Sheffield Local Executive Committee,David Leslie Linton,      A Bibliography of British History, 1914-1989 Keith Robbins,American Historical Association,Royal Historical Society (Great Britain),1996 Containing over 25 000 entries this unique volume will be absolutely indispensable for all those with an interest in Britain in the twentieth century Accessibly arranged by theme with helpful introductions to each chapter a huge range of topics is covered There is a comprehensive index      Guide to Reference Material: Social & historical sciences, philosophy & religion Albert John Walford,Library Association,1973      Cinemas and Cinema-Going in the United Kingdom: Decades of Decline, 1945-65 Sam Manning,2020-03-31 Cinema going was the most popular commercial leisure activity in the first half of the twentieth century peaking in 1946 with 1 6 billion recorded admissions Though going to the pictures remained a popular pastime the transition to peacetime altered citizens leisure habits During the 1950s increased affluence the growth of television ownership and the diversification of leisure led to rapid declines in attendance Cinema attendances fell in all regions but the speed nature and extent of decline varied widely across the United Kingdom By linking national developments to detailed case studies of Belfast and Sheffield this book adds nuance to our understanding of regional variations in film exhibition audience habits and cinema going experiences during a period of profound social and cultural change Drawing on a wide range of quantitative and qualitative sources Cinema and Cinema Going conveys the diverse nature of this important industry and the significance of place as a determinant of film attendance in post war Britain      Sheffield and Its Region a Scientific and Historical Survey Pub by the Local Executive Cttee SHEFFIELD.,1956      Political Poetry as Discourse Angela M. Leonard,2010-01-01 Political Poetry as Discourse examines the works of the political poets John Greenleaf Whittier and Ebenezer Elliott drawing comparisons to contemporary hip hoppers who take their words from local newspapers and other discursive sources that they read hear and observe Local presses and news vehicles stand as cultural material forms that supply poets with words particularly words that congeal into patterns of language allowing the creation of a poetic discourse As readers of these poets apply techniques and theories of discourse analysis they reveal how poets borrow lift hijack or resituate words from one or more different genres to use as tools of political change Leonard engages with the critical toolboxes of content analysis semiosis and deconstruction to demonstrate how to critically investigate and interrogate the images sounds and words not just of politically engaged poets but also of any disseminator of culture and news Moving beyond theory into praxis this book becomes a model of its own transgressive premise by thinking analyzing writing and teaching against the grain Its focus on language as unbounded discourse makes this book a relevant and insightful demonstration in democratic pedagogy and in teaching for transformation Conflict and Compromise Dennis Smith,2016-06-17 First published in 1982 this study explores the dynamics of class formation during the vital decades between 1830 and 1914 when a rising urban industrial order was developing in complex interdependence with a declining rural agrarian order The book follows the divergent paths of two cities Birmingham and Sheffield in their social development These paths reflect the complex process of conflict and compromise as the old order was gradually replaced by the new It studies in detail many aspects of social life that were affected by these changes such as education public administration political structures public administration religion the professions popular culture and family This book will be of interest to those studying Victorian history and sociology A Tale Of Two Cities Karen Evans,Penny Fraser,Ian Taylor,2002-11-01 A Tale of Two Cities is a study of two major cities Manchester and Sheffield Drawing on the work of major theorists the authors explore the everyday life making contributions to our understanding of the defining activities of life The Geomorphology of North-west England Richard Hugh Johnson,1985 A Tale of Two Cities Ian Taylor,Karen Evans,Penny Fraser,1996 A Tale of Two Cities is a study of two major cities Manchester and Sheffield Drawing on the work of major theorists the authors explore the everyday life making contributions to our understanding of the defining activities of life Remembered Places, Forgotten Pasts Tim Cockrell,2017-10-31 South Yorkshire and the North Midlands have long been ignored or marginalized in narratives of British Prehistory In this book unpublished data is used for the first time in a work of synthesis to reconstruct the prehistory of the earliest communities across the River Don drainage basin Sheffield Ruth Harman,John Minnis,Roger H. Harper,2004-01-01 Sheffield has been synonymous with steelmaking since the eighteenth century and with cutlery for centuries before that But while it has an extraordinary variety of industrial buildings connected to its metal trades there is another side to what is England s least known big city Set amidst magnificent scenery it has some surprising survivals of its earlier history as well as handsome public commercial and religious buildings designed by its Victorian local architects The leafy western suburbs that rise towards the Peak District were described by Sir John Betjeman as the finest in England The 1950s and 60s saw the city famed for its innovative public housing university buildings and churches After the decline of its manufacturing sector in the 1980s major new venues for sport and entertainment the prize winning Peace Gardens and exciting new buildings such as the Millennium Galleries Winter Garden and Persistence Works are visible signs of a renaissance in the city's fortunes This is the first comprehensive architectural guide to Sheffield It describes the buildings of the city centre and those of the inner suburbs within a two mile radius of it It also covers the lower Don valley still the heart of Sheffield's steel industry the outer suburbs to the west where those who made their fortunes from it lived in splendour and there are excursions to some outstanding buildings on the outskirts Major buildings including the Town Hall the two Cathedrals and the Winter Garden are given more detailed treatment as are the two Universities The central areas are the subject of walks those further out have suggested tours by car Illustrated throughout in colour with specially commissioned photographs and with these images augmented by historic maps paintings and drawings Sheffield will enable residents to look at familiar buildings in a fresh light and encourage visitors to discover for themselves the city's enticing contrasts of industrial heritage and natural beauty

Bronze Age Landscapes Joanna Bruck, 2002-02-01 This volume is a collection of essays which exemplify the range and diversity of work currently being undertaken on the regional landscapes of the British Bronze Age and the progress which has been made in both theoretical and interpretive debate Together these papers reflect the vibrancy of current research and promote a closer marriage of landscape site and material culture studies

The Victorian Music Hall Dagmar Kift, 1996-10-24 With the exception of the occasional local case study music hall history has until now been presented as the history of the London halls This book attempts to redress the balance by setting music hall history within a national perspective Kift also sheds a new light on the roles of managements performers and audiences For example the author confutes the commonly held assumption that most women in the halls were prostitutes and shows them to have been working women accompanied by workmates of both sexes or by their families She argues that before the 1890s the halls catered predominantly to working class and lower middle class audiences of men and women of all ages and were instrumental in giving them a strong and self confident identity The hall s ability to sustain a distinct class awareness was one of their greatest strengths but this factor was also at the root of many of the controversies which surrounded them These controversies are at the centre of the book and Kift treats them as test cases for social relations which provide fresh insights into nineteenth century British society and politics the cambridge economic history of europe Edwin Ernest Rich,1967
