Twiss,2018-03-08 Inspired by the 1993 Parliament of the Worlds Religions this volume for the first time brings the scholarly discipline of comparative religious ethics into constructive collaboration with the community of interreligious dialogue The contributors draw from both communities of discourse in addressing questions of method and theory and global moral issues such as human rights distributive justice politics of war international business the environment and genocide in a cross

cultural context Inspired by the 1993 Parliament of the World's Religions this volume for the first time brings the scholarly discipline of comparative religious ethics into constructive collaboration with the community of interreligious dialogue Its design is premised on two important insights First interreligious dialogue offers to comparative religious ethics a new more persuasive rationale agenda of issues and practical orientation Second comparative religious ethics offers to interreligious dialogue an arsenal of critical tools and methods which will enhance the sophistication of its practical work In this way both theory a dominant concern and strength of comparative religious ethics and praxis a dominant concern and strength of interreligious moral dialogue are joined together in mutual effort each contributing to the benefit of the other The volumes contributors share this vision of collaboration drawing explicitly from both communities of discourse in a manner that crosses disciplinary and professional boundaries to deal creatively and constructively with important methodological and global moral issue Although theory and practice cannot easily be separated in such a collaborative project for the purpose of clarity the volume is divided into two main parts The first specifically engages questions of method theory and the social role of the public intellectual the second on substantive moral themes and issues many of which were raised at the 1993 Parliament Taken together the volumes essays articulate and illustrate new ways of approaching contemporary moral concerns cross culturally yet with a rigor appropriate to our complex and pluralistic world

The Monday Rhetoric of the Love Club, and Other Parables Marvin Cohen, 1973 What Mr Cohen has is a joy in language and an eye at once innocent and shrewd for the paradoxes inherent in the human condition P 4 of cover

Love Has No Boundaries Dirk Craig, 2000-10 Book Description LOVE HAS NO BOUNDARIES is a powerful story of love forgiveness personal growth and courage This contemporary drama brings together an abused wife of a truck driver and a man who moves next door whose wife is a quadriplegic and overcome with guilt from the accident which took the life of their only son LOVE HAS NO BOUNDARIES will challenge you to question the boundaries of love that man and morality have put into our souls and to rejoice in the power of the human spirit

The Target; Love, Death and Airline Deregulation J. R. Hauptman, 2008 Novel set in the late nineteen eighties recounting first years of airline deregulation and the effects it had on that industry and its employees Corporate raider Carlo Clemenza is the chief villain of the piece He uses junk bonds uncompromising Soviet styled negotiation tactics sham bankruptcies and ruthless abrogation of union contracts to crush competing airlines and to bring airline workers to heel His methods earn him countless death threats Thousands of professional pilots find themselves compelled to start their careers over or with no careers at all One pilot decides to take direct action and makes Clemenza The target But his pursuit of the well protected Clemenza makes him a target in turn
