Sense Of Pleasure A Collection Of Stilllife Paintings:

The Sense of Pleasure John T. Spike, Maurizio Fagiolo dell'Arco, 2002 This is a visually stunning collection of 71 European still life paintings dating from the 17th and 18th century and expresses the variety abundance nourishment and pleasures nature has to offer

Still Life Norbert Schneider, 2003 How do the objects in a still life reflect the customs ideas and aspirations of the time This is one of the questions which Schneider asks in this book Still lifes chart the history of scientific discoveries and their acceptance as well as the gradual replacement of the mediaeval concept of the world

Still Life Elisha Cohn, 2016 Still Life Suspended Development in the Victorian Novel rethinks the nineteenth century aesthetics of agency through the Victorian novel's fascination with states of reverie trance and sleep These states challenge contemporary scientific and philosophical accounts of the perfectibility of the self which privileged reflective self awareness In dialogue with the field of literature and science studies and affect studies this book shows how Victorian writers used narrative form to respond to the analytical practices and knowledge production of those other disciplines Drawing upon canonical texts by Charlotte Bront George Eliot George Meredith and Thomas Hardy Still Life contends that depictions of non purposive perceptual experience suspend the processes of self cultivation Bildung central to Victorian aesthetics science psychology and political theory as well as most critical accounts of the novel form Departing from the values of individual cultivation and moral revelation associated with the genre these writers offer an affective framework for understanding the subtly non instrumental powers of narrative Victorian novels ostensibly working within the parameters of the Bildungsroman are suspended by moments of still life a decentered lyricism associated with states of diminished consciousness They use this style to narrate what should be unnarratable experiences not dependent on reflective consciousness which express a distinctive ambivalence toward dominant developmental frameworks of individual self culture

The Artists of America: a Series of Biographical Sketches of American Artists Charles Edwards Lester, 1846

Pleasure and Piety James Clifton, Liesbeth M. Helmus, Arthur K. Wheelock Jr., 2015-03-22 The exhibition is organized by the Centraal Museum Utrecht the National Gallery of Art Washington the Museum of Fine Arts Houston and the Sarah Campbell Blaffer Foundation Title page verso

Making Sense of Taste Carolyn Korsmeyer, 2014-01-04 Taste perhaps the most intimate of the five senses has traditionally been considered beneath the concern of philosophy too bound to the body too personal and idiosyncratic Yet in addition to providing physical pleasure eating and drinking bear symbolic and aesthetic value in human experience and they continually inspire writers and artists Carolyn Korsmeyer explains how taste came to occupy so low a place in the hierarchy of senses and why it is deserving of greater philosophical respect and attention Korsmeyer begins with the Greek thinkers who classified taste as an inferior bodily sense she then traces the parallels between notions of aesthetic and gustatory taste that were explored in the formation of modern aesthetic theories She presents scientific views of how taste actually works and identifies multiple components of taste experiences Turning to taste's objects food and drink she looks at the different meanings they convey in art and literature as well as in ordinary human life and proposes an approach to the aesthetic value of taste that recognizes the representational and expressive roles of food Korsmeyer's consideration of art encompasses works that employ food in contexts sacred and profane that seek to whet the appetite and to keep it at bay her selection of literary vignettes ranges from narratives of macabre devouring to stories of communities forged by shared eating change identity and hybridity I loved it Katherine May author of Wintering Per person oranges are the most consumed fruit in the world Across the world no matter how remote or cold or incongruous a climate is oranges will be there What stories could I unravel from the orange s long ribboning peel What new meanings could I find in its variousness as it moves from east to west and from familiar to foreign What begins as a curiosity into the origins of the orange soon becomes a far reaching odyssey of citrus for Katie Goh Katie follows the complicated history of the orange from east to west and west to east from a luxury item of European kings and Chinese emperors to a modest fruit people take for granted This investigation parallels Katie s powerful search into her own heritage Growing up queer in a Chinese Malaysian Irish household in the north of Ireland Katie felt herself at odds with the culture and politics around her As a teenager Katie visits her ancestral home in Longyan China with her family to better understand her roots but doesn t find the easy digestible answers she hoped for In her mid twenties when her grandmother falls ill she ventures again to the land of her ancestors Malaysia where more questions of self and belonging are raised In her travels and reflections she navigates histories that she wants to understand but has never truly felt a part of Like the story of the orange Katie finds that simple and extractable explanations even about a seemingly simple fruit are impossible The story that unfolds is Katie s incredible endeavor to flesh out these contradictions to unpeel the layers of personhood a reflection on identity through the cipher of the orange Along the way the orange becomes so much more than just a fruit it emerges as a symbol a metaphor and a guide Foreign Fruit A Personal History of the Orange is a searching wide ranging seamless weaving of storytelling with research and a meditative deeply moving encounter with the orange and the self

Feeling Things Stephanie Downes, Sally Holloway, Sarah Randles, 2017-12-30 This interdisciplinary essay collection investigates the various interactions of people feelings and things throughout premodern Europe It focuses on the period before mass production when limited literacy often prioritised material methods of communication The subject of materiality has been of increasing significance in recent historical inquiry alongside growing emphasis on the relationships between objects emotions and affect in archaeological and sociological research The historical intersections between materiality and emotions however have remained under theorised particularly with respect to artefacts that have continuing resonance over extended periods of time or across cultural and geographical space Feeling Things addresses the need to develop an appropriate cross disciplinary theoretical framework for the analysis of objects and emotions in European history with special attention to the need to track the shifting emotional valencies of objects from the past to the present and from one place and cultural context to another The collection draws together an international group of historians art historians curators and literary scholars working on a variety of cultural literary visual and material sources Objects considered include books letters prosthetics religious relics shoes stone and textiles Many of these have been preserved in international galleries museums and archives while others have remained in their original locations even as their contexts have changed over time The chapters consider the ways in which emotions such as despair fear grief hope love and wonder become inscribed in and ascribed to these items producing emotional objects of significance and agency Such objects can be harnessed to create affirm or express individual relationships as for example in religious devotion and practice or in the construction of cultural communal and national identities The Selected Writings of William Hazlitt Vol 2 Duncan Wu,Tom Paulin,David Bromwich,Stanley Jones,Roy Park,2020-05-06 William Hazlitt is viewed by many as one of the most distinguished of the non fiction prose writers to emerge from the Romantic period This nine volume edition collects all his major works in complete form Passions for Birds Sean Nixon,2022-05-15 Whether as sources of joy and pleasure to be fed counted and watched as objects of sport to be hunted and killed or as food to be harvested wild birds evoke strong feelings Sean Nixon traces the transformation of these human passions for wild birds from the early twentieth century through the 1970s detailing humans close encounters with wild birds in Britain and the wider North Atlantic world Drawing on a rich range of written sources Passions for Birds reveals how emotional subjective and material attachments to wild birds were forged through a period of pronounced social and cultural change Nixon demonstrates how for all their differences new traditions in birdwatching and conservation field sports and bird harvesting mobilized remarkably similar feelings towards birds Striking similarities also emerged in the material forms that each of these practices used to bring birds closer to people hides and traps nets and ropes and binoculars Wide ranging in scope Passions for Birds sheds new light on the ways in which wild birds helped shape humans throughout the twentieth century as well as how birds themselves became burdened with multiple cultural meanings and social anxieties over time Academy Notes Buffalo Fine Arts Academy,1906
