Radical History Review ,1996-02 Radical History Review presents innovative scholarship and commentary that looks critically at the past and its history from a non sectarian left perspective Radical History Review: Volume 69 ,1998-04-02 Radical History Review presents innovative scholarship and commentary that looks critically at the past and its history from a non sectarian left perspective Radical History Review: Volume 61, Winter 1995 Calvin B. Holder,Dewar MacLeod,1995-04-13 Radical History Review presents innovative scholarship and commentary that looks critically at the past and its history from a non sectarian left perspective RHR scrutinises conventional history and seeks to broaden and advance the discussion of crucial issues such as the role of race class and gender in history Radical History Review: Volume 70 ,1998-06-04 Feature articles in this issue include Women and Guilds in Bologna The Ambiguities of Marginality by Dora Dumont Unpacking the First Person Singular Negotiating Patriarchy in Nineteenth Century Chile by Andy Daitzman Culture Wars Won and Lost Part II Ethnic Museums on the Mall by Fath Davis Ruffins a continuation of an article published in RHR 68 and All the Intensity of My Nature Ida B Wells and African American Women s Anger in History by Patricia A Schechter Feminism and Empire Clare Midgley,2007-09-28 Feminism and Empire establishes the foundational impact that Britain s position as leading imperial power had on the origins of modern western feminism Based on extensive new research this study exposes the intimate links between debates on the woman question and the constitution of colonial discourse in order to highlight the centrality of empire to white middle class women s activism in Britain The book begins by exploring the relationship between the construction of new knowledge about colonised others and the framing of debates on the woman question among advocates of women s rights and their evangelical opponents Moving on to examine white middle class women s activism on imperial issues in Britain topics include the anti slavery boycott of Caribbean sugar the campaign against widow burning in colonial India and women s role in the foreign missionary movement prior to direct employment by the major missionary societies Finally Clare Midgley highlights how the organised feminist movement which emerged in the late 1850s linked promotion of female emigration to Britain s white settler colonies to a new ideal of independent English womanhood This original work throws fascinating new light on the roots of later imperial feminism and contemporary debates concerning women s rights in an era of globalisation and neo imperialism Toward the Visualization of History Mark Moss,2008-06-19 Over the past 50 years the influence of visuals has impacted society with greater frequency No subject is immune from the power of visual culture and this fact becomes especially pronounced with regards to history and historical discourse Where once the study of the past was books and printed articles the environment has changed and students now enter the lecture hall with a sense of history that has been gleaned from television film photography and other new media They come to understand history based on what they have seen and heard not what they have read What are the implications of this process this visualization of history Mark Moss discusses the impact of visuals on the study of history with an examination of visual culture and the future of print Recognizing the visual bias of the younger generations and using this as a starting point for teaching history is a critical component for reaching students By providing an analysis of photography film television and computer culture Moss uses the Holocaust as an historical case study to illustrate the ways in which visual culture can be used to bring about an awareness of history as well as the potential for visual culture becoming a driving force for social and cultural change

Sexuality in China Howard Chiang, 2018-06-15 What was sex like in China from imperial times through the post Mao era The answer depends of course on who was having sex where they were located in time and place and what kind of familial social and political structures they participated in This collection offers a variety of perspectives by addressing diverse topics such as polygamy pornography free love eugenics sexology crimes of passion homosexuality intersexuality transsexuality masculine anxiety sex work and HIV AIDS Following a loose chronological sequence the chapters examine revealing historical moments in which human desire and power dynamics came into play Collectively the contributors undertake a necessary historiographic intervention by reconsidering Western categorizations and exploring Chinese understandings of sexuality and erotic orientation

History and Causality M. Hewitson, 2014-01-22 This volume investigates the different attitudes of historians and other social scientists to questions of causality It argues that historical theorists after the linguistic turn have paid surprisingly little attention to causes in spite of the centrality of causation in many contemporary works of history

