Historicizing Secular-Religious Demarcations Monika Wohlrab-Sahr, Daniel Witte, Christoph Kleine, 2024-07-01 This volume aims to revitalize the exchange between sociological differentiation theory and the sociology of religion which previously held center stage among the sociological classics It brings together contributions from different disciplines as well as various forms of regional and historical expertise which are indispensable in forming a globally oriented sociological perspective today Secularization is understood as a process of boundary demarcation that is as the enactment of semantic practical and institutional distinctions between religion and other spheres of activity and knowledge These distinctions may emerge from within the religious field itself or may be absorbed into the field having originally emerged elsewhere They may even be directly imposed upon religion by external forces The volume is therefore based on the premise that societal differentiation and secularity as a specific expression of it is a widespread structural feature that nonetheless takes on various forms depending on its historical and cultural context In order to make this diversity visible the volume adopts a global comparative perspective and examines historical distinctions and differentiations in the West and beyond By examining different forms and modes of secularity in statu nascendi the volume contributes to developing a better understanding of the diversity of secularities even of those found in the present day in terms of their historicity and their specific path dependencies With this shift in perspective this special volume initiates a global and historical turn in the theory of differentiation as well as in the study of secularity Yearbook of Agriculture ,1926 Water United States.
