traces the little known history of an alternative school system erected in Canada by post WWII Dutch Neo Calvinist immigrants. In less than four decades this community established a kindergarten to university education system that extended from Ottawa Ontario to Victoria BC. This remarkable tradition of education imagines the school as a dissident and transformational social institution. While this book offers the narrative of faith based tradition of education, the author makes a strong case that educators from diverse ideological backgrounds can learn important lessons from it about the implementation of an alternative educational vision, teacher led curriculum reform and a self formative pedagogy. To supplement this narrative, the author also provides a separate set of theoretical discussions on key issues in school reform as well as his memoir as an educator and curriculum designer within this tradition. Christianity and Education David Emmanuel Singh, Bernard C. Farr, 2011

The Oxford Handbook of Music and World Christianities Suzel Ana Reily, Jonathan Dueck, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Music and World Christianities investigates music's role in everyday practice and social history across the diversity of Christian religions and practices around the globe. The volume explores Christian communities in the Americas, Europe, Africa, Asia, and Australia as sites of transmission, transformation, and creation of deeply diverse musical traditions. The book's contributors, while mostly rooted in ethnomusicology, examine Christianities and their musics in methodologically diverse ways, engaging with musical sound and structure, musical and social history, and ethnography of music and musical performance. These broad materials explore five themes: music and missions; music and religious utopias and other oppositional religious communities; music and conflict; music and transnational flows; and music and everyday life. The volume as a whole then approaches Christian groups and their musics as diverse and powerful windows into the way in which music, religious ideas, capital, and power circulate and change between places now and historically. It also tries to take account of the religious self-understandings of these groups, presenting Christian musical practice and exchange as encompassing and negotiating deeply felt and deeply rooted moral and cultural values. Given that the centerpiece of the volume is Christian religious musical practice, the volume reveals the active role music plays in maintaining and changing religious moral and cultural values in a long history of intercultural and transnational encounters.

What Is Jesus Doing? Edwin Chr. van Driel,2020-01-21 How do we understand Jesus present activity in a challenging post Christian context Leading thinkers in pastoral theology homiletics liturgical theology and missiology consider how to recognize the divine presence and join in what God is already doing in all areas of church ministry With deep theological reflection personal stories and practical suggestions this is a compelling interdisciplinary conversation

African Christian Theology, Volume 1, Number 1, March 2024 Joshua Robert Barron,2024-07-11 Making Sense of Religious Pluralism Alan Race,2013-06-20 Is Christian faith the only or best route to relationship with God New relationships shared common action and dialogue between people whose experiences differ are changing the way Christian theologians are thinking about religious pluralism No longer objects of ridicule or condemnation world religions are genuine vehicles of spiritual vision capable of transforming human hearts and minds It has taken Christian theology many years to come to this point and there is no going back Alan Race is an outstanding expert in the interreligious field and has throughout his career and ministry built up a high reputation for understanding and dialogue between faith communities Here he deals with the use of Scripture inclusivism and exclusivism pluralism and particularism mission and dialogue The next phase of Christian thought he argues will be shaped by new appreciation and insight stemming from the fact that Christianity is one religion among many

Christians Shaping Identity from the Roman Empire to Byzantium Geoffrey Dunn,Wendy Mayer,2015-07-14 The essays collected in Christians Shaping Identity celebrate Pauline Allen s significant contribution to early Christian late antique and Byzantine studies especially concerning bishops heresy orthodoxy and christology Covering the period from earliest Christianity to middle Byzantium the first eighteen essays explore the varied ways in which Christians constructed their own identity and that of the society around them A final four essays explore the same theme within Roman Catholicism and oriental Christianity in the late 19th to 21st centuries with particular attention to the subtle relationships between the shaping of the early Christian past and the moulding of Christian identity today Among the many leading scholars represented are Averil Cameron and Elizabeth A Clark

World Mission Scott N. Callaham,Will

Brooks, 2019-06-12 World missions needs a fully biblical ethos This is the contention of the editors of and contributors to World Mission a series of essays aimed at reforming popular approaches to missions In the first set of essays contributors develop a biblical theology of world missions from both the Old and New Testaments arguing that the theology of each must stand in the foreground of missions not recede into the background In the second they unfold the Great Commission in sequence detailing how it determines the biblical strategy of all mission enterprises Finally they treat current issues in world missions from the perspective of the sufficiency of Scripture Altogether this book aims to reform missions to be thoroughly not just foundationally biblical a needed correction even among the sincerest missionaries Academic Freedom and Christian Scholarship Anthony J. Diekema, 2000 The dawning of the third millennium finds many Christian colleges and universities in a search for identity Coming to grips with the confused often maligned topic of academic freedom is an essential part of this search In this volume an unabashed defender of academic freedom offers well founded advice to an academy that has seemingly lost its way Drawing on forty years in higher education including twenty years as president of Calvin College Anthony Diekema reflects on the extensive scholarly literature on academic freedom against the backdrop of personal experience He develops the larger philosophical framework necessary for thinking about academic freedom but also offers pointed advice gleaned from specific events and challenges to academic freedom that he has personally confronted This balanced approach provides a seasoned perspective for those struggling with the subject of academic freedom in their own institutions In the course of the book Diekema develops a sound working definition of the concept of academic freedom assesses the threats it faces acknowledges the significance of worldview in its implementation and explores the policy implications for its protection and promotion in Christian colleges
