Singing Stone A Natural History Of The Escalante Canyons:

Singing Stone Thomas Lowe Fleischner,1999-01-01 Integrating personal narrative and natural history Singing Stone is ideal for curious visitors to the Grand Staircase Escalante National Monument as well as students of environmental studies

The Books of the Grand Canyon, the Colorado River, the Green River & the Colorado Plateau Mike S. Ford,2003 A Bibliography covering one half century of Southwest literature a sequel to Farquhar s The Books of the Colorado River the Grand Canyon

The Way of Natural History Thomas Lowe Fleischner,2011-05-01 In this eclectic anthology more than 20 scientists nature writers poets and Zen practitioners attest to how paying attention to nature can be a healing antidote to the hectic and harrying pace of our lives Throughout this provocative and uplifting book writers describe their various experiences in nature and portray how careful and mindful attention to the larger world around us brings rewarding and surprising discoveries They give us the literary personal and spiritual stories that point a way toward calm and quiet for which many people today hunger Contributors to The Way of Natural History highlight their individual ways of paying attention to nature and discuss how their experiences have enlivened and enhanced their worlds The anthology is a rich array of writings that provide models for interacting with the natural world and together create a call for the importance of natural history as a discipline

The Cincinnati Arch John Tallmadge,2004 What wilderness lover asks John Tallmadge would ever dream of settling deep in the Rust Belt astride polluted rivers The Cincinnati Arch holds the provocative answer to Tallmadge s question which was prompted by his unplanned relocation from rural Minnesota to urban Ohio Tallmadge tells of dismaying early encounters with the city s seeming bareness his growing awareness of its vitality and abundance and finally his new vision of all nature from the vacant lots of his neighborhood to our great New England forests and Western deserts New to the city Tallmadge saw only its concrete glass smog and debris Soon his interest stirred by the wonder of his children at their surroundings focused Tallmadge to the buzzing flapping scurrying chewing photosynthesizing life forms around him More deeply Tallmadge began to learn from and not just about the city Nature s persistence within him and wherever he looked wore away at old notions of wilderness that made no allowances for human culture The arch of the book s title is richly resonant as the name of a geologic formation molding the urban landscape Tallmadge comes to love as an archetypal building form and in its parabolic shape as a metaphor for life s journey Filled with luminous lessons of mindfulness attentiveness and other spiritual practices this is a hopeful guide to finding nature and balance in unlikely places

The ^AGreat Conversation Belden C. Lane, 2019-05-01 In the face of climate change species loss and vast environmental destruction Belden C Lane's spiritually centered environmentalism suggests that we must look to teachers in nature to understand how to save ourselves Pairing anecdotes of personal encounters with nature with the teachings of spiritual leaders from a range of religious traditions this book invites us to participate once more in the great conversation among all creatures and the earth itself

Forest Under Story Nathaniel Brodie, Charles Goodrich, Frederick J. Swanson, 2016-03-01 Two kinds of long term research are taking place at the H J Andrews Experimental Forest a renowned research facility in the temperate rain forest of the Oregon Cascades Here scientists investigate the ecosystem's trees wildlife water and nutrients with an eye toward understanding change over varying timescales up to two hundred years or more And writers from both literary and scientific backgrounds spend time in the forest investigating the ecological and human complexities of this remarkable and deeply studied place This anthology which includes work by some of the nation's most accomplished writers including Sandra Alcosser Alison Hawthorne Deming Jane Hirshfield Linda Hogan Freeman House Robin Wall Kimmerer Kathleen Dean Moore Robert Michael Pyle Pattiann Rogers and Scott Russell Sanders grows out of the work of the Long Term Ecological Reflections program and showcases the insights of the program's thoughtful and important encounters among writers scientists and place. These vivid essays poems and field notes convey a landscape of moss draped trees patchwork clear cuts stream swept gravel bars and hillsides scoured by fire and also bring forward the ambiguities and paradoxes of conflicting human values and their implications for the ecosystem. Forest Under Story offers an illuminating and multifaceted way of understanding the ecology and significance of old growth forests and points the way toward a new kind of collaboration between the sciences and the humanities to better know and learn from special places.

Reading The Trail Corey Lee Lewis, 2005-02-15 A provocative new way to read and interpret the classic works of John Muir Mary Austin and Gary Snyder and to bring their ideas into the discussion of ecological values and the current environmental crisis. Lewis combines a perceptive discussion of their work and ideas with an engaging account of his own trail experiences as hiker backpacker and volunteer trail builder proposing that such a field based interdisciplinary approach to literary study and outdoors experience can enrich our appreciation for the work of nature writers.

Desert Wetlands Lucian Niemeyer, Thomas Lowe Fleischner, 2005 Over 150 color photos and accompanying text document wetland sites in the American Southwest and Mexico.

The Heart of the Wild Ben A. Minteer, Jonathan B. Losos Losos, 2024-08-13 Timely and provocative reflections on the future of the wild in an increasingly human world. The Heart of the Wild brings together some of today's leading scientists humanists and nature writers to offer a thought provoking meditation on the urgency of learning about and experiencing our wild places in an age of rapidly expanding human impacts. These engaging essays present nuanced and often surprising perspectives on the meaning and value of wildness amid the realities of the Anthropocene. They consider the trends and forces from the cultural and conceptual to the ecological and technological that are transforming our relationship with the natural world and sometimes seem only to be pulling us farther away from wild places and species with each passing day. The contributors make impassioned defenses of naturalism natural history and nature education in helping us to rediscover a love for the wild at a time when our connections with it have frayed or been lost altogether. Charting a new path forward in an era of ecological uncertainty The Heart of the Wild reframes our understanding of nature and our responsibility to learn from and sustain it as the human footprint sinks ever deeper into the landscapes around us. With contributions by Bill Adams Joel Berger Susan Clayton Eileen Crist Martha L. Crump Thomas Lowe Fleischner Harry W. Greene Hal Herzog Jonathan B. Losos Emma Marris Ben A. Minteer Kathleen Dean Moore Gary Paul Nabhan Peter H. Raven Christopher J. Schell Richard Shine and Kyle Whyte.
