Shallow Graves Of Rwanda:

The Shallow Graves of Rwanda Shaharyar M Khan, 2005 The Genocide in Rwanda in Comparative Perspective Klaus Bachmann, 2025-03-31 This book combines social science concepts history and transitional justice studies to examine the social dynamics specific actors and ideologies involved in the genocide in Rwanda and examines what makes this genocide a unique case of mass violence and political transition compared with other cases of mass violence It analyzes the conditions necessary for people to engage in intimate violence against their neighbors and family members asking what inclines ordinary men and women to join gangs of killers and what role policies authorities ideologies emotions negotiations and material incentives play in the mobilization for mass atrocities Comparing genocidal events elsewhere in time and location the book provides an up to date overview of the 1994 events in Rwanda and offers new and surprising insights from previously inaccessible archival records explaining how to facilitate foreign intervention in the future This book is of key interest to scholars and students of African politics genocide studies and more broadly to security studies conflicts and conflict resolution studies decolonization studies and contemporary and comparative history A History of Rwanda Klaus Bachmann, 2023-06-20 A History of Rwanda From the Monarchy to Post genocidal Justice provides a complete history of Rwanda from the precolonial abanyiginya kingdom through the German and Belgian colonial periods and subsequent independence and then the devastating 1994 genocide and reconstruction right up to the modern day Based on extensive archival research this book provides new insights and corrects many popular stereotypes about Rwanda aiming to go beyond the polarized and heated debates focused on the genocide and the events that followed Readers will get a clear and broad picture of Rwanda's history and the social and political contexts that have defined the county from the pre colonial period onwards Embedding Rwanda's history in the regional context this book avoids simple moral judgements and instead shows where and when Rwanda differed from its neighbours and how the country's history fits into larger debates about colonialism genocide ethnicity race and development Offering a full and balanced exploration of Rwanda's rich and paradoxical history this book will be an important read for researchers and students of African history genocide studies transitional justice colonialism and political and social anthropology The Routledge Handbook of the Bioarchaeology of Human Conflict Christopher Knüsel, Martin Smith, 2013-12-17 If human burials were our only window onto the past what story would they tell Skeletal injuries constitute the most direct and unambiguous evidence for violence in the past Whereas weapons or defenses may simply be statements of prestige or status and written sources are characteristically biased and incomplete human remains offer clear and unequivocal evidence of physical aggression reaching as far back as we have burials to examine Warfare is often described as senseless and as having no place in society Consequently its place in social relations and societal change remains obscure The studies in The Routledge Handbook of the Bioarchaeology of Human Conflict present an overview of the nature and development of human conflict from prehistory to recent times as evidenced by the remains of past people themselves in order to explore the social contexts in which such injuries were inflicted A broadly chronological approach is taken from prehistory through to recent conflicts however this book is not simply a catalogue of injuries illustrating weapon development or a narrative detailing progress in warfare but rather provides a framework in which to explore both continuity and change based on a range of important themes which hold continuing relevance throughout A Thousand Hills Stephen Kinzer, 2009-05-04 A Thousand Hills Rwanda's Rebirth and the Man Who Dreamed It is the story of Paul Kagame a refugee who after a generation of exile found his way home Learn about President Kagame who strives to make Rwanda the first middle income country in Africa in a single generation In this adventurous tale learn about Kagame's early fascination with Che Guevara and James Bond his years as an intelligence agent his training in Cuba and the United States the way he built his secret rebel army his bloody rebellion and his outsized ambitions for Rwanda A People Betrayed Linda Melvern, 2019-03-15 Events in Rwanda in 1994 mark a landmark in the history of modern genocide Up to one million people were killed in a planned public and political campaign In the face of indisputable evidence the UN Security Council failed miserably in its response In this classic of investigative journalism Linda Melvern tells the compelling story of what really happened revealing both the scale speed and intensity of the unfolding genocide as well as exposing the governments and individuals who could have prevented what was happening if they had chosen to act The book also tells the unrecognised heroism of those who stayed on during the genocide from volunteer peacekeepers to courageous NGO workers Twenty five years on from one of the darkest episodes in modern history A People Betrayed is a shocking indictment of how Rwanda was ignored then and how today it is remembered in the West

