Andreas fault known as Silicon Valley An earthquake in Caracas in 1812 triggered the creation of new nations in the liberation of South America from Spanish rule Another in Tangshan in 1976 catalysed the transformation of China into the world's second largest economy. The growth of the scientific study of earthquakes is woven into this far reaching history. It began with a series of earthquakes in England in 1750 Today seismologists can monitor the vibration of the planet second by second and the movement of tectonic plates millimeter by millimeter. Yet even in the 21st century great earthquakes are still essentially acts of God striking with much less warning than volcanoes floods hurricanes and even tornadoes and tsunamis on social problems are often subject to a theoretical barrage of eclectic perspectives Just as the first social problems textbooks did almost a century ago textbooks continue to present a series of unrelated chapters each devoted to a particular social problem Social Problems is an effort at systematic analysis rather than random thought on the subject Social Problems presents detailed case studies demonstrating how constructionist perspectives can actually be applied to understand particular social problems While these articles can be read alone the editors have organized these selections to correspond with the chapter topics in the second edition of Donileen Loseke's Thinking about Social Problems an accessible introduction to constructionist approaches At the same time some instructors who use this edited collection might wish to provide th

Promoting Risk Robert A. Stallings,1995-01-01 According to Stallings the earthquake threat has failed to achieve the status of a fully constructed social problem owing to the nature of the resources available to risk promoters and the strategy and tactics they have used to promote the risk of earthquakes The results of his examination of a partially constructed social problem will prove useful not only to those exploring the dynamics of the social problems process but also to those who study risk public policy making and environmental issues where risk is involved The Earthquakes at Yakutat Bay, Alaska, in September, 1899 Ralph Stockman Tarr,Lawrence Martin,1912 The Air Reservist,1959
