A Study Guide for Wole Soyinka's "Civilian and Soldier" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016

Asian American Poets Guiyou Huang, 2002-05-30 Even though Asian American literature is enjoying an impressive critical popularity attention has focused primarily on longer narrative forms such as the novel And despite the proliferation of a large number of poets of Asian descent in the 20th century Asian American poetry remains a neglected area of study Poetry as an elite genre has not reached the level of popularity of the novel or short story partly due to the difficulties of reading and interpreting poetic texts The lack of criticism on Asian American poetry speaks to the urgent need for scholarship in this area since perhaps more than any other genre poetry most forcefully captures the intense feelings and emotions that Asian Americans have experienced about themselves and their world This reference book overviews the tremendous cultural contributions of Asian American poets Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 48 American poets of Asian descent most of whom have been active during the latter half of the 20th century Each entry begins with a short biography which sometimes includes information drawn from personal interviews The entries then discuss the poet's major works and themes including such concerns as family racism sexism identity language and politics A survey of the poet's critical reception follows In many cases the existing criticism is scant and the entries offer new readings of neglected works The entries conclude with bibliographies of primary and secondary texts and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography

Against All Authority Jeff Shantz, 2012-08-08 This volume examines historical and contemporary engagements of anarchism and literary production Anarchists have used literary production to express opposition to values and relations characterizing advanced capitalist and socialist societies while also expressing key aspects of the alternative values and institutions proposed within anarchism Among favoured themes are anarchist critiques of corporatization prisons and patriarchal relations as well as explorations of developing anarchist perspectives on revolution ecology polysexuality and mutual aid A key component of anarchist perspectives is the belief that means and ends must correspond Thus in anarchist literature as in anarchist politics a radical approach to form is as important as content Anarchist literature joins other critical approaches to creative production in attempting to break down divisions between readers and writer audience and artist encouraging all to become active participants in the creative process

Coming of Age in Chinese Literature and Cinema Andrea Riemenschneider,Kiu-wai Chu,Mung Ting Chung,2025-10-01 With the inclusion of twelve original articles by established and emerging international scholars this volume offers critical reading of literary and cinematic texts produced in China and Sinophone communities between the 1950s and 2010s. The articles portray the lineage and mutations of the Chinese Bildungsroman providing insights into the tensions between individual and society, nation and the world, and the multiple social, ecological, and virtual realities of recent decades. Concerned with how coming of age narratives have persistently returned and evolved over time, the book addresses themes such as family and social change, gender, class, and generational divides, local, global politics, and the ecological and posthuman turns in Chinese Sinophone culture. It offers a fresh look on how the transnational and transgenerational journeys of Bildungsroman and coming of age narratives continuously transform and reinvigorate generic conventions to explore adolescence as a formative social force and aesthetic experience in Chinese Sinophone literature and film. This book aims to open up dialogues for better understanding emergent cultural forms that reflect social instability arising from the global spread of contemporary neo-liberal capitalism and to constitute the foundation of an innovative history of Sinophone literature. It does not only take into account the complicated survival struggles of the subjects of Mao's revolution, including refugee immigrants, turned colonial subjects, but also the interaction between literature and the arts, as well as between human and nonhuman agents, place, material culture, nature, etc.

In Gratitude for All the Gifts Magdalena Kay, 2012-06-30. In Gratitude for All the Gifts explores the literary and cultural links between the bestselling Nobel Prize-winning Northern Irish poet Seamus Heaney and the preeminent Eastern European poets of the twentieth century, including fellow Nobel laureate Czesław Miłosz and Zbigniew Herbert. Magdalena Kay opens new ground in comparative literary studies with her close analysis of Heaney's poetic work from the perspective of the English-speaking West's attraction and especially Heaney's own attraction to Eastern European poetry. While placing Miłosz and Herbert in their cultural contexts and keeping an eye on the poems in their original Polish, this innovative and energetic study focuses on how Heaney encountered their work in translation. In Gratitude for All the Gifts thus allows us to see what happens when poetic forms, histories, and themes travel between countries and encourages us to understand cultural crossing not just thematically but also in terms of form, voice, and aesthetic intent.

ANTHOLOGY OF CONTEMPORARY POETRY Vandana Kumar, Sharad Raj, Anshuman Gaur, 2021-11-24. Poetry can be for individual pleasure just like any art form can be following the individual heart and the artist's whims and fancies, and then the world is free to accept or reject it. Even in that, there is something of society that the artist creates. No work of art exists in a vacuum. The common lament is that there are not enough poets and too many politicians. But it is equally true that there are poets lurking in every hidden corner of a home waiting to be discovered. We
