life and to be honest I'm getting a bit tired of it. I have to justify myself all the time just because I have an invisible illness. I look fine on the outside as I don't have any visual symptoms but on the inside I'm in so much pain that some days I just want to scream and shout, and not only is it bad enough having this type of illness but having to justify it to other people really sucks.

Virtually no one understands. My teachers just question me all the time, about why my homework isn't done and why I miss so much school. My friends are nice enough but I never get invited anywhere anymore because I either don't turn up because I'm sick or when I'm there I'm quiet and reserved because I'm in pain and sometimes my own family thinks I'm being over dramatic and putting it on.

But I wish they knew. I wish they could understand that sometimes just putting on a smile and being brave is hard enough or that sometimes walking around for half an hour makes me so tired that I can't concentrate. Then there's the pain... I wouldn't wish that on anyone. Tiny little things can trigger such a huge surge of pain, but I suffer in silence because if I screamed every time I was in pain my whole life would be one huge scream.

I don't want sympathy or to be the center of attention, I just wish people understood and accepted me. They wouldn't even need to say anything, just take my hand and be there... It can feel so lonely living with this pain, I wish they knew.

Reckoning with Restorative Justice Leanne Trapedo Sims,2023-09-18 In Reckoning with Restorative Justice Leanne Trapedo Sims explores the experiences of women who are incarcerated at the Women s Community Correctional Center the only women s prison in the state of Hawai i Adopting a decolonial and pro abolitionist lens she focuses particularly on women s participation in the Kailua Prison Writing Project and its accompanying Prison Monologues program Trapedo Sims argues that while the writing project served as a vital resource for the inside women it also remained deeply embedded within carceral logics at the institutional state and federal levels She foregrounds different aspects of these programs such as the classroom spaces and the dynamics that emerged between performers and audiences in the Prison Monologues Blending ethnography literary studies psychological analysis and criminal justice critique Trapedo Sims centers the often overlooked stories of incarcerated Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander women in Hawai i in ways that resound with the broader American narrative the disproportionate incarceration of people of color in the prison industrial complex Current Encyclopedia Samuel Fallows,Edmund Buckley,Shailer Mathews,1910 Love and Stuff Susan Pomerance,2004 Features 30 monologues aimed specifically at teenage girls Issues covered include relationships coming to terms with divorce need for affection over protective parents importance of family cosmetic surgery teenage sex alcohol loneliness self image Love Rides the Rails Morland Cary,1940-10 THE STORY The villianous Simon Darkway seeks to control the Walker Valley Pine Bush Pacific R R for his own vile purposes Assisting him are Dirk Sneath a viper of a man and Carlotta Cortez the sultry siren with a heart of gold Fortunately Radical State Abigail R. Esman,2010-05-20 This insightful on the ground narrative looks at how radical Islam is affecting our society and how our own response is endangering the very democratic values we have hoped to spread around the world and preserve at home In Radical State How Jihad Is Winning Over Democracy in the West author Abigail R Esman argues that in large measure it is actually jihad which has emerged victorious over democracy not only because of the actions of Muslim terrorists but because of our own response to extremist Islam in the West With the best of intentions Western European countries have permitted antidemocratic ultraconservative Islamic beliefs and traditions to flourish in their societies as they ve responded to the influx of Muslim immigrants to their shores largely as a result of the guest worker programs which began in the 1960s and 1970s across Europe But this multicultural approach has only backfired creating cultural wars in which even the most intolerant and undemocratic of belief systems and values have been permitted as governments have turned a blind eye to such atrocities as honor killings anti Semitism the spread of literature extolling violence and calls for the destruction of the democratic state Esman focuses her narrative on the Netherlands oft regarded as the most free stable and tolerant nation in the West the paragon of democracy and tolerance Using Holland as an example she demonstrates the collapse of democratic values that has occurred in other Western countries including America as we struggle against radical Islam In doing so she shows how the Western response to the threat of radicalization has at times gone to dangerous extremes counterbalancing the multiculturalists indulgence of radical Islam with the creation of restrictive nearly totalitarian laws and measures that are as destructive and toxic to our future to free thought free speech and equal rights Radical State uniquely articulates the dissolution of democratic values that have resulted from the actions of both left and right wing approaches to the problem More importantly the book strives to resolve the critical question of what went wrong because to set things right again requires understanding how it all broke apart and we must set it right or jihad s victory over democracy will be complete and sooner than we may realize
