Mab And Songs Ed By Fabrice Fitch:

The Flower of Paradise David J. Rothenberg, 2011-10-05 There is a striking similarity between Marian devotional songs and secular love songs of the late Middle Ages and Renaissance Two disparate genres one sacred the other secular one Latin the other vernacular both praise an idealized impossibly virtuous woman Each does so through highly stylized derivations of traditional medieval song forms Marian prayer derived from earlier Gregorian chant and love songs and lyrics from medieval courtly song Yet despite their obvious similarities the two musical and poetic traditions have rarely been studied together Author David J Rothenberg takes on this task with remarkable success producing a useful and broad introduction to Marian music and liturgy and then coupling that with an incisive comparative analysis of these devotional forms and the words and music of secular love songs of the period The Flower of Paradise examines the interplay of Marian devotional and secular poetics within polyphonic music from ca 1200 to ca 1500 Through case studies of works that demonstrate a specific symbolic resonance between Marian devotion and secular song the book illustrates the distinctive ethos of this period in European culture Rothenberg makes use of an impressive command of liturgical and religious studies literature and poetry and art history to craft a study with wide application across disciplinary boundaries With its broad scope and unique incisive analysis this book will open up new ways of thinking about the history and development of secular and sacred music and the Marian tradition for scholars students and anyone with an interest in medieval and Renaissance religious culture

Essays on Renaissance Music in Honour of David Fallows Fabrice Fitch, Jacobijn Kiel, 2011 New articles on du Fay and Desprez on sacred and secular music and reception history form a fitting tribute to one of the field's foremost scholars This volume celebrates the work of David Fallows one of the most influential scholars in the field of medieval and Renaissance music It draws together articles by scholars from around the world focusing on key topics to which Fallows has contributed significantly the life and works of Guillaume Du Fay and of Josquin Desprez archival studies and biography sacred and secular music of the late mediaeval and Renaissance period and reception history Studies include major archival discoveries concerning the identity of the composer Fremin Caron a reconsideration of the authorship of works within the Josquin canon notably Mille regretz and Absalon fili mi a fresh look at key works from Du Fay's youth and early maturity accounts of newly discovered sources and works and an appraisal of David Fallows' contribution to the early music performance movement by Christopher Page former director of Gothic Voices The collection also includes two newly published compositions dedicated to the honoree Fabrice Fitch teaches at the Royal Northern College of Music Jacobijn Kiel is an independent scholar Contributors Rob C Wegman Jane Alden Bonnie J Blackburn Honey Meconi Gianluca D'Agostino Andrew Kirkman Jaap van Benthem Margaret Bent James Haar Alenjandro Enrique Planchart Jesse Rodin Lorenz Welker Kinuho Endo Joshua Rifkin Thomas Schmidt Beste Richard Sherr Peter Wright Fabrice Fitch Tess Knighton Warwick Edwards Adam Knight Gilbert Markus Jans Oliver Neighbour Anthony Rooley Keith Polk John Milsom Jeffrey J Dean Eric Jas Peter G lke Iain Fenlon Barbara Haggh Dagmar Hoffmann Axthelm Leofranc Holford-Strevens Andrea Lindmayr Brandl Esperanza Rodríguez García Eugén Schreurs Reinhard Strohm The Cambridge History of Fifteenth-Century Music Anna Maria Busse Berger, Jesse Rodin, 2015-07-16 Through forty-five creative and concise essays by an international team of authors this Cambridge History brings the fifteenth century to life for both specialists and general readers Combining the best qualities of survey texts and scholarly literature the book offers authoritative overviews of central composers genres and musical institutions as well as new and provocative reassessments of the work concept the boundaries between improvisation and composition the practice of listening humanism musical borrowing and other topics Multidisciplinary studies of music and architecture feasting poetry politics liturgy and religious devotion rub shoulders with studies of compositional techniques musical notation music manuscripts and reception history Generously illustrated with figures and examples this volume paints a vibrant picture of musical life in a period characterized by extraordinary innovation and artistic achievement

Sensory Reflections Fiona Griffiths, Kathryn Starkey, 2018-10-22 This volume draws on emerging scholarship at the intersection of two already vibrant fields medieval material culture and medieval sensory experience The rich potential of medieval matter most obviously manuscripts and visual imagery but also liturgical objects coins textiles architecture graves etc to complement and even transcend purely textual sources is by now well established in medieval scholarship across the disciplines So too attention to medieval sensory experiences most prominently emotion has transformed our understanding of medieval religious life and spirituality violence power and authority friendship and constructions of both the self and the other Our purpose in this volume is to draw the two approaches together plumbing medieval material sources for traces of sensory experience above all ephemeral and physical experiences that unlike emotion are rarely fully described or articulated in texts The Chamber Musician in the Twenty-First Century Mine Doğan-Dack, 2022-07-07 In recent research

there has been growing emphasis on the collaborative social and collective nature of musical behaviour and practices Among the emerging hypotheses in this connection are the idea that listening to music is always listening together and being with the other that music making is a matter of intercorporeality mutuality and emphatic attunement and that creative agency in musical practices is fundamentally a distributed phenomenon Chamber music provides an ideal context for the testing and actualization of these notions This Special Issue on chamber music and the chamber musician aims to explore the psychological social cultural historical and artistic issues in the practice of classical chamber music in the twenty first century Contributions are invited on any of these aspects and issues involved in being a contemporary classical chamber musician Authors are encouraged to contextualise their research by reference to the recent literature on collaborative musicking and among the topics they may choose to address are the cultural and musical demands chamber musicians face and the implications of these demands for their artistic practice the ways the twenty first century chamber musicians engage with historical practices the newly emerging musical identities and artistic roles available to them and expressivity in current chamber music practices

Seabright,2024-05-14 Longlisted for the Financial Times and Schroders Business Book of the Year Award A novel economic interpretation of how religions have become so powerful in the modern world Religion in the twenty first century is alive and well across the world despite its apparent decline in North America and parts of Europe Vigorous competition between and within religious movements has led to their accumulating great power and wealth Religions in many traditions have honed their competitive strategies over thousands of years Today they are big business like businesses they must recruit raise funds disburse budgets manage facilities organize transportation motivate employees and get their message out In The Divine Economy economist Paul Seabright argues that religious movements are a special kind of business they are platforms bringing together communities of members who seek many different things from one another spiritual fulfilment friendship and marriage networks even business opportunities Their function as platforms he contends is what has allowed religions to consolidate and wield power This power can be used for good especially when religious movements provide their members with insurance against the shocks of modern life and a sense of worth in their communities It can also be used for harm political leaders often instrumentalize religious movements for authoritarian ends and religious leaders can exploit the trust of members to inflict sexual emotional financial or physical abuse or to provoke violence against outsiders Writing in a nonpartisan spirit Seabright uses insights from economics to show how religion and secular society can work together in a world where some people feel no need for religion but many continue to respond with enthusiasm to its call The New Grove Dictionary of Music and Musicians: Harpégé to Hutton Stanley Sadie, John Tyrrell, 2001 This reference classic has approximately doubled in size since its last publication 20 years ago and the expansion involves more than the thorough revision and addition of articles about music of the past More articles about 20th century composers and composer performers have been added as well as topical articles about the gender related multicultural and interdisciplinary ways that music is now being studied Add to these changes that New Grove is also available online making it a source that would have made its many faceted creator Sir George Grove proud Outstanding reference sources American Libraries May 2002
