Sellers ,1925* Railroads Triumphant Albro Martin,1992-01-02 In 1789 when the First Congress met in New York City the members traveled to the capital just as Roman senators two thousand years earlier had journeyed to Rome by horse at a pace of some five miles an hour Indeed if sea travel had improved dramatically since Caesar s time overland travel was still so slow painful and expensive that most Americans lived all but rooted to the spot with few people settling more than a hundred miles from the ocean a mere two percent lived west of the Appalachians America in effect was just a thin ribbon of land by the sea and it wasn t until the coming of the steam railroad that our nation would unfurl across the vast inland territory In Railroads Triumphant Albro Martin provides a fascinating history of rail transportation in America moving well beyond the Romance of the Rails sort of narrative to give readers a real sense of the railroad s importance to our country The railroad Martin argues was the most fundamental innovation in American material life It could go wherever rails could be laid and so for the first time farms industries and towns could leave natural waterways behind and locate anywhere As Martin points out the railroads created small town America just as surely as the automobile created the suburbs The railroad was our first major industry and it made possible or promoted the growth of all other industries among them coal steel flour milling and commercial farming It established such major cities as Chicago and had a lasting impact on urban design And it worked hand in hand with the telegraph industry to transform communication Indeed the railroads were the NASA of the 19th century attracting the finest minds in finance engineering and law But Martin doesn t merely catalogue the past greatness of the railroad In closing with the episodes that led first to destructive government regulation and then to deregulation of the railroads and the ensuing triumphant rebirth of the nation s basic means of moving goods from one place to another Railroads Triumphant offers an impassioned defense of their enduring importance to American economic life And it is a book informed by a lifelong love of railroads brimming with vivid descriptions of classic depots lavish hotels in Chicago the great railroad founders and the famous lines Thoughtful and colorful by turn this insightful history illuminates the impact of the railroad on our lives A Short History of American Railways Slason Thompson,1925 A World History of Railway Cultures, 1830-1930 Matthew Esposito,2020-01-03 This 4 volume collection is the first compilation of primary sources to historicize the cultural impact of railways on a global scale from their inception in Great Britain to the Great Depression Gathered together are over 200 rare out of print published and unpublished materials from archival and digital repositories throughout the world Organized by historical geography this first volume covers the United Kingdom The American Railroad Joe Welsh,2006-03-10 This nostalgic authoritative history of the railroad industry in the United States is richly illustrated with more than 200 images covering everything from the road s beginning to its heyday in the 1940s and 50s and its current state Features include black and white and period color photographs maps timetables promotional materials and other memorabilia and details about railroading s five most fascinating components its locomotives freight trains passenger trains depots and workforce     Iron Dawn Richard Snow,2017-10-24 An utterly absorbing account of one of history's most momentous battles Forbes that not only changed the Civil War but the future of all sea power from acclaimed popular historian Richard Snow who writes with verve and a keen eye The New York Times Book Review No single sea battle has had more far reaching consequences than the one fought in Hampton Roads Virginia in 1862 The Confederacy with no fleet of its own took a radical step to combat the Union blockade building an iron fort containing ten heavy guns on the hull of a captured Union frigate named the Merrimack The North got word of the project and in panicky desperation commissioned an eccentric inventor named John Ericsson to build the Monitor an entirely revolutionary iron warship Rushed through to completion in just one hundred days it mounted only two guns but they were housed in a shot proof revolving turret The ship hurried south from Brooklyn only to arrive to find the Merrimack had already sunk half the Union fleet and would be back to finish the job When she returned the Monitor was there She fought the Merrimack to a standstill and many believe saved the Union cause As soon as word of the fight spread Great Britain the foremost sea power of the day ceased work on all wooden ships A thousand year old tradition ended and the naval future opened Richly illustrated with photos maps and engravings Iron Dawn renders all previous accounts of the encounter between the Monitor and the Merrimack as obsolete as wooden war ships The Dallas Morning News Richard Snow brings to vivid life the tensions of the time in this lively tale of science war and clashing personalities The Wall Street Journal     A History of the Legal Development of the Railroad System of Southern Railway Company Fairfax Harrison,1901     A Social History of the Media Asa Briggs,Peter Burke,2018-07-26 Written by two leading social and cultural historians the first two editions of A Social History of the