Pouring Ketchup Dennis Cook,2012-09-20 When hurt imposes its crabby will on our lives many of us lock up the scars in our private journals We write down stuff that is for our eyes only Its a safe place to hide our fears failures and frustrations with ourself our friends and even God Journals are never meant to be read to the world because if we did they would reveal who we really are Nobody really wants to undress their soul in front of others to be made fun ofme included Somewhere behind the halleluiahs praise the Lords and God is good stuff there is this real place that only our journals have enough grace to accept Its a place where 1 1 doesnt equal 2 Its a place where you mix red and blue and get gray Its a place where you are mad at God and feel Hes mad at you Thats what journals hold the stories of our livesnot the way we always want them but the way they really are When God invited me to write a book exposing my journal to the world I politely rejected Him Okay not really politely I balked There is no way I am ever going to reveal what I spent a lifetime concealing God Im a pastor and these stories dont make me look good as you know some dont even make me look like a Christian God how about you and I make a deal On my forty seventh book I will let the world snoop around in my journal but not my first I refused to hand over the key to my journal knowing God would just blab it to the whole world I will not write a book that makes me look way more human than holy That all changed one day when five strangers walked into McDonalds and tried pouring ketchup
