develops an alternate tradition finding wonder in concert with the freedom of imagination found by degrees within much of human understanding The result is a constructive rereading of Nussbaum's oeuvre surprising for how it disencumbers her work of some falsehoods surrounding anxiety and anger and for the ways it implies an egalitarian politics of relational autonomy more socialist than liberal Misty Morrison's visual inquiry accompanies the book creating space for the reader to wonder Morrison paints and prints how families involve wonder starting with moments in her child's life when she wonders what they might see Nussbaum's Politics of Wonder is an important contribution to the philosophy of wonder and is crucial for understanding the work of a leading philosopher Wonder and Education Anders Schinkel, 2020-11-12 Many people whether educators or not will agree that an education that does not inspire wonder is barren Wonder is commonly perceived as akin to curiosity as stimulating inquiry and as something that enhances pleasure in learning but there are many experiences of wonder that do not have an obvious place in education In Wonder and Education Anders Schinkel theorises a kind of wonder with less obvious yet fundamental educational importance which he calls contemplative wonder Contemplative wonder disrupts frameworks of understanding that are taken for granted and perceived as natural and draws our attention to the world behind our constructions sparking our interest in the world as something worth attending to for its own sake rather than for our purposes It opens up space for the consideration of radical alternatives wherever it occurs and in many cases is linked with deep experiences of value therefore it is not just important for education in general but also more specifically for moral and political education A Sense of Place Annie Davy, 2019-02-07 Tried and tested accessible strategies that support the wellbeing and learning journey of children through mindfulness with a focus on learning outdoors and connecting with the world Being outside and connecting with nature is key to young children's learning and wellbeing especially in a busy fast changing and digitalised world Outdoors children can more easily connect to their bodies and learn about themselves and others and how to be in the world They use their senses to explore understand and become mindful of the earth and the people around them But how can Early Years practitioners best support young children as they engage with nature while also passing on the values about the future of the planet A Sense of Place is an easily accessible guide that will make outdoor learning more interesting and fun while also supporting children's development of resilience and resourcefulness so that they can survive and thrive in the world as they grow Balanced Wonder Jan B.
