Iain Sinclair Robert Sheppard, 2007 This study covers Iain Sinclair's major works but also seeks to trace the connections between his writings and earlier books of poetry Violence and Dystopia Daniel Cojocaru, 2015-09-18 Violence and Dystopia is a critical examination of imitative desire scapegoating and sacrifice in selected contemporary Western dystopian narratives through the lens of Ren Girard's mimetic theory The first chapter offers an overview of the history of Western utopia dystopia with a special emphasis on the problem of conflictive mimesis and scapegoating violence and a critical introduction to Girard's theory The second chapter is devoted to J G Ballard's seminal novel Crash 1973 Chuck Palahniuk's Fight Club 1996 and Rant 2007 and Brad Anderson's film The Machinist 2004 It is argued that the car crash functions as a metaphor for conflictive mimetic desire and leads to a quasi sacrificial crisis as defined by Girard for archaic religion The third chapter focuses on the psychogeographical writings of Iain Sinclair and Peter Ackroyd Walking the streets of London the pedestrian represents the excluded underside of the world of Ballardian speed The walking subject is portrayed in terms of the expelled victim of Girardian theory The fourth chapter considers violent crowds as portrayed by Ballard's late fiction the writings of Stewart Home and David Peace's GB84 2004 In accordance with Girard's hypothesis the discussed narratives reveal the failure of scapegoat expulsion to restore peace to the potentially self destructive violent crowds The fifth chapter examines the post apocalyptic environments resulting from failed scapegoat expulsion and mimetic conflict out of control as portrayed in Sinclair's Radon Daughters 1994 Margaret Atwood's The Handmaid's Tale 1985 and Oryx and Crake 2003 and Will Self's The Book of Dave 2006

Growing Up on the Cul de Sac Essdale Wilson, 2003-02-28 Growing up on the cul de sac will insert you into the stories of people in the suburb as you uncover their lives while they grow recalling your own existence Some of the reading will invoke nostalgia some will evoke laughter as you recall your youth and some will touch you in ways that are heart warming Essdale takes you onto the path of a boy and girl who must cope with the problems of youth adjust to a world that no one can describe accurately and struggle to overcome the obstacles that we all meet on the road of life It is also about parenting coping with conflict and problem solving

City Visions Jenny Bavidge, Robert Bond, 2021-03-04 City Visions The Work of Iain Sinclair collects fourteen pathbreaking essays treating the panoramic oeuvre of novelist poet filmmaker and essayist Iain Sinclair This book aims to reflect and develop the current strong interest in the work of Sinclair who is widely recognized as one of the most significant figures in contemporary British literature and culture The essays herein cover the key genres and periods of Sinclair's output discussing his poetry prose and filmmaking and are developed from the proceedings of the first academic conference on Sinclair which was held at the University of Greenwich in 2004 Following the introductory chapter which includes a brief survey of Sinclair's career up until now the collection is arranged thematically in four sections The first part Contexts features essays which comment on the critical categorization and definition of Sinclair's work The second part Culture and Critique includes essays which explore the political import and contexts of Sinclair's oeuvre The articles in the third part Connections look at the links between Sinclair and other writers addressing the often noted intertextuality of his writing and the final section Spaces contains three considerations of Sinclair's treatment of London's urban spaces This collection provides access to the latest research by the leading scholars working in this area and will be a key point of reference for anyone interested in Sinclair's production To some the field of London writing may increasingly look like an indifferent over populated wasteland Iain Sinclair however remains pre eminent by virtue not only of the amplitude of his knowledge of the city but of the intensity and complexity of his thought about it He is the redemptive memorialist of a host of disregarded London cultures that lie quite beyond the reach of contemporary pieties In that respect he is less our Blake as he sometimes seems to believe than our Pepys or our Defoe At the same time he is an audacious experimenter with prose forms in the modernist tradition from Joyce to Burroughs and beyond Like the Sinclair phenomenon itself this valuable collection of essays is multifaceted illuminating its subject from a variety of different angles whilst very well aware that it is part of a work in progress It offers important testimony to the scope and power of a writer engaged in an original serious and necessary project Andrew Gibson Research Professor of Modern Literature and Theory Royal Holloway University of London This is an important and timely collection about arguably the most significant living London writer who is increasingly being recognised as an important contemporary English author in every sense Lawrence Phillips Principal Lecturer in English University of Northampton At last Iain Sinclair has the readers he deserves at least on the ample often provocative and always fascinating evidence of City Visions a collection of essays marked equally by panache and verve awareness of alternative cultural history and theoretical sophistication Over fourteen chapters critics with wide ranging interests gather their restless energies and obsessions in response to the scatter gun agitprop and guerilla intellectualism of Sinclair to produce a necessary and necessarily edgy volume In this admirably relentless collection Jenny Bavidge and Robert Bond offer an unnerving and inventive critical topography that uncovers the dark heart of a writer who is simultaneously the enfant terrible and minence grise of English letters Belles lettrists and other dilettantes be warned this is not a volume for the faint hearted these essays manifest an evangelical zeal equal to their subject s own in doing so they take us on an exhilarating intellectual adventure so refreshing in the world of lit crit where the polite formulas of sensible reading make one want to faint from ennui Professor Julian Wolfreys Loughborough University Will Shakespeare and the Ships of Solomon Christopher Grey, 2014-07-01 In the fall of 1947 Will Shakespeare saw the world collapse around him Shakespeare a secret soldier for the Knights Templar barely escapes the slaughter of his entire knighthood at the hands of a rogue militant arm of the Vatican in a small Montreal church With orders to escort Templar business associate Dorothy Wilkinson back to her home in Bermuda Will must locate and rescue the most important secret treasure in human history before it is devoured by a hurricane in the watery caves beneath her father s property The spiraling quest sends Will and Dorothy into uncovering dark secrets that make up the origins of the knighthood as they confront the traps and puzzles that masterfully protect the world s most coveted treasure Outlines of Church history, tr. by M. Sinclair Rudolph Sohm, 1895 The Armageddon Conspiracy Mike Hockney, 2011-09-30 King Solomon is one of the Bible s most famous figures responsible for building the Holy Temple that housed the Ark of the Covenant Yet Solomon died as an apostate How could a man fabled for his wisdom reach the conclusion that God was false The Armageddon Conspiracy reveals the answer to this greatest Biblical mystery The Temple of Solomon was not the house of God at all but a special chamber designed to contain a unique weapon for which Solomon had the most astounding purpose in mind Solomon a man obsessed with witchcraft and magic believed he had found the key to the supreme mystery of life but he died before he could complete his mission The world s oldest secret society of which Solomon was the Grand Master still exists and now its members are about to perform the final cataclysmic ceremony Solomon had planned for so long Could it bring the universe to an end Contemporary British Fiction and the Artistry of Space David James, 2011-10-20 This study examines the importance of space for the way contemporary novelists experiment with style and form offering an account of how British writers from the past three decades have engaged with landscape description as a catalyst for innovation David James considers the work of more than fifteen major British novelists to offer a wide ranging and accessible commentary on the relationship between landscape and narrative design demonstrating an approach to the geography of contemporary fiction enriched by the practice of aesthetic criticism Moving between established and emerging novelists the book reveals that spatial poetics allow us to chart distinctive and surprising affinities between practitioners showing how writers today compel us to pay close attention to technique when linking the depiction of physical places to new developments in novelistic craft
