Academic Leadership in Community Colleges Alan T. Seagren, 1994-01-01 Many challenges face community technical and junior colleges as they prepare for the 21st century The more than 1 400 community colleges in the United States and Canada are led by approximately 14 000 academic deans and department heads each of whom must balance the demands of the students faculties sponsors community and the college itself As college enrollments increase so do responsibilities problems and stress Fur ther stress will come to bear upon com munity colleges in the next decade when 40% of their academic leaders are expected to retire There is justifiable concern about the identification recruitment and preparation of individuals to assume vacant leadership positions Academic Leadership in Community Colleges provides the neces sary touchstones and guidelines for per sons within institutions preparing for new leadership Written by professional educators this book is based on a survey of 3 000 deans and department heads in community col leges in the United States and Canada The survey disclosed the broad variety of responsibilities organizational structures and developmental strategies exercised by academic leaders in community colleges from coast to coast The research was conducted by the Center for the Study of Higher and Postsecondary Education at the University of Nebraska Lincoln and supported by the National Community College Chair Academy Introductory chapters present compara tive information about community col leges their various missions instructional units and demographic situations Other chapters focus on the beliefs and values tasks skills competition and challenges that greet academic leaders Readers will find useful strategies for confronting frequent problems and procedures for achieving greater college cohesion and efficiency

Leading for the Future: Alignment of AACC Competencies with Practice Pamela L. Eddy, 2012-11-15 The AACC competencies were initially developed to help provide guidance in developing community college leaders because of predictions of a leadership crisis in the two year college sector Since their creation the competencies have been used to direct topics in leadership development programs and to guide future leaders about what skills are critical to master Yet scant research exists on the use of the competencies in practice or on analysis of the competencies within the changing higher education climate This issue provides a review of the research on the competencies in the field and posits several strategies for the future use of the competencies and potential changes to the competencies This is the 159th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Essential to the professional libraries of presidents vice presidents deans and other leaders in today s open door institutions New Directions for Community Colleges provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission Leadership in an Era of Change Desna L.

Wallin,2010-04-19 In unstable times effective leaders must not only be able to cope with the environment they must also be able to shape it Leaders in today s community colleges must fit that mold Change leadership can be said to embody four essential characteristics that might be called the four A s These are Change leadership anticipates it is visionary and forward looking and avoids reactionary thinking Change leadership constantly analyzes both the internal and external environment to gather reliable data upon which to make decisions it engages in strategic and tactical planning to make the most of the moment Change leadership acts with a vision and a plan with accurate and current data action is collaborative and inclusive Change leadership affirms it is not enough to have a vision a plan and action Once action is implemented attention is given to reflection to review and to sustaining change This volume focuses on change leadership at all levels The authors bring unique perspectives they are strong recognized scholars in leadership studies as well as practitioners actively engaged in community college leadership Both empirical studies and best practices are included to further our knowledge and understanding of effective leadership in the context of change This is the 149th volume of the Jossey Bass higher education quarterly report series New Directions for Community Colleges Essential to the professional libraries of presidents vice presidents deans and other leaders in today s open door institutions New Directions for Community Colleges provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission Leadership in American Academic Geography

Michael S. DeVivo,2014-11-14 Leadership in American Academic Geography The Twentieth Century examines the practice of leadership in the most influential geography departments in the United States Throughout the twentieth century transformational leaders often emerged as inspirational department chairs shaping the content and nature of the discipline and establishing models of leadership often fueling the success of programs and sparking shifts in paradigms Yet on occasion departmental chairmanships fell to individuals marked by laissez faire attributes lapses in integrity or autocratic behaviors which at times led to disaster Effective leaders within key academic departments played imperative roles in the discipline s prosperity and in contrast mediocrity in leadership contributed to periods of austerity Michael S DeVivo aims to offer not only a historical perspective on the geographic discipline but also insight to leaders in geography today and in the future so that they might be able to avoid failure and instead develop strategies for success by recognizing effective leadership behaviors that foster high levels of achievement Servant Leadership Styles and Strategic Decision Making Mughal, Yasir