Offshore Attachments Chelsea Schields, 2023-05-23 In this highly original work historian Chelsea Schields illuminates how the contested management of sex and race transformed the Caribbean into a crucial site in the global oil economy By the mid twentieth century the Dutch islands of Curaçao and Aruba housed the world's largest oil refineries To bolster this massive industrial experiment oil corporations and political authorities offshored intimacy circumventing laws regulating sex reproduction and the family in a bid to maximize profits and turn Caribbean subjects into citizens Offshore Attachments reveals that from boom to bust Caribbean people challenged and embraced efforts to alter intimate behaviors in service of the energy economy molding the industry from the ground up Moving from Caribbean oil towns to European metropolises and examining such issues as sex work contraception kinship and the constitution of desire Schields narrates a surprising story of how racialized concern with sex shaped hydrocarbon industries as the age of oil met the end of empire

Turning Archival Daniel Marshall, Zeb Tortorici, 2022-09-06 The contributors to Turning Archival trace the rise of the archive as an object of historical desire and study within queer studies and examine how it fosters historical imagination and knowledge Highlighting the growing significance of the archival to LGBTQ scholarship politics and everyday life they draw upon accounts of queer archival encounters in institutional grassroots and everyday repositories of historical memory The contributors examine such topics as the everyday life of marginalized queer immigrants in New York City as an archive secondhand vinyl record collecting and punk bootlegs the self archiving practices of grassroots lesbians and the decolonial potential of absences and gaps in the Building Capitalism Linda Clarke, 2011 First published in 1992 this Routledge Revival sees the reissue of a truly original exploration of the nature of urbanization and capitalism Linda Clarke's vital work argues that Urbanization is a product of the social human labour engaged in building as well as a concentration of the labour force The quality of the labour process determines the development of production Changes to the built environment reflect changes in the production process and in particular the development of wage labour To support these arguments the author identifies a qualitatively new historical stage of capitalist building production involving a significant expansion of wage labour and hence capital and the transition from artisan to industrial production Linda Clarke draws from a wide range of original material relating to the development of London from the mid eighteenth to the early nineteenth century to provide a complete description of the development process materials extraction roadbuilding housebuilding paving cleansing etc profiles of builders and contractors involved and a picture of the new working class communities as in Somers Town their living conditions population working environment and politics

Aiding Ireland Anelise Hanson ShROUT, 2024-01-16 Looks at the ways that disparate groups used Irish famine relief in the 1840s to advance their own political agendas Famine brought ruin to the Irish countryside in the nineteenth century In response people around the world and from myriad social ethnic and religious backgrounds became involved in Irish famine relief They included enslaved Black people in Virginia poor tenant farmers in rural New York and members of the Cherokee and Choctaw nations as well as plantation owners in the US south abolitionists in Pennsylvania and politicians in England and Ireland Most of these people had no personal connection to Ireland For many the famine was their first time participating in distant philanthropy Aiding Ireland investigates the Irish famine as a foundational moment for normalizing international giving Anelise Hanson ShROUT argues that these diverse men and women found famine relief to be politically useful ShROUT takes readers from Ireland to Britain across the Atlantic to the United States and across the Mississippi to Indian Territory uncovering what was to be gained for each group by participating in global famine relief Aiding Ireland demonstrates that international philanthropy and aid are never simple and are always intertwined with politics both at home and abroad

Queering Mennonite Literature Daniel Shank Cruz, 2019-01-27 Though the terms queer and Mennonite rarely come into theoretical or cultural contact over the last several decades writers and scholars in the United States and Canada have built a body of queer Mennonite literature that shifts these identities into conversation In this volume Daniel Shank Cruz brings this growing genre into a critical focus bridging the gaps between queer theory literary criticism and Mennonite literature

