Serious Crime And The Public Consumption Of Alcohol Criminal Justice Recent Scholarship:

Serious Crime and the Public Consumption of Alcohol Ronald R. Thrasher, 2001 This project focuses on the relationship between public consumption of beer and adult serious crime Police effectiveness at decreasing serious crime by enforcing ordinances prohibiting public beer drinking was more effective when enforcement was swift and sure rather than severe These findings fit well with the community policing model of placing police in small neighborhood settings closely interacting with citizens taking care of small otherwise nuisance problems and at the same time reducing serious crime

Neighborhood Structure, Crime, and Fear of Crime Clete Snell, 2001 In this collection Esther Raizen explores the significance and value of Hebrew poetry written in response to the wars in which Israel was involved during the last fifty years The anthology includes the works of many poets some as well known as Nathan Altherman and Yehudah Amichai and others less known The poems presented in both English and Hebrew depict war as viewed by the soldier as reflected upon by civilians and as a force giving rise to the creation of poetry Raizen explores in an introductory essay the issue of whether poetry written with a defined political message and in the context of certain historical events can function adequately on the aesthetic level She also tracks the changes in the characteristics of Israeli war poetry from 1948 to 1991 beginning with the glorified patriotism expected in the 1930s 1940s and progressing to the critical ideas in the later years during which poetry is characterized by understatement and cynicism

Narcissism and Entitlement David R. Champion, 2003 Champion's research relates narcissism Machiavellianism and entitlement to sexual aggression and explores the implications for criminology Champion examines the premise that sexually aggressive men possess distinct cognitively structured belief systems and sexual aggressors tend to be more narcissistic Machiavellian and sexually experienced than other men Champion postulates that entitling personality structures are associated with sexual aggression and speculates on the implications of this for future criminological study

The Relationship Between National Homicide Rates and Medical Care Don Soo Chon, 2002 Noting that violence is a process and death is only one possible consequence of it Chon police administration Kaya U South Korea evaluates the argument that medical resources are a predictor of homicide rates for where medical care is poor victims of assault are more likely to die and then be listed as a homicide statistic While other cross national studies have explored this proposition before Chon argues that his study is methodologically improved by its expansion of the number of countries examined and by the inclusion of seven medical variables four variables derived from competing theories and the dependent variable of lethality rate referring to the success rate in attempted homicides Multiple regression techniques are used to analyze the data and only weak support for the proposed model is found Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
