Sensual Relations Engaging The Senses In Culture And Social Theory:

Sensual Relations David Howes, 2003-10-21 With audacious dexterity David Howes weaves together topics ranging from love and beauty magic in Papua New Guinea to nasal repression in Freudian psychology and from the erasure and recovery of the senses in contemporary ethnography to the specter of the body in Marx Through this eclectic and penetrating exploration of the relationship between sensory experience and cultural expression Sensual Relations contests the conventional exclusion of sensuality from intellectual inquiry and reclaims sensation as a fundamental domain of social theory David Howes is Professor of Anthropology Concordia University Montreal Quebec

Doing Sensory Ethnography Sarah Pink, 2009-08-05 In this important and groundbreaking book Sarah Pink suggests re thinking the ethnographic process through reflexive attention to what she terms the sensoriality of the experience practice and knowledge of both researchers and those who participate in their research The book provides an accessible analysis of the theoretical methodological and practical aspects of doing sensory ethnography drawing on examples and case studies from the growing literature on sensory ethnographic studies and from the author's own work

Doing Ethnography in the Wake of the Displacement of Transnational Sex Workers in Yokohama Ayaka Yoshimizu, 2021-11-23 Doing Ethnography in the Wake of the Displacement of Transnational Sex Workers in Yokohama reflects on the politics poetics and ethics of remembering the lives of transnational migrant sex workers in postcolonial Japan Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork in the port city of Yokohama the book focuses on the water trade in the Koganecho neighbourhood where exploitative and stigmatised labour took place involving sexual services performed by migrant women In recent years the city has sought to rebrand Koganecho evicting transnational migrant sex workers who had been integral to postindustrial development and erasing their past presence The author explores Yokohama's memoryscapes in the aftermath of displacement through embodied knowledge engaging her senses and ethics as a colonizer researcher as she navigates the elusive past through traces that remain in the present She examines the city's built environment official historical narratives films and photographic works With few brothels and workers remaining Yoshimizu fills the gap with her own interactions encounters and imaginings Yoshimizu also writes through the imagery of water in ways that are informed by the local usage and imaginations the ocean flowing rivers swamps humidity alcohol the fluidity of relationships and transient lives The water also offers a way to sense the ghost or the displaced lives and the effects of displacement that like humid air stick to those who occupy or inhabit the site of displacement today This interdisciplinary work makes a valuable contribution to sensory studies memory studies migration studies and Asian studies

The Multisensory Museum Nina Levent, Alvaro Pascual-Leone, 2014-03-06 Recent research in the cognitive sciences gives us a new perspective on the cognitive and sensory landscape In The Multisensory Museum Cross Disciplinary Perspectives on Touch Sound Smell Memory and Space museum expert Nina Levent and Alvaro Pascual Leone professor of neurology at Harvard Medical School bring together scholars and museum practitioners from around the world to highlight new trends and untapped opportunities for using such modalities as scent sound and touch in museums to offer more immersive experiences and diverse sensory engagement for visually and otherwise impaired patrons Visitor studies describe how different personal and group identities color our cultural consumption and might serve as a compass on museum journeys Psychologists and educators look at the creation of memories through different types of sensory engagement with objects and how these memories in turn affect our next cultural experience An anthropological perspective on the history of our multisensory engagement with ritual and art objects especially in cultures that did not privilege sight over other senses allows us a glimpse of what museums might become in the future Education researchers discover museums as unique educational playgrounds that allow for a variety of learning styles active and passive exploration and participatory learning Designers and architects suggest a framework for thinking about design solutions for a museum environment that invites an intuitive multisensory and flexible exploration as well as minimizes physical hurdles While attention has been paid to accessibility for the physically impaired since passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act making buildings accessible is only the first small step in elevating museums to be centers of learning and culture for all members of their communities This landmark book will help all museums go much further Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies Ken

