Risk, Participation, and Performance Practice Alice O'Grady, 2017-11-17 This book explores a range of contemporary performance practices that engage spectators physically and emotionally through active engagement and critical involvement It considers how risk has been re configured re presented and re packaged for new audiences with a thirst for performances that promote encourage and embrace risky encounters in a variety of forms The collection brings together established voices on performance and risk research and draws them into conversation with next generation academic practitioners in a dynamic reappraisal of what it means to risk oneself through the act of making and participating in performance practice It takes into account the work of other performance scholars for whom risk and precarity are central concerns but seeks to move the debate forwards in response to a rapidly changing world where risk is higher on the political economic and cultural agenda than ever before Peace Pedagogies in Bosnia and Herzegovina Larisa

Kasumagić-Kafedžić, Sara Clarke-Habibi, 2023-05-04 This collection presents interdisciplinary perspectives on educating for peace in Bosnia and Herzegovina It explores a range of theories contexts pedagogies and practices within formal education settings and draws attention to the multiple roles that teachers play in fostering socially transformative learning The volume offers readers a critical exploration of peace pedagogy as an imagined ideal and fluid space between post war educational politics institutional and curricular constraints and the lived experiences and identities of teachers and students in socially and historically situated communities The book highlights local voices initiatives and practices by illustrating good examples of how classrooms are being connected to communities teacher education programs and teachers continued professional development It demonstrates why and how the grammars of peace in Bosnia and Herzegovina are still in a state of flux and negotiation and what the implications are for classroom practice and pedagogy Recommendations are offered for policymakers curriculum developers teacher educators and teachers on how peace pedagogies can be promoted at all levels of the education system and through pre service and in service teacher education taking into account the structural uniqueness of the country Playing in a House of Mirrors Elinor Vettraino, Warren Linds, 2015-07-27 This book explores the concept of reflection through a dramaturgical lens as practitioners in a wide range of disciplines hold up the mirror to their own practice using theatre and theatricality as a way of unpacking their individual and collective practice Editors and authors consider the use of drama as the vehicle through which learning takes place for the leader facilitator or manager of an experience rather than the use of drama and theatre as a tool for learning subject content Reflective practice is an often cited term in the professional thesaurus of educators social work practitioners and health care workers It is perhaps less commonly thought of as the purview of leaders of industry marketing managers and scientists We define reflective practice in this context as the development of capacities to reflect on actions behaviours and attitudes that impact on your own practice or on the way others engage in their practice so as to be part of a process of continuous learning It is therefore crucial for any professional to understand how and why we behave and interact with others the way we do SAGE Qualitative
