The Memorial to the Missing of the Somme Gavin Stamp, 2010-08-06 Edwin Lutyens Memorial to the Missing of the Somme at Thiepval in Northern France visited annually by tens of thousands of tourists is arguably the finest structure erected by any British architect in the twentieth century It is the principal tangible expression of the defining event in Britain's experience and memory of the Great War the first day of the Battle of the Somme on 1 July 1916 and it bears the names of 73 000 soldiers whose bodies were never found at the end of that bloody and futile campaign This brilliant study by an acclaimed architectural historian tells the origin of the memorial in the context of commemorating the war dead it considers the giant classical brick arch in architectural terms and also explores its wider historical significance and its resonances today So much of the meaning of the twentieth century is concentrated here the Thiepval Memorial to the Missing casts a shadow into the future a shadow which extends beyond the dead of the Holocaust to the Gulag to the disappeared of South America and of Tianenmen Reissued in a beautiful and striking new edition for the centenary of the Somme

Guilhermina Suggia: Cellist Anita Mercier,2017-07-05 Born in 1885 in Porto Portugal to a middle class musical family Guilhermina Suggia began playing cello at the age of five A child prodigy she was already a seasoned performer when she won a scholarship to study with Julius Klengel in Leipzig at the age of sixteen Suggia lived in Paris with fellow cellist Pablo Casals for several years before World War I in a professional and personal partnership that was as stormy as it was unconventional When they separated Suggia moved to London where she built a spectacularly successful solo career Suggia s virtuosity and musicianship along with the magnificent style and stage presence famously captured in Augustus John s portrait made her one of the most sought after concert artists of her day In 1927 she married Dr Jos asimiro Carteadó Mena and settled down to a comfortable life divided between Portugal and England Throughout the 1930s Suggia remained one of the most respected musicians in Europe She partnered on stage with many famous instrumentalists and conductors and completed numerous BBC broadcasts The war years kept her at home in Portugal where she focused on teaching but she returned to England directly after the war and resumed performing When Suggia died in 1950 her will provided for the establishment of several scholarship funds for young cellists including England's prestigious Suggia Gift Mercier's study of Suggia's letters and other writings reveal an intelligent warm and generous character an artist who was enormously dedicated knowledgeable and self-disciplined Suggia was one of the first women to make a career of playing the cello at a time when prejudice against women playing this traditionally masculine instrument was still strong A role model for many other musicians she was herself a fearless pioneer

Architect's Drawings Kendra Schank Smith, 2006-08-11 The sketch is a window into the architect's mind As creative designers architects are interested in how other architects particularly successful ones think through the use of drawings to approach their work Historically designers have sought inspiration for their own work through an insight into the minds and workings of people they often regard as geniuses This collection of sketches aims to provide this insight Here for the first time a wide range of world famous architects sketches from the Renaissance to the present day can be seen in a single volume The sketches have been selected to represent the concepts or philosophies of the key movements in architecture in order to develop an overall picture of the role of the sketch in the development of architecture The book illustrates the work of designers as diverse as Andrea Palladio Erich Mendelsohn Sir Edwin Lutyens Gianlorenzo Bernini Le Corbusier Michelangelo Alvar Aalto Sir John Soane Francesco Borromini Walter Gropius and contemporary architects Tadao Ando Zaha Hadid and Frank Gehry to name but a few Each chronologically placed sketch is accompanied by text providing details about the architect's life a look at the sketch in context and the connection to specific buildings where appropriate Style media and meaning are also discussed developing an explanation of the architect's thinking and intentions As creative designers themselves architects are interested in how other architects particularly successful ones think and draw and approach their work Historically designers have sought inspiration for their own work through an insight into the minds and workings of people they often regard as geniuses This collection of sketches aims to provide this insight Listed chronologically each sketch will be accompanied by a text which provides A short synopsis history of the architect's life a look at the sketch in this context the connection to a specific building where appropriate techniques of the sketch style and media meaning what the sketch shows about the architect's thinking and intentions followed by a select bibliography for each section