Albala,2013-05-07 Over the past decade there has been a remarkable flowering of interest in food and nutrition both within the popular media and in academia Scholars are increasingly using foodways food systems and eating habits as a new unit of analysis within their own disciplines and students are rushing into classes and formal degree programs focused on food Introduced by the editor and including original articles by over thirty leading food scholars from around the world the Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies offers students scholars and all those interested in food related research a one stop easy to use reference guide Each article includes a brief history of food research within a discipline or on a particular topic a discussion of research methodologies and ideological or theoretical positions resources for research including archives grants and fellowship opportunities as well as suggestions for further study Each entry also explains the logistics of succeeding as a student and professional in food studies This clear direct Handbook will appeal to those hoping to start a career in academic food studies as well as those hoping to shift their research to a food related project Strongly interdisciplinary this work will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities The

Sensory Studies Manifesto David Howes,2022-08-31 The senses are made not given This revolutionary realization has come as of late to inform research across the social sciences and humanities and is currently inspiring groundbreaking experimentation in the world of art and design where the focus is now on mixing and manipulating the senses The Sensory Studies Manifesto tracks these transformations and opens multiple lines of investigation into the diverse ways in which human beings sense and make sense of the world This unique volume treats the human sensorium as a dynamic whole that is best approached from historical anthropological geographic and sociological perspectives In doing so it has altered our understanding of sense perception by directing attention to the sociality of sensation and the cultural mediation of sense experience and expression David Howes challenges the assumptions of mainstream Western psychology by foregrounding the agency interactivity creativity and wisdom of the senses as shaped by culture The Sensory Studies Manifesto sets the stage for a radical reorientation of research in the human sciences and artistic practice The Sense of Sight in Rabbinic

Culture Rachel Neis,2013-08-29 This book explores the power of sight for ancient rabbis across the realms of divinity sexuality idolatry and rabbinic subjectivity Eating in Theory Annemarie Mol,2021-03-01 As we taste chew swallow digest and excrete our foods transform us while our eating in its turn affects the wider earthly environment In Eating in Theory Annemarie Mol takes inspiration from these transformative entanglements to rethink what it is to be human Drawing on fieldwork at food conferences research labs health care facilities restaurants and her own kitchen table Mol reassesses the work of authors such as Hannah Arendt Maurice Merleau Ponty Hans Jonas and Emmanuel Levinas They celebrated the allegedly unique capability of humans to rise above their immediate bodily needs Mol by contrast appreciates that as humans we share our fleshy substance with other living beings whom we cultivate cut into pieces transport prepare and incorporate and to whom we leave our excesses This has far reaching philosophical consequences Taking human eating seriously suggests a reappraisal of being as transformative knowing as entangling doing as dispersed and relating as a matter of inescapable dependence Sensational Religion Sally M. Promey,2014-06-24 The result of a collaborative multiyear project this groundbreaking book explores the interpretive worlds that inform religious practice and derive from sensory phenomena Under the rubric of making sense the studies assembled here ask How have people used and valued sensory data How have they shaped their material and immaterial worlds to encourage or discourage certain kinds or patterns of sensory experience How have they framed the sensual capacities of images and objects to license a range of behaviors including iconoclasm censorship and accusations of blasphemy or sacrilege Exposing the dematerialization of religion embedded in secularization theory editor Sally Promey proposes a fundamental reorientation in understanding the personal social political and cultural work accomplished in religion s sensory and material practice Sensational Religion refocuses scholarly attention on the robust material entanglements often discounted by modernity s metaphysic and on their inextricable connections to human bodies behaviors affects and beliefs

Sound Curriculum Walter S. Gershon,2017-06-26 Part of a growing group of works that addresses the burgeoning field of sound studies this book attends not only to theoretical and empirical examinations but also to methodological and philosophical considerations at the intersection of sound and education Gershon theoretically advances the rapidly expanding field of sound studies and simultaneously deepens conceptualizations and educational understandings across the fields of curriculum studies and foundations of education A feature of this work is the novel use of audio files aligned with the arguments within the book as well as the discussion and application of cutting edge qualitative research methods Perception Metaphors Laura J. Speed,Carolyn O'Meara,Lila San Roque,Asifa

