Martin Luther and the Shaping of the Catholic Tradition Nelson

H. Minnich, Michael Root, 2022-01-14 The relation of the Catholic Church to the Reformation that Luther set in motion is complex The Reformation had roots in the late medieval Catholic tradition and the Catholic reaction to the Reformation altered Catholicism in complex ways both positive and negative A conference entitled Luther and the shaping of the Catholic tradition held at The Catholic University of America with thirteen Catholic Orthodox and Protestant speakers from Germany Finland France the Vatican and the United States addresses these issues and shed new light on the historical theological and cultural relationship between Luther and the Catholic tradition It contributes to deepening and extending the recent ecumenical tradition of Luther Catholic studies

Lutheran Music and the Thirty Years War Derek L. Stauff, 2025-02-26

This book takes a new look at sacred music written in present day central Germany during the Thirty Years War 1618-48 and in doing so reveals distinct connections between religious works and the historical and political contexts in which they emerged As author Derek L. Stauff asserts specific Lutheran biblical motets and sacred concertos engage with the war's events people and politics in more detailed and meaningful ways than previously imagined Composers working in Saxony like Heinrich Schütz, Johann Hermann Schein, Tobias Michael and Andreas Hammerschmidt crafted these connections by deftly selecting biblical texts that specifically resonated with the war by setting their texts in ways that amplify these resonances and by performing this music in politically meaningful contexts As a result their music could take on a variety of war-related meanings some pieces represent the Lutheran church and community stoking fears about Catholic political aggression and religious persecution warning Lutherans of the grave peril in which their church was foundering and comforting believers with promises of God's protection Other works celebrate contemporary political and military alignments such as the Swedish Saxon alliance 1631-35 and its victory at the Battle of Breitenfeld 1631 and close scrutiny of a few musical pieces reveals hidden or implicit critique of a controversial decree like the Edict of Restitution 1628 or of the excesses of Swedish troops Stauff investigates the scriptural texts at the root of this repertoire drawing on theological and devotional writings to show how early modern Lutherans connected these texts to the war and its political disputes He also reconstructs the political contexts in which some works were performed or published while his analyses focus chiefly on Saxony especially Leipzig they also remain relevant to other Lutheran regions of the Holy Roman Empire In a repertoire that might all too easily appear to uniformly preach peace and protest war or to float timelessly in a liturgical space undisturbed by contemporary affairs Stauff decisively shows how Lutheran composers actively reflected on and responded to the war as well as the political and religious struggles underpinning it through their sacred music
