Constructing Modern Asian Citizenship Edward Vickers,Krishna Kumar,2014-12-05 In many non Western contexts modernization has tended to be equated with Westernization and hence with an abandonment of authentic indigenous identities and values This is evident in the recent history of many Asian societies where efforts to modernize spurred on by the spectre of foreign domination have often been accompanied by determined attempts to stamp national variants of modernity with the brand of local authenticity Asian values Chinese characteristics a Japanese cultural essence and so forth Highlighting or exaggerating associations between the more unsettling consequences of modernization and alien influence has thus formed part of a strategy whereby elites in many Asian societies have sought to construct new forms of legitimacy for old patterns of dominance over the masses The apparatus of modern systems of mass education often inherited from colonial rulers has been just one instrument in such campaigns of state legitimation This book presents analyses of a range of contemporary projects of citizenship formation across Asia in order to identify those issues and concerns most central to Asian debates over the construction of modern identities Its main focus is on schooling but also examines other vehicles for citizenship formation such as museums and the internet the role of religion in particular Islam in debates over citizenship and identity in certain Asian societies and the relationship between state centred identity discourses and the experience of increasingly globalized elites With chapters from an international team of contributors this interdisciplinary volume will appeal to students and scholars of Asian culture and society Asian education comparative education and citizenship The Chinese Recorder and Missionary Journal ,1874 Fleet Review ,1910 Survey Practices and Landscape Photography Across the Globe Sophie Junge,Erin Hyde Nolan,2022-12-05 This edited volume considers the many ways in which landscape seen and unseen is fundamental to placemaking colonial settlement and identity formation Collectively the book s authors map a constellation of interlocking photographic histories and survey practices decentering Europe as the origin of camera based surveillance The volume charts a conversation across continents connecting Europe Africa the Arab World Asia and the Americas It does not segregate places histories and traditions but rather puts them in dialogue with one another establishing solidarity across ever shifting national linguistic racial religious and ethnic Refusing the neat organization of survey photographs into national or imperial narratives these essays celebrate the messy cross cultural reverberations of landscape over the past 170 years Considering the visual social and historical networks in which these images circulate this anthology connects the many entangled and political histories of photography in order to reframe survey practices and the multidimensionality of landscape as an international phenomenon This book will be of interest to scholars in art history history of photography and landscape history Travel Magazine ,1915 Pamphlets on Foreign Missions ,1856