Modernism, 1910-1945 Jane Goldman, 2017-04-29 This essential guide explores and celebrates the rise and development of modernist and avant-garde literatures and theories in the period 1910-1945 from Imagism to the Apocalypse movement Jane Goldman charts transitions in writing reading performing and publishing practices and in international groupings and regroupings of writers and artists and interrogates the term

Modernism which labels the era Goldman introduces students to the work of many canonical high modernist writers such as Ezra Pound T S Eliot W B Yeats James Joyce and Virginia Woolf and samples the work of other important modernist figures including Nathanael West John Rodker Aldous Huxley and the Harlem Renaissance poets Mistress Anthony Fletcher, Ruth M. Larsen, 2025-08-05 An insightful hugely engaging new history of elite women and the country house from the sixteenth to the twentieth century Grand houses can be found across the countryside of England and Wales From the Stuart and Georgian periods to the Edwardian and Victorian these buildings were once home to the aristocratic families of the nation But what was life like for the mistresses of these great houses How much power and influence did they really have Anthony Fletcher and Ruth M Larsen explore the lives of country house mistresses Focusing on eighteen women and spanning five centuries they look at the ways in which elite women not only shaped the house household and family but also had an impact on society culture and politics within their estates and beyond We meet Brilliana Harley who defended her castle at Brampton Bryan Frances Boscawen who oversaw the building of Hatchlands and Lady Mary Elcho who preserved her secret life as mistress to Arthur Balfour This is a fascinating account of the country house that puts women s experiences centre stage Reginald McKenna Martin Farr, 2004-04-30 Reginald McKenna has never been the subject of scholarly attention This was partly due to his own preference for appearing at the periphery of events even when ostensibly at the centre and the absence of a significant collection of private papers This new book redresses the neglect of this major statesmen and financier partly through the natural advance of historical research and partly by the discoveries of missing archival material McKenna s role is now illuminated by his own reflections and by the correspondence of friends and colleagues including Asquith Churchill Keynes Baldwin Bonar Law MacDonald and Chamberlain McKenna s presence at the hub of political life in the first half of the century is now clear in the radical Liberal governments of 1905 16 where he acted as a lightning conductor for the party during the war where he served as the Prime Minister s deputy and the principal voice for restraint in the conduct of the war and as chairman of the world s largest bank where until his death in office aged eighty he prompted progressive policies to deal with the issues of war debt trade mass unemployment and the return to gold

Cities of Affluence and Anger Peter Kalliney, 2015-10-29 Providing a compact literary history of the twentieth century in England Cities of Affluence and Anger studies the problematic terms of national identity during England s transition from an imperial power to its integration in the global cultural marketplace While the countryside had been the dominant symbol of Englishness throughout the previous century modern literature began to turn more and more to the city to redraw the boundaries of a contemporary cultural polity The urban class system paradoxically still functioned as a marker of wealth status and hierarchy throughout this long period of self examination but it also became a way to project a common culture and mitigate other forms of difference Local class politics were transformed in such a way that enabled the English to reframe a highly provisional national unity in the context of imperial disintegration postcolonial immigration and later globalization Kalliney plots the decline of the country house novel through an analysis of Forster's Howards End and Waugh's Brideshead Revisited each ruthless in its sabotage of the trope of bucolic harmony The traditionally pastoral focus of English fiction gives way to a high modernist urban narrative exemplified by Woolf's Mrs Dalloway and later to realists such as Osborne and Sillitoe through whose work Kalliney explores postwar urban expansion and the cultural politics of the welfare state Offering fresh new readings of Lessing's The Golden Notebook and Rushdie's The Satanic Verses the author considers the postwar appropriation of domesticity the emergence of postcolonial literature and the renovation of travel narratives in the context of globalization Kalliney suggests that it is largely one city London through which national identity has been reframed How and why this transition came about is a process that Cities of Affluence and Anger depicts with exceptional insight and originality

Portrait of a Muse Gailey Andrew, 2020-10-27 The first biography of Frances Graham the muse of leading Pre Raphaelite painter Edward Burne Jones for the last 25 years of his life In a discreet subtle human way her life is a study in power artistic social political familial local and all the more fascinating for being played out from a perennial position of weakness The Portrait of a Muse is the tale of a remarkable woman living in an age on the cusp of modernity 75 illustrations