Media became classic textbooks providing a masterful overview of communication media and of the social and cultural contexts within which they emerged and evolved over time This third edition has been thoroughly revised to bring the text up to date with the very latest developments in the field Increased space is given to the exciting media developments of the early 21st Century including in particular the rise of social and participatory media and the globalization of media Additionally new and important research is incorporated into the classic material exploring the continuing importance of oral and manuscript communication the rise of print and the relationship between physical transportation and social communication Avoiding technological determinism and rejecting assumptions of straightforward evolutionary progress this book brings out the rich and varied histories of communication media In an age of fast paced media developments a thorough understanding of media history is more important than ever and this text will continue to be the first choice for students and scholars across the world     Railway Age and Northwestern Railroad ,1903     Touring Beyond the Nation Eric G. The Santa Fe Magazine, 1924 Euston - A history and modelling the 1875 station David Ashwood, 2024-08-30 Euston Station was the first intercity railway gateway for London and with the famed Doric Arch became a major landmark of that city Initially built for the London and Birmingham Railway it became the terminus of the LNWR Premier Line then HQ of the London Midland and Scottish The controversial 1960s demolition of the site stimulated the building preservation movement Latterly we have a challenging on off love affair with the area through the High Speed Two project This book contains both a background history of Euston and its environs combined with a modellers review of building a OO gauge mid Victorian station complex A core model of the old station was kindly donated to the Market Deeping Model Railway Club MDMRC following the sad act of vandalism of their model railway show in 2019 This in turn served as a stimulus to expand detail and research during the Covid isolation and lockdown years This book is the end result of these endeavours We use the model to underpin the history and allow a geographical walkthrough of the site plus hints tips and techniques on building a landmark model It has been an enjoyable and eye opening challenge to unveil the story under through and over Euston Written and contributed to by members of the MDMRC all royalties will go the club Charity number 1187779

Railroads Across North America Claude Wiatrowski, 2007-09-15 A lavish celebration of the glory and grandeur of the great American railroad from the first steam powered trains of the early 19th century to the high speed commuter trains of today

Railroad Age Gazette, 1905 Rail, Steam, and Speed Christopher McGowan, 2004-11-10 From October 6 through 14 1829 in a small village just outside Liverpool England ten thousand spectators gathered to witness one of the most remarkable events of the Industrial Age a battle among locomotives that became known as the Rainhill Trials Five machines were entered in the competition the horse powered Cycloped attained a top speed of only five miles per hour while Perseverance which looked like a giant iron bottle standing upright atop four wagon wheels creaked along at a walking pace But the three way race between Robert Stephenson's Rocket Timothy Harworth's Sans Pareil and the crowd favorite John Braithwaite and John Ericson's Novelty astonished the gathered crowds The unfamiliar clank of machinery huge billows of steam and unprecedented speeds of thirty miles per hour thrilled the crowds during the trials carnival like atmosphere The Rocket won the competition though it had been claimed that the machine was not the superior locomotive Rail Steam and Speed explains why and offers an absorbing account of the trials people and science that gave birth to steam locomotion The purpose of the trials had been to find a locomotive that could maintain a speed of ten miles per hour for a round trip totaling thirty five miles the distance separating Liverpool and Manchester which were soon to be linked by the world's first passenger railway But what was achieved during those nine days became a benchmark of the Industrial Revolution Bringing the excitement of this great drama to life Christopher McGowan introduces us to such pioneers as George Stephenson who started as a colliery boy and finished as the father of the railways John Ericsson a Swedish Army officer who invented a new kind of locomotive in England but spent most of his life in the United States where he built the Monitor for the Union Navy and Richard Trevithick whose eleven year adventure in South America included winning and losing several fortunes deserting Bolivar s army and escaping the jaws of a crocodile He encountered George Stephenson s son Robert in a Colombian hotel in one of the most bizarre meetings of the age But the real stars are the locomotives themselves McGowan shows how locomotives work and how they were developed from the gargantuan beam engines condensing low pressure steam inside enormous cylinders to the small high pressure driven engines of the maverick miner Trevithick He adapted the engines to power road carriages but atrocious roads led him to build an engine that could run on rails And so was born the world s first steam locomotive and modern transportation Railroad Gazette ,1879