Cruz focuses his analysis on recent Mennonite authored literary texts that espouse queer theoretical principles including Christina Penner's Widows of Hamilton House Wes Funk's Wes Side Story and Sofia Samatar's Tender. These works argue for the existence of a queer Mennonite identity on the basis of shared values a commitment to social justice a rejection of binaries the importance of creative approaches to conflict resolution and the practice of mutual aid especially in resisting oppression Through his analysis Cruz encourages those engaging with both Mennonite and queer literary criticism to explore the opportunity for conversation and overlap between the two fields By arguing for engagement between these two identities and highlighting the aspects of Mennonitism that are inherently queer Cruz gives much needed attention to an emerging subfield of Mennonite literature This volume makes a new and important intervention into the fields of queer theory literary studies Mennonite studies and religious studies The Rise and Fall of Modern Empires, Volume IV Martin

Shipway, 2016-12-05 The collection of essays in this volume offers an overview of scholarly approaches to the ways in which diverse actors representing the colonised or the colonising nations or indeed the international community reacted to colonialism during the lifetime of the modern colonial empires or in their aftermath The coverage is broad in terms of geographical scope and historical period with articles on the major colonial empires in Asia and Africa and the imperial centres of Paris London and Berlin from the conquests of the late nineteenth century to the period of decolonisation The selection also reflects recent academic trends by focusing on countries whose colonial past and experience of decolonisation have been studied and debated with particular intensity such as Algeria Kenya and India The volume draws on previously published articles and book chapters by leading international scholars writing in or translated into English and includes a critical introduction which situates each essay in relation to recent debates in this dynamic and expanding field of study

A Workforce Divided Leslie A. Schuster, 2002-12-30 In this study of the life and work of Saint Nazaire's shipbuilding workers in the 30 years before World War I Schuster shows that the consequences of industrial production for workers differed sharply according to their resources and experiences She details the competing identities and divergent values maintained by shipbuilding workers demonstrating that they were fostered by the interaction between state programs industrial production and the traditions pursued in the local realm Third Republic economic policies for shipbuilding promoted unemployment and worker dependence on state officials over union leaders and the uneven application of capitalist methods of production meant multiple workplace experiences that further undercut association A workforce composed of industrial workers and agricultural producers brought markedly different priorities to the workplace Urban dwelling industrial workers proved dependent on shipbuilding while workers commuting from La Grande Bri D ere a nearby marshland were property owning producers mostly peat cutters with traditions of self government and a commanding community identity They turned to ship production precisely to maintain rural settlement and agricultural production These divergent values and responses to industrial work in conjunction with multiple barriers to association generated separate and even contrary labor concerns and protests Wages of Independence Paul A. Gilje, 1997 America between the Revolution and the Civil War was a society in full adolescence Vibrant cocky feeling its own strength and ready to take on the world America was driven by an upstart economy and a capitalist bravado The early republic argues Paul Gilje in his cogent introduction was the crucial period in the development of that trademark characteristic of American society modern capitalism In this collection of essays eight social and economic historians consider the rise of capitalism in the early American republic Expanding upon traditional interpretations of economic development encouraged and controlled by merchants and financiers these essays demonstrate the centrality of common men and women as artisans laborers planters and farmers in the dramatic transitions of the period They show how changes in the workshop home and farm were as crucial as those in banks and counting houses Capping these fundamental changes was the rise of consumerism among Americans and the development of a mentality of capitalism that ensured the success of this new economic system with all its benefits and costs Contributing authors include Paul A Gilje Jeanne Boydston Christopher Clark Douglas R Egerton Cathy D Matson Jonathan Prude Richard Stott and Gordon S Wood

Adopting the Track of Expression: An Emotional Symphony within Radical History Review Volume 64 Radical History Review

In a world taken by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instant transmission, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony created by the prepared term usually disappear in to the back ground, eclipsed by the persistent noise and disruptions that permeate our lives. However, situated within the pages of Radical History Review Volume 64 Radical History Review a wonderful fictional value filled with natural thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by an elegant composer of language, that charming masterpiece conducts viewers on a mental journey, well unraveling the concealed songs and profound impact resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of the moving examination, we can explore the book is main harmonies, analyze their enthralling publishing style, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