Majid,2019-02-15 Metaphor allows us to think and talk about one thing in terms of another ratcheting up our cognitive and expressive capacity It gives us concrete terms for abstract phenomena for example ideas become things we can grasp or let go of Perceptual experience characterised as physical and relatively concrete should be an ideal source domain in metaphor and a less likely target But is this the case across diverse languages And are some sensory modalities perhaps more concrete than others This volume presents critical new data on perception metaphors from over 40 languages including many which are under studied Aside from the wealth of data from diverse languages modern and historical spoken and signed a variety of methods e g natural language corpora experimental and theoretical approaches are brought together This collection highlights how perception metaphor can offer both a bedrock of common experience and a source of continuing innovation in human communication

A Cultural History of the Senses in Antiquity Jerry Toner,2014-10-23 The ancient world used the senses to express an enormous range of cultural meanings Indeed the senses were functionally significant in all aspects of ancient life often in ways that were complex and interconnected Antiquity was also a period where the senses were experienced vividly cities stank statues were brightly painted and literature made full use of sensory imagery to create its effects In a steeply hierarchical world with vast differences between the landed wealthy the poor and the slaves the senses played a key role in establishing and maintaining boundaries between social groups but the use of the senses in the ancient world was not static New religions such as Christianity developed their own way of using the senses acquiring unique forms of sensory related symbolism in processes which were slow and often contested The aim of this volume is to provide an overview of these structures and developments and to show how their study can yield a more nuanced understanding of the ancient world A Cultural History of the Senses in Antiquity presents essays on the following topics the social life of the senses urban sensations the senses in the marketplace the senses in religion the senses in philosophy and science medicine and the senses the senses in literature art and the senses and sensory media

The senses in early modern England, 1558-1660 Simon Smith,Jacqueline Watson,Amy Kenny,2020-02-28 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license Considering a wide range of early modern texts performances and artworks the essays in this collection demonstrate how attention to the senses illuminates the literature art and culture of early modern England Examining canonical and less familiar literary works alongside early modern texts ranging from medical treatises to conduct manuals via puritan polemic and popular ballads the collection offers a new view of the senses in early modern England The volume offers dedicated essays on each of the five senses each relating works of art to their cultural moments whilst elsewhere the volume considers the senses collectively in particular cultural contexts It also pursues the sensory experiences that early modern subjects encountered through the very acts of engaging with texts performances and artworks This book will appeal to scholars of early modern literature and culture to those working in sensory studies and to anyone interested in the art and life of early modern England

Carnal Aesthetics Marta Zarzycka, Bettina Papenburg, 2012-12-18 Art today is an increasingly multifaceted phenomenon encompassing transgressive works that intervene in war and ecological disasters in inequalities and revolutionary changes in technology Carnal Aesthetics is a fascinating new examination of this aspect of contemporary visual culture Employing recent theories of transgressive body imagery trauma affect and sensation it provides a fresh look at the meeting point between the politics of representation and the politics of perception through the prismatic lens of feminist theory Acclaimed scholars analyse a wide range of seminal case studies coming from different media digital photography painting video film and multimedia art They explore here a number of transgressive movements that significantly reconfigure the relationship between the body and the image Unlike other books on the complex relationship between politics and aesthetics Carnal Aesthetics seeks to provide a novel approach to art and culture by challenging the primacy of vision and by injecting an intersectional perspective into the fields of visual studies film and media studies as well as trauma studies It is a significant contribution across these dynamic fields of exploration for scholars who deal with the socio political nature of contemporary visual culture in their work

Spatial Literary Studies Robert T. Tally Jr., 2020-10-20 Following the spatial turn in the humanities and social sciences Spatial Literary Studies Interdisciplinary Approaches to Space Geography and the Imagination offers a wide range of essays that reframe or transform contemporary criticism by focusing attention in various ways on the dynamic relations among space place and literature These essays reflect upon the representation of space and place whether in the real world in imaginary universes or in those hybrid zones where fiction meets reality Working within or alongside related approaches such as geocriticism literary geography and the spatial humanities these essays examine the relationship between literary spatiality and different genres or media such as film or television The contributors to Spatial Literary Studies draw upon diverse critical and theoretical traditions in disclosing analyzing and exploring the significance of space place and mapping in literature and in the world thus making new textual geographies and literary cartographies possible
