Raf Bomber Command Losses Of Wwii Volume 1 1939-1944:

Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses of the Second World War, 1939-40 W. R. Chorley, 2013 This monumental series has become an essential work of reference for both aviation historians and genealogists The series covers individual aircraft losses in the European Theatre and identifying units aircraft crews and the circumstances behind each loss day by day Since Volume 1 was first published in 1992 the author has continued to research the subject and amassed a wealth of new information doubling the number of pages in the second edition This edition includes further details on the aircraft and the crews involved to provide more detailed accounts of the losses The nine volumes in this series many of which have been reprinted over the years provide a comprehensive listing of all Bomber Command aircraft losses between 1939 and 1947 in the European theatre of operations along with information about the fate of the aircrew on board each individual aircraft

Raf Bomber Command Losses 1945 W. R. Chorley, 1998-11-01

Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses W. R. Chorley, 1992 The final volume in this monumental series which records the grievous losses suffered by the men of RAF Bomber Command in the European theatre of operations during World War II includes the master index of about 55 000 entries the Roll of Honour bringing together all aircrew mentioned in the previous volumes The Roll of Honour provides for each airman their surname rank Christian name service number date killed squadron the serial number of the aircraft involved and the page and volume number where the loss is recorded

Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses of the Second World War: Aircraft and crew losses 1945 W. R. Chorley, 1998 This is the sixth volume in the series which deals with the losses sustained by the RAF Bomber Command during the 2nd World War It has already found favour with historians and those friends and relatives affected by the loss

Royal Air Force Fighter Command Losses of the Second World War Norman L. R. Franks, 1997-04-24 In August 1939 on the eve of war with Germany Britain was ill prepared and Fighter Command could muster only 37 operational squadrons to face the foe Following a brief campaign in Norway and the brave but disastrous Battle of France and retreat through Dunkirk Britain stood alone waiting

Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses of the Second World War: Aircraft and crew losses, 1943 W. R. Chorley, 1992

Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses W. R. Chorley, 2002 This is the seventh volume in Midland's highly respected series detailing the losses suffered by the RAF's Bomber Command during and in the case of this volume in the years immediately after the Second World War The OTUs were the units in which aircrew got to grips with the heavy bombers they were to fly in combat It is perhaps not surprising that the number of men who came to grief whilst training was very high This volume in common with the other books in the series identifies the units involved in each incident as well as the aircraft and the individual members of the crew concerned A brief description of the circumstances behind each loss is also given In total this book provides information on almost 2 400 losses This is the penultimate volume in the the Bomber Command Losses series An eighth book is in preparation This will be a roll of honour listing all the aircrew who perished in the service of Bomber Command during the conflict Royal Air Force Bomber Losses in the Middle East and Mediterranean David Gunby, Pelham Temple, 2006 The book follows exactly the tried and tested format of the earlier RAF Bomber Command Losses series both in content and the way the book is organized and presented Each entry is set out in the same way with a sequence of entries for a single day Losses are recorded by unit and then within each unit by the serial number of the aircraft involved The entries are accompanied by commentaries which are provided at appropriate points The number of losses recorded in this volume will be somewhere in the region of 1 700 These will include aircraft from the RAF the South African Air Force the free French Air Force and the U S Army Air Force during the periods when these air arms were operating under direct RAF control This book is the first of two projected volumes covering the Bomber Commands losses in the Middle East and Mediterranean during the war A further volume covering 1943-1945 is projected to follow this one The distinction relating to the units included in these volumes is particularly important in relation to the USAAF as its period under RAF was brief This series will sell well to aviation historians especially those interested in Bomber Command Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses of the Second World War W. R. Chorley, 1992 This is the fourth volume in the series which deals with the losses sustained by the RAF Bomber Command during the 2nd World War It has already found favour with historians and those friends and relatives affected by the loss Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses of the Second World War: Aircraft and crew losses, 1942 W. R. Chorley, 1992 Royal Air Force Fighter Command Losses of the Second World War Norman L. R.
