MacDonald's eight shorter fairy tales and his longer stories At the Back of the North Wind, The Princess and the Goblin, The Wise Woman and The Princess and Curdie. MacDonald saw the imagination as the source of fairy tales and of divine truth together. For he believed that God lives in the depths of the human mind and sends up from thence wonderful gifts into the light of the understanding. This makes MacDonald that very rare thing, a writer of mystical fiction whose work can give us experience of the divine. Throughout his children's fantasy stories MacDonald is describing the human and divine imagination. In the shorter tales he shows how the imagination has different regions and depths, each able to shift into the other. With the longer stories we see the imagination in relation to other aspects of the self and to its position in the world. Here the imagination is portrayed as often embattled in relation to empiricism, egotism and greed. Celtic Monthly, 1903. The Formation of this collection was to a great extent the life work of the Rev Robert Forbes M.A. Bishop of Ross and Caithness. Many of the earliest books, particularly those dating back to the 1900s and before, are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive.
