Singing in Tune with Time Elizabeth Cairns,1993      An Introduction to Gerontology Ian Stuart-Hamilton,2011-03-31

With the world's population getting increasingly older there has never been a more pressing need for the study of old age and ageing An Introduction to Gerontology provides a wide ranging introduction to this important topic By assuming no prior expert knowledge and avoiding jargon this book will guide students through all the main subjects in gerontology covering both traditional areas such as biological and social ageing and more contemporary areas such as technology the arts and sexuality An Introduction to Gerontology is written by a team of international authors with multidisciplinary backgrounds who draw evidence from a variety of different perspectives and traditions      Fierce with Reality Margaret

Cruikshank,2016-12-01 The anthology is far more culturally diverse than the few other literary collections on aging Ranging from ancient Chinese poetry to Mary Oliver Alice Walker and Willie Nelson the anthology includes poetry fiction philosophical essays personal essays humor analyses of ageism and folktales from Asia and Iraq Fierce with Reality highlights writings by women from late 19th century American literature to the present Many facets of aging are explored revealing the challenges and complexities of late life and demonstrating that the aging process is both individual and social cultural Fierce with Reality aimed at a general audience as well as students and professors would be ideal for book groups      The Older

Woman in Recent Fiction Zoe Brennan,2014-12-09 This critical study explores late twentieth century novels by women writers including Doris Lessing May Sarton and Barbara Pym that feature female protagonists over the age of sixty These novels discourses on aging contrast with those largely pejorative ones that dominate Western society They break the silence that normally surrounds the lives of the aged and this book investigates how older female protagonists are represented in relation to areas such as sexuality dependence and everyday life Beginning with an investigation of popular opinions about aging and a survey of hypotheses from disciplines including gerontology psychology and feminism the text reviews literary critical attitudes toward fictions of aging analyzes representations of physically dependent characters whose anger over their failing bodies is often eased by relationships with their female friends discusses how paradigms of female sexuality exclude the possibility of older women being sexually desirable examines characters that live a contented life finding a more polemical side to them than is noted in more conventional literary critiques and analyzes the aged sleuth in classical detective fiction      Reminiscence Work with Old People Clare Gillies,Anne James,2013-11-11 Perhaps being old is like having lighted rooms Inside your head and people in them acting People you know but can't quite name Philip Larkin This book is about those very old people who have a great many memories but few friends left to share them with It is about valuing and using their memories to enhance the quality of their lives that is about reminiscence work Many professionals offer this help to older people including nurses social workers occupational therapists and clinical psychologists as do families and voluntary workers Its elements can be incorporated into day to day contacts with older people or it may take place in more structured settings The transitional period from mature middle age to dependent old age is neither distinct nor precise It does not occur at an identifiable time it may be prolonged and it may not be obvious to the old people or their families Loss of autonomy the inability to cope unaided with the tasks of daily living and increasing physical and mental frailty probably signal the area of transition The diminished self confidence that some old people feel at this time may be compounded by personal loss and financial difficulties enforced changes in their lifestyles may also add to their confusion
