Baughman, 2007-03-26 Outstanding Academic Title for 2007 Choice Magazine Ever wonder how American television came to be the much derided advertising heavy home to reality programming formulaic situation comedies hapless men and buxom scantily clad women Could it have been something different focusing instead on culture theater and performing arts In Same Time Same Station historian James L Baughman takes readers behind the scenes of early broadcasting examining corporate machinations that determined the future of television Split into two camps those who thought TV could meet and possibly raise the expectations of wealthier better educated post war consumers and those who believed success meant mimicking the products of movie houses and radio decision makers fought a battle of ideas that peaked in the 1950s just as TV became a central facet of daily life for most Americans Baughman's engagingly written account of the brief but contentious debate shows how the inner workings and outward actions of the major networks advertisers producers writers and entertainers ultimately made TV the primary forum for entertainment and information The tale of television's founding years reveals a series of decisions that favored commercial success over cultural aspiration They'll Never Put That on the Air Allan Neuwirth, 2010-09-07 In the 1950s Lucille Ball couldn't even say the word pregnant on TV But by the 1990s Carrie Bradshaw and her posse could say everything there is to say about sex and demonstrate most of it How have broadcast standards changed from the dawn of television till today Through interviews with the creators of landmark shows author Allan Neuwirth traces that history revealing how the upheaval of the 1960s led to edgier fare such as The Smothers Brothers

Comedy Hour how counterculture baby boomers made Saturday Night Live style satire possible how stand up comedians changed the sitcom landscape how UPN and the WB raised eyebrows with comedies aimed at minorities and much more In this age of FCC crackdowns They ll Never Put That on the Air is as timely as it is entertaining and informative Firsthand accounts of life in the TV trenches from producers and writers Handy genealogy chart traces TV comedy from the 1950s to today Insider author is an award winning producer director and writer of TV comedy Allworth Press an imprint of Skyhorse Publishing publishes a broad range of books on the visual and performing arts with emphasis on the business of art Our titles cover subjects such as graphic design theater branding fine art photography interior design writing acting film how to start careers business and legal forms business practices and more While we don t aspire to publish a New York Times bestseller or a national bestseller we are deeply committed to quality books that help creative professionals succeed and thrive We often publish in areas overlooked by other publishers and welcome the author whose expertise can help our audience of readers