Stopping Mass Killings in Africa Douglas Carl Peifer, 2009-05 This is a compendium of case studies that seek to describe the best uses of military power particularly airpower in response to genocide The writers examine recent instances of genocide in Somalia Rwanda and C te d Ivoire to draw out useful generalizations concerning the nature of genocide international reactions to genocide and effective responses to genocide and the possibility of genocide Responses to Terrorism Colin Murray Parkes, 2014-01-10 Why do responses to terrorist attacks often perpetuate cycles of deadly violence Can an understanding of the psychology of these cycles help us to break them Drawing on clinical experience of the care of people and communities affected by violence and disasters and on advances in cognitive and dynamic psychology attachment theory group psychology and thanatology this ground breaking work by a prominent and varied array of contributors casts light on the causes of terrorism the reasons why responses to deadly attacks easily give rise to or maintain cycles of violence and some ways to prevent and interrupt these cycles Using the violence in Northern Ireland and Rwanda as case studies throughout Part 1 The Context of Terrorism looks at the psychological and social influences behind extremism terrorism and conflict Part 2 Reponses to a Terrorist Attack examines the responses that can feed a cycle of violence and assesses a range of approaches for their success in ending violence Part 3 Breaking the Cycle looks in depth at specific environments influences and changes that can affect how violence can be prevented or mitigated including the role of schools and the media and an examination of how peace processes were carried out in Northern Ireland and Rwanda The book works to demonstrate how psychological responses to a terror attack can trigger unstable emotional responses and override judgement and to identify the five key points in a cycle of violence where change for better or for worse is possible Ideal for psychiatrists thanatologists palliative care and bereavement staff politicians and journalists as well as anyone with an interest in terrorism and its causes this is a thought provoking and accessible work on a highly topical subject Comrades go to War Philip Roessler, Harry Verhoeven, 2017-08-01 In October 1996 a motley crew of ageing Marxists and unemployed youth coalesced to revolt against Mobutu Seso Seko president of Zaire Congo since 1965 The rebels of the AFDL marched over 1500km in seven months to crush the dictatorship heralding liberation as a second independence for Central Africa as a whole US President Bill Clinton toasted AFDL leader Laurent D sir Kabila and his regional allies having developed a unique camaraderie and personal trust on the region s battlefronts as a new generation of African leaders ushering in an African Renaissance Within months however the Pan Africanist alliance fell apart The AFDL s collapse triggered a cataclysmic fratricide between the heroes of liberation that became the deadliest conflict since the Second World War drawing in eight African countries This book draws on hundreds of interviews with protagonists from Africa and the international community to offer a novel theoretical and empirical account of Africa's Great War Bridging the gap between comparative politics and international relations it argues that the renewed outbreak of calamitous violence in August 1998 was a function of the kind of regime the AFDL was and how its leaders saw Congo the region and themselves As a Pan Africanist liberation movement the collapse of the AFDL government internally and the unravelling of regional order externally were inextricably linked Managing World Order Richard Algag, 2009-02-28 Since the end of the Cold War United Nations peace operations have become an established and prominent feature of world politics From Liberia to East Timor the UN now carries out extensive governance related functions and is a significant political force in Southern states and societies Here Richard Al Qaq leads us to a radical new understanding of the UN and its role in international politics He uncovers the political and socio economic import of such peace activities for subject societies and raises important questions about the functioning and dynamics of the global political order A critical view of the internal process of programmatic reform within the UN is elaborated by detailed studies of the politics of UN peace operations in three seminal cases of the 1990s in Somalia Rwanda and Angola This book is essential for understanding the new role of the UN especially in Africa and the politics of so called humanitarian intervention and peace building Africa's World War Gerard Prunier, 2008-12-31 The Rwandan genocide sparked a horrific bloodbath that swept across sub Saharan Africa ultimately leading to the deaths of some four million people In this extraordinary history of the recent wars in Central Africa Gerard Prunier offers a gripping account of how one grisly episode laid the groundwork for a sweeping and disastrous upheaval Prunier vividly describes the grisly aftermath of the Rwandan genocide when some two million refugees a third of Rwanda's population fled to exile in Zaire in 1996 The new Rwandan regime then crossed into Zaire and attacked the refugees slaughtering upwards of 400 000 people The Rwandan forces then turned on Zaire's despotic President Mobutu and with the help of a number of allied African countries overthrew him But as Prunier shows the collapse of the Mobutu regime and the ascension of the corrupt and erratic Laurent D sir Kabila created a power vacuum that drew Rwanda Uganda Angola Zimbabwe Sudan and other African nations into an extended and chaotic war The heart of the book documents how the whole core of the African continent became engulfed in an intractible and bloody conflict after 1998 a devastating war that only wound down following the assassination of Kabila in 2001 Prunier not only captures all this in his riveting narrative but he also indicts the international community for its utter lack of interest in what was then the largest conflict in the world Praise for the hardcover The most ambitious of several remarkable new books that reexamine the extraordinary tragedy of Congo and Central Africa since the Rwandan genocide of 1994 New York Review of Books One of the first books to lay bare the complex dynamic between Rwanda and Congo that has been driving this disaster Jeffrey Gettleman New York Times Book Review Lucid meticulously researched and incisive Prunier's will likely become the standard account of this under reported tragedy Publishers Weekly
