Pollard, Dover J. Wilson, 1920 Shakespeare Problems Alfred W Pollard, 2018-09-08 Alfred William Pollard 1859-1944 was a prolific writer who specialized in literary history. He became well known for elevating the study of Shakespeare through encouraging rigorous examination, study, and sourcing of material. As a distinguished bibliographer, Pollard rose to be Keeper of the British Museum. Additionally, he served as a Professor at the University of London, teaching English Bibliography. While he worked with numerous scholars on various problems in literature, Shakespeare was closest to his heart, and he wrote a great deal about him, including Shakespeare Folios and Quartos: A Study in the Bibliography of Shakespeare's Plays (1909), The Foundations of Shakespeare's Text (1923), and A Census of Shakespeare's Plays in Quarto (with Henrietta C. Bartlett, 1939). Shakespeare's Fight with the Pirates and the Problems of the Transmission of His Text - Primary Source Edition Alfred W. 1859-1944 Pollard, 2013-10. We know Shakespeare's writings only from imperfectly made early editions from which editors struggle to remove errors. The New Bibliography of the early twentieth century, refined with technological enhancements in the 1950s and 1960s, taught generations of editors how to make sense of the early editions of Shakespeare and use them to make modern editions. This book is the first complete history of the ideas that gave this movement its intellectual authority and of the challenges to that authority that emerged in the 1980s and 1990s. Working chronologically, Egan traces the struggle to wring from the early editions evidence of precisely what Shakespeare wrote. The story of another struggle between competing interpretations of the evidence from early editions is told in detail, and the consequences for editorial practice are comprehensively surveyed, allowing readers to discover just what is at stake when scholars argue about how to edit Shakespeare.
