Wilkerson tells this interwoven story through the lives of three unforgettable protagonists: Ida Mae Gladney, a sharecropper's wife who in 1937 fled Mississippi for Chicago; sharp and quick-tempered George Starling, who in 1945 fled Florida for Harlem; and Robert Foster, a surgeon who left Louisiana in 1953 in hopes of making it in California. Wilkerson brilliantly captures their first treacherous cross-country journeys by car and train and their new lives in colonies in the New World. The Warmth of Other Suns is a bold, remarkable, and riveting work—a superb account of an unrecognized immigration within our own land. Through the breadth of its narrative, the beauty of the writing, the depth of its research, and the fullness of the people and lives portrayed herein, this book is a modern classic.

George B. Ray, 2009 This book presents a review and synthesis of research on communication patterns between blacks and whites in the United States developing the overall theme that race relations remain difficult due to continuing racial discrimination and a lack of extensive interracial contact The election of Barack Obama as president however reveals some important shifts that may be occurring in contemporary society Almost unimaginable only a few years ago the election of an African American to the highest office may signal that communication about race and race related issues is becoming less problematic in current race relations This book concludes that multiculturalism and interracial contact offer the most viable approaches to understanding and improving interracial communication The book is geared toward scholars and students and is relevant for classroom adoption in courses ranging from interracial communication to intercultural communication     A
