

Howard Raiffa

A pioneer in decision analysis

When teaching statistics, Raiffa learned that more is needed to support decision making in practice

This led to Decision Analysis (1968)

- How to structure decision problems
- Use of subjective probabilities
- Decision trees

Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis Valerie Belton, Theodor Stewart, 2002 The field of multiple criteria decision analysis MCDA also sometimes termed multiple criteria decision aid or multiple criteria decision making MCDM has developed rapidly over the past quarter century and in the process a number of divergent schools of thought have emerged Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis An Integrated Approach provides a comprehensive yet widely accessible overview of the main streams of thought within MCDA Two principal aims are To provide sufficient awareness of the underlying philosophies and theories understanding of the practical detail of the methods and insight into practice to enable researchers students and industry practitioners to implement MCDA methods in an informed manner To develop an integrated view of MCDA incorporating both integration of different schools of thought within MCDA and integration of MCDA with broader management theory science and practice thereby informing the development of theory and practice across these areas It is felt that this two fold emphasis gives a book which will be of value to the following three groups Practicing decision analysts or graduate students in MCDA for whom this book should serve as a state of the art review especially as regards techniques outside of their own specialization Operational researchers or graduate students in OR MS who wish to extend their knowledge into the tools of MCDA Managers or management students who need to understand what MCDA can offer them

Utility, Probability, and Human Decision Making Dirk Wendt, C.A. Vlek, 1975-12-31 Human decision making involves problems which are being studied with increasing interest and sophistication They range from controversial political decisions via individual consumer decisions to such simple tasks as signal discriminations Although it would seem that decisions have to do with choices among available actions of any kind there is general agreement that decision making research should pertain to choice problems which cannot be solved without a predecisional stage of finding choice alternatives weighing evidence and judging values The ultimate objective of scientific research on decision making is two fold a to develop a theoretically sound technology for the optimal solution of decision problems and b to formulate a descriptive theory of human decision making The latter may in turn protect decision makers from being caught in the traps of their own limitations and biases Recently in decision making research the strong emphasis on well defined laboratory tasks is decreasing in favour of more realistic studies in various practical settings This may well have been caused by a growing awareness of the fact that decision behaviour is strongly determined by situational factors which makes it necessary to look into processes of interaction between the decision maker and the relevant task environment Almost inevitably there is a parallel shift of interest towards problems of utility measurement and the evaluation of consequences

Theory and Practice in Policy Analysis M. Granger Morgan, 2017-10-12 Practitioners of policy analysis will better understand the tools of their trade and the broader contexts in which analysis contributes

Organization and Decision Theory Ira Horowitz, 2012-12-06 Ira

Horowitz Depending upon one's perspective the need to choose among alternatives can be an unwelcome but unavoidable responsibility an exciting and challenging opportunity a run of the mill activity that one performs seemingly without thinking very much about it or perhaps something in between Your most recent selections from a restaurant menu from a set of jobs or job candidates or from a rent or buy or sell or lease option are cases in point Oftentimes we are involved in group decision processes such as the choice of a president wherein one group member's unwelcome responsibility is another's exciting opportunity Many of us that voted in the presidential elections of both 1956 and 1984 irrespective of political affiliation experienced both emotions others just pulled the lever or punched the card without thinking very much about it Arriving at either an individual or a group decision can sometimes be a time consuming torturous and traumatic process that results in a long regretted choice that could have been reached right off the bat On other occasions the just let's get it over with and get out of here solution to a long festering problem can yield rewards that are reaped for many

1 ORGANIZATION AND DECISION THEORY 2 years to come One way or another however individuals and organizations somehow manage to get the decision making job done even if they don't quite understand and often question just how this was accomplished

Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis in Regional Planning Fumiko Seo, Masatoshi Sakawa, 2012-12-06 This book is devoted to presenting theoretical fundamentals for the methods of multiple criteria decision making MCDM in the social sciences with particular intent to their applicability to real world decision making The main characteristics of the complex problems facing humans in the world today are multidimensional and have multiple objectives they are large scale and have noncommensurate and conflicting objectives such as economic environmental societal technical and aesthetic ones The authors intend to establish basic concepts for treating these complex problems and to present methodological discussions for MCDM with some applications to administrative or regional planning MCDM is composed of two phases analytical and judgmental In this book we intend to consolidate these two phases and to present integrated methodologies for manipulating them with particular interest in managerial decision making which has not yet been properly treated in spite of its urgent necessity Although a number of books in MCDM fields have already been published in recent years most of them have mainly treated one aspect of MCDM Our work specifically intends to treat the methodology in unified systems and to construct a conceptual structure with special regards to the intrinsic properties of MCDM and its economic meanings from the social scientific point of view

Handbook of Human Factors and Ergonomics Gavriel Salvendy, 2012-05-24 The fourth edition of the Handbook of Human Factors and Ergonomics has been completely revised and updated This includes all existing third edition chapters plus new chapters written to cover new areas These include the following subjects Managing low back disorder risk in the workplace Online interactivity Neuroergonomics Office ergonomics Social networking HF E in motor vehicle transportation User requirements Human factors and ergonomics in aviation Human factors in ambient intelligent environments As with the earlier editions the main purpose of this handbook is to serve the needs of the human factors and ergonomics researchers practitioners and graduate students Each chapter has a strong theory and scientific base but is heavily focused on real world applications As such a significant number of case studies examples figures and tables are included to aid in the understanding and application of the material covered
