Reworlding Emmanuel S. Nelson, 1992-05-30 Adopting the concept of diaspora literally dispersal or the scattering of a people to the historical and contemporary presence of people of Indian subcontinental origin in other areas of the world Emmanuel Nelson uses this paradigm to analyze Indian expatriate writing In Reworlding Nelson has commissioned fourteen critical essays by as many scholars to examine major areas of the diaspora among them

Britain the United States Canada Trinidad Fiji Singapore East and South Africa and prominent literary figures including Salman Rushdie V S Naipaul Kamala Markandaya Bharati Mukherjee and Raja Rao Collectively the essays demonstrate that the various literary traditions within the Indian diaspora share certain common resonances engendered by historical connections spiritual affinities and racial memories Individually they provide challenging insights into the particular experiences and writers At the core of the diasporic writing is the haunting presence of India and the shared anguish of personal loss that generate the aesthetics of reworlding underlying and unifying this body of literature This collection will be of value to scholars and students of Indian writing in English postcolonial writing in general and the literature of exile and immigration

Out of My Mind WJ de Kock, 2014-03-25 We need a whole new mind to thrive in the twenty first century says Daniel Pink As theologians we cannot escape the transition from the information age to the conceptual age of the twenty first century In the information age the theologian could give answers based on the best information but in the twenty first century information is on hand Empathy and understanding however are in scant supply today In the information age there was no room for doubt certainty was the hallmark of a successful information worker But today uncertainty is a certainty thanks to globalization the information revolution and even quantum mechanics Uncertainty has been grafted into our collective consciousness It therefore cannot be theological business as usual It cannot be about giving answers it is more about finding the best questions to be answered It cannot be about winning theological arguments it is more about living in God's regenerative story while we find ourselves in the liminal space of uncertainty It cannot be about holding strong opinions it is more about creating space for life to allow God's generosity to flow through us Out of My Mind tells the story of such a transition

transnationalism in which national belonging and national identity are permanently in transition Gregory Castle author of The Literary Theory Handbook Shows how three important Irish writers crafted forms of cosmopolitan thinking that spring from and illuminate the painful realities of colonialism and anti colonial struggle Marjorie Howes author of Colonial Crossings Figures in Irish Literary History Asserting the simultaneity of national and global frames of reference this illuminating book is a fascinating and timely contribution to Irish Modernist Studies Geraldine Higgins author of Heroic Revivals from Carlyle to Yeats Looking at the writing of three significant Irish expatriates Nels Pearson challenges conventional critical trends that view their work as either affirming Irish anti colonial sentiment or embracing international identity In reality he argues these writers constantly work back and forth between a sense of national belonging that remains incomplete and ideas of human universality tied to their new global environments For these and many other Irish writers national and international concerns do not conflict but overlap and the interplay between them motivates Irish modernism According to Pearson Joyce s Ulysses strives to articulate the interdependence of an Irish identity and a universal perspective Bowen s exiled unrooted characters are never firmly rooted in the first place and in Beckett the unsettled origin is felt most keenly when it is abandoned for exile These writers demonstrate the displacement felt by many Irish citizens in an ever changing homeland unsteadied by long and turbulent decolonization Searching for a sense of place between national and global abstractions their work displays a twofold struggle to pinpoint national identity while adapting to a fluid cosmopolitan world

Fables in Verse Elizabeth Catherine Ford,Jeremiah Denis Matthias Ford,1918      21st Century Perspectives on Indian Writing in English Debasish Lahiri,Pradipta Mukherjee,2022-12-05 The essays gathered here alternately adjust the focal length of the critical lens brought to bear upon texts and contexts in the area of Indian writing in English They bring into view both intense engagements with major voices in this literary scene and the wider socio historical perspectives in which they have thrived Three clearly defined sections on the genres of poetry prose and drama are augmented by three incisive interviews with the diasporic Indian English poet Bashabi Fraser the renowned Indian English fiction writer Kunal Basu and the premier Indian English playwright Mahesh Dattani The volume will appeal to students and teachers of postcolonial and comparative literatures It raises crucial and timely questions about the state of culture in India and the world the crisis of intolerance and the loss of memory and diversity It hones a post millennial perspective on literature written in the late 20th and early 21st centuries      Tournaments of Power Tor Aase,2017-05-15 Thirty years ago modernization theory contended that notions of honor would become obsolete in modern democracies Being an archaic remnant of our pre modern past honor would be substituted by dignity under modern conditions When honor does emerge as a valid social theme in modern society as it sometimes does during court hearings in gang fights and in violent reactions to insult it is often ascribed to immigration from pre modern cultures where honor still matters in social life Thus honor becomes part of the cultural baggage that is transferred to the host country through migration However the fact that highly modern social formations like MC gangs are also obsessed with honor seriously questions the validity of classical modernization theories It seems that honor is not just a pre modern weed in a modern garden of dignity but an integral part of modernity Since honor emerges under pre modern as well as under modern conditions it is relevant to ask under which circumstances it becomes a theme in interaction Blurring the distinction between the modern and the pre modern in this manner allows us to ask what honor is really all about Containing a wealth of international contributions from Scandinavia USA Mexico Kurdistan Indonesia Pakistan Sri Lanka and Japan Tournaments of Power provides first hand ethnographic accounts and important answers to these vital questions
